Chris Hay, Stephen Carleton

Nick Enright Nick Enright:

Nick Enright, 2008-01-01 Nick Enright 1950 2003 was one of Australia's most significant and successful playwrights. As a writer, director, actor, and teacher, he influenced theatre in Australia for thirty years. Enright wrote more than fifty plays for the stage, film, television, and radio, translated and adapted more, and taught acting to students in varied settings both in Australia and the United States. His writing repertoire included comedy, social realism, farce, fantasy, and the musical. In addition to his prodigious contribution to all of these genres, he was a passionate advocate for the actor and the theatre in contemporary society. In this volume, Anne Pender and Susan Lever present a set of essays and recollections about Nick Enright's work for students, teachers, and scholars. The book offers a comprehensive study of Enright's writing for theatre, film, and television. Scholars, acting teachers, and theatre directors have contributed to this work, each illuminating an aspect of Enright's remarkable career. The discussions cover interpretations of Enright's scripts and productions, detailed analysis of his directing style, substantial background, and analysis of his writing for musicals, as well as accounts of his specific approach to acting and to adaptation across genres. The essays and recollections included in this book will inspire theatre practitioners as well as scholars. Most importantly, this book will inform and enlighten students and teachers both at high school and university about an exceptional career in the theatre.

Nick Enright Nick Enright, The Nick Enright Songbook Peter Wyllie (Ed) Johnston, 2014-08-01 The Nick Enright Songbook brings together fifty of the best songs from ten musicals for which Enright wrote the lyrics and the music of five gifted composers: Terence Clarke, Glenn Henrich, Alan John, David King, and Max Lambert. The book includes songs from The Venetian Twins, Variations, Summer Rain, Buckley's Orlando, Rourke, The Betrothed, Mary Bryant, The Good Fight, Miracle City, and On the Wallaby. Across this work, Enright's characteristic use of Australian imagery and language shines brightly intertwined with the themes of resilience, lost love, and religion that are familiar in his work. Together, the songs display the proficiency and craft brought to the Australian musical theatre.

A Man with Five Children Nick Enright, 2003 Gerry is a documentary filmmaker who one day each year follows five children around with a camera. He shows the results annually on television. Yet for the children who grow up under Gerry's and the nation's watchful eye, the experience creates its own dynamic. Are the participants his subjects, his children, or his creations? What responsibility does a storyteller have to his subjects, his audience, and himself? How much does Gerry take? Does the presence of the camera distort the lives it is supposed to be capturing? Spanning more than twenty years, this play invites you into a world of fractured celebrity and distorted vision. 5 male, 4 female.
