Ritual Participation and Interreligious Dialogue Marianne Moyaert,Joris Geldhof,2015-04-23 Shared ritual practices multi faith celebrations and interreligious prayers are becoming increasingly common in the USA and Europe as more people experience religious diversity first hand While ritual participation can be seen as a powerful expression of interreligious solidarity it also carries with it challenges of a particularly sensitive nature Though celebrating and worshiping together can enhance interreligious relations cross riting may also lead some believers to question whether it is appropriate to engage in the rituals of another faith community Some believers may consider cross ritual participation as inappropriate transgressive behaviour Bringing together leading international contributors and voices from a number of religious traditions Ritual Participation and Interreligious Dialogue delves into the complexities and intricacies of the phenomenon They ask what are the promises and perils of celebrating and praying together What are the limits of ritual participation How can we make sense of feelings of discomfort when entering the sacred space of another faith community The first book to focus on the lived dimensions of interreligious dialogue through ritual participation rather than textual or doctrinal issues this innovative volume opens an entirely new perspective

Connecting Gospels Francis Watson,Sarah Parkhouse,2018-03-09 By the late second century early Christian gospels had been divided into two groups by a canonical boundary that assigned normative status to four of them while consigning their competitors to the margins Connecting Gospels Beyond the Canonical Non canonical Divide finds new ways to reconnect these divided texts Starting from the assumption that in spite of their differences all early gospels express a common belief in the absolute significance of Jesus and his earthly career this authoritative collection makes their interconnectedness fruitful for interpretation The contributors have each selected a theme or topic and trace it across two or more gospels on either side of the canonical boundary and the resulting convergences and divergences shed light not least on the canonical texts themselves as they are read from new and unfamiliar vantage points This volume demonstrates that early gospel literature can be regarded as a single field of study in contrast to the overwhelming predominance of the canonical four characteristic of traditional gospels scholarship

Christians or Jews? Réka Tímea Újlaki-Nagy,2022-09-05 Transylvanian Sabbatarianism emerged from the aspirations of the Reformation without direct contact with the Jews

Although the most frequently asked question about them concerns their identity were they Christians or Jews the answers of the literature are superficial biased and take only an external point of view The aim of this book therefore is to move closer to the 16 17th century Sabbatarian manuscripts and to examine how much they were still connected to Christianity in their biblical interpretations doctrines and religious practices how they adapted to Judaism and how they saw themselves in relation to the two world religions The analysis of R ka T mea jlaki Nagy shows that although they still held some Christian beliefs these were considered to be incidental and unnecessary to salvation Sabbatarians followed the ideal of an age preceding Christ consequently the Reformation effort to reconstitute apostolic Christianity disappeared from their religious thought

Common Priesthood Stella Adamma Nneji, 2018-06-15 One of the significant points of the Second Vatican Council is its emphasis on the status of the lay faithful in the church which includes active participation in the life of faith. The council spoke of the active participation of all the faithful in liturgical celebrations on the basis of the common priesthood of the faithful which is conferred during baptism and through which every believer shares in the priestly, kingly and prophetic offices of Christ. In this book Stella Nneji develops an ecclesiological critical reflection on the teaching of the Second Vatican Council with regard to active participation. Focusing especially on the church as people of God, Nneji shows how the idea of participation is not merely a passive action but an active one. Based on the ecclesiological reflection on the church as people of God and its relevance for active participation, she maintains that Vatican II's vision on active participation is relevant to the upbuilding of the body of Christ, the church. This vision integrates a critical thinking especially regarding those places where the implementation of Vatican II's teachings seems difficult.

When Religion Meets New Media Heidi Campbell, 2010-04-05 This lively book focuses on how different Jewish, Muslim and Christian communities engage with new media. Rather than simply reject or accept new media, religious communities negotiate complex relationships with these technologies in light of their history and beliefs. Heidi Campbell suggests a method for studying these processes she calls the religious social shaping of technology and students are asked to consider four key areas: religious tradition and history, contemporary community values and priorities, negotiation and innovating technology in light of the community, communal discourses applied to justify use. A wealth of examples such as the Christian e-vangelism movement, Modern Islamic discourses about computers and the rise of the Jewish kosher cell phone demonstrate the dominant strategies which emerge for religious media users as well as the unique motivations that guide specific groups.
