

The image shows a close-up of a weathered, reddish-brown stone architectural model. The model has a large, flat, rectangular top surface and a lower section with a recessed area. In this recessed area, there are several small, carved figures of people. One figure is on the left, looking towards the center. In the center, there are two figures sitting or kneeling together. On the right, there is another figure, possibly a child or a smaller person. The stone is pitted and shows signs of age. The background is dark.
