Ondernemend waarden: waarderend ondernemen Jan Vis, 2010 Dutch Enterprise in the 20th Century Keetie E. Sluyterman, 2013-07-04 This is the first book to summarise the twentieth century economic history of the Netherlands from a business history perspective It has a broad historical coverage of Dutch business development including in particular the major multinationals such as Philips Shell and Unilever Although focused on Dutch business it has a strong international flavour

Two Centuries of Solidarity Karel-Peter Comanje, Karel Veraghtert, Brigitte Widdershoven, 2009 Health insurance is a key component of the current social security system in European Union countries In most countries modern health insurance funds and health care insurers are an essential role in implementing the public health insurance system Many of these modern health insurance funds have a fascinating and long ancestry clear traces of which can be seen today in the organisation of national health insurance as well as the structure of health insurance funds and insurers In their study Two Centuries of Solidarity the authors compare health insurance health insurance funds and health care insurers in Germany Belgium and the Netherlands Given the similar political economic and social development that these countries have undergone in the past 60 years and the qualitatively high level of health care they provide one might expect a degree of likeness in these countries health care insurance systems The dissimilarities are surprising however In fact differences are becoming ever more apparent between the different national systems in general and between the structure and operation of the health insurance funds and health care insurers in particular Differences include the compulsory nature of insurance the extent of cover premiums health insurance business mutual competition and the degree of private insurance Many of these national singularities can be understood and explained only by considering the historical background of the current national health insurance systems the insurers and their evolution over the past centuries This study adopts an institutional and political perspective towards further understanding of the development of health insurance and of how this ultimately determined the specific nature of the health care insurers and funds and how they currently operate in the three countries studied

Two Centuries of Solidarity K.P. Comanje, R.H.M. Hendriks, K.F.E. Veraghtert, B.E.M. Widdershoven, 2025-10-01 Today health insurance is a key component in the system of social security in most European Union countries In many of these countries modern health insurance funds and healthcare insurers play an essential role in implementing the public health insurance system. Many of these health insurance funds have a long and fascinating history of which clear traces can be seen today in the organisation and structure of health insurance as well as health insurance funds and insurers. In Two centuries of solidarity the authors compare the systems of health insurance health insurance funds and healthcare insurers in Germany Belgium and the Netherlands. Given the similar political economic and social development that these countries have undergone in the past 60 years and the availability of a qualitatively high level of health care one might expect a high degree of similarity between these countries healthcare insurance systems. However the dissimilarities are surprising. In fact these differences are currently becoming ever more apparent between systems in general and the structure and operation of the health insurance funds and health care insurers in particular. The differences include the compulsory nature of insurance the extent of coverage premiums entrepreneurship competition and the degree of private insurance. Many of these national singularities can be understood and explained only by considering the historical background of the health insurance systems the insurers and their evolution over the past two centuries. This study adopts an institutional and political perspective towards a further understanding of the development of health insurance and of how this ultimately determined the specific nature of the healthcare insurers and funds and the way they currently operate in Germany Belgium and the Netherlands.

Handbook of International Insurance J. David Cummins, Bertrand Venard, 2007-12-23 Insurance and financial markets have been radically and deeply changed in the last 20 years. Deregulation internationalization of insurance and financial institutions increasing competition electronic commerce bancassurance and the emergence of new risks are among the challenges faced by insurers and other financial firms. These developing trends pose both global and local challenges for financial firms participating in insurance markets. The Handbook of International Insurance Between Global Dynamics and Local Contingencies increases understanding of insurance markets by adopting an international comparative approach. Leading scholars and practitioners worldwide provide detailed information on market trends regulation taxation and economic developments for thirteen specific countries in Europe the Americas and Asia. Each country chapter covers key aspects of insurance life insurance non life insurance and public and private social insurance programs. The book also includes comprehensive chapters on reinsurance Lloyd's of London alternative risk transfer South and East Asian insurance markets and European insurance markets. Setting the stage is an overview chapter by the editors focusing on overall conclusions on globalization. A unique source of information on the evolution of insurance markets worldwide this book provides valuable perspectives for scholars practitioners and policy makers.
