Global Perspectives on Reforming the Criminal Justice System Pittaro, Michael, 2021-06-25 The often tenuous relationship between law enforcement and communities of color namely African Americans has grown increasingly strained and the call for justice has once again ignited the demand for criminal justice reform Rebuilding the trust between the police and the citizens that they have sworn to protect and serve requires that criminal justice practitioners and educators collaborate with elected officials and commit to an open ongoing dialogue on the most challenging issues that remain unresolved but demand collective attention and support Reform measures are not limited to policing policies and practices but rather extend throughout the criminal justice system There is no denying that the criminal justice system as we know it is flawed but not beyond repair Global Perspectives on Reforming the Criminal Justice System provides in depth and current research about the criminal justice system around the world its many inadequacies and why it urgently needs reformation Offering a fully fleshed outline of the current system this book details the newest research and is incredibly important to fully understand the flaws of the criminal justice system across the globe

The goals of this book are to improve and advance the criminal justice system by addressing the glaring weaknesses within the system and discuss potential reforms including decreasing the prison population decarceration and improving police community relations Highlighting topics that include accountability community oriented policing ethics and mass incarceration this book is ideal for law enforcement officers trainers educators government officials policymakers correctional officers court officials professionals researchers academicians and students in the fields of criminal justice criminology sociology psychology addictions mental health social work public policy and public administration Machine Ethics and Robot Ethics Wendell Wallach, Peter Asaro, 2020-09-10 Once the stuff of science fiction recent progress in artificial intelligence robotics and machine learning means that these rapidly advancing technologies are finally coming into widespread use within everyday life Such rapid development in these areas also brings with it a host of social political and legal issues as well as a rise in public concern and academic interest in the ethical challenges these new technologies pose This volume is a collection of scholarly work from leading figures in the development of both robot ethics and machine ethics it includes essays of historical significance which have become foundational for research in these two new areas of study as well as important recent articles The research articles selected focus on the control and governance of computational systems the exploration of ethical and moral theories using software and robots as laboratories or simulations inquiry into the necessary requirements for moral agency and the basis and boundaries of rights and questions of how best to design systems that are both useful and morally sound Collectively the articles ask what the practical ethical and legal issues arising from the development of robots will be over the next twenty years and how best to address these future considerations

Handbook of Research on Family Literacy Practices and Home-School Connections Fox, Kathy R., Szech, Laura E., 2022-06-24 Research has shown that families and schools that partner together improve literacy outcomes for their students Family literacy includes homework and shared book reading but goes beyond these school to home activities to encompass family generated practices These literacies include family connections around activities such as cooking play religion social and community groups Further study on the importance of the partnership between the home and school is required to implement best practices and provide students with the best possible education The Handbook of Research on Family Literacy Practices and Home School Connections seeks to understand the connections made and new information learned during the COVID 19 pandemic surrounding family literacy and shares updated practices and new perspectives on what it means to partner with families and embrace diverse family literacies in this new world The book also provides teachers perspectives on how future relationships between the school and home can be shaped through both narrative and research based chapters Covering key topics such as parenting homework and social distancing this major reference work is ideal for administrators school faculty academicians scholars practitioners instructors and students
