Nigerian Newspapers Online Read:

Historical Dictionary of Nigeria Toyin Falola, Ann Genova, Matthew M. Heaton, 2018-06-21 The Historical Dictionary of Nigeria Second Edition introduces Nigeria's rich and complex history. Readers will find a wealth of information on pre-20th century history, Nigeria under British colonial rule, and important post-independence issues while providing greater attention to Nigeria's role in international relations, diaspora, and contributions to arts, film, and culture in particular. This revised edition covers major developments since the last edition, such as the rise of the terrorist group Boko Haram and the election of Muhammadu Buhari to the presidency in 2015, among others. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Nigeria Second Edition contains a chronology, an introduction, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 1,000 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Nigeria.

Islamophobia in Non-Western Online Newspapers Isyaku Hassan, Mohd Nazri Latiff Azmi, 2021-03-03 The media attention towards Islam has increased recently, but meeting the quality standards in reporting the religion is often of great concern in this regard. This issue has been debated since the aftermath of violent incidents such as the 9/11 attacks in 2001, the Afghanistan War in 2002, the Iraq War in 2003, the Danish cartoon row in 2005, the London bombings in 2005, the Paris attacks in 2015, and the New Zealand shootings in 2017. In reporting violence, the media tend to construct a negative image of Islam, which is likely to reproduce unfounded hostility toward Islam and Muslims, known as Islamophobia. This book provides a systematic analysis of how non-western online newspapers reproduce Islamophobia in news reporting.

Understanding the Newspaper Business in Nigeria Godfrey Naanlang Danaan, David Jowitt, Taye C. Obateru, 2016-09-23 This book brings together a selection of articles on newspaper writing and reporting. It represents a resource book intended to sensitize would-be journalists to the arts of reporting and writing and to the ways in which newspaper readership can be sustained in the age of online messaging. It will provide students of journalism and media studies, particularly in Nigeria, with the skills required by newspaper journalism and is a response to the poverty of literature on newspaper journalism in Nigerian universities and colleges.

Nigeria's Digital Diaspora Farooq A. Kperogi, 2020 Over a decade ago, when Nigeria's migratory digital elite in the United States pioneered a newfangled form of citizen online journalism that disrupted the professional certainties of domestic legacy journalism, the country's professional journalists held out hope that the disruptive effect of this insurgent, non-professionalized, non-routinized but nonetheless transformative form of journalism would be transitory. But diasporic citizen online journalism is not only now an integral part of Nigeria's media ecosystem; it has also inspired successful homeland digital native emulators and is challenging even supplanting, in some cases, traditional domestic media formations as sites of consequential democratic discourse. With Nigeria's frenetic and deeply engaged social media scene, diasporan citizen journalism, homeland news, and social media activism are merging to create the most energetic moment in Nigeria's media history. This book chronicles the emergence and transformation of Nigeria's diasporic citizen journalism from the margins to the mainstream of the country's journalistic landscape and draws parallels with the mainstreaming of alternative media formations in other parts of the world Farooq A Kperogi is Associate Professor of Journalism and Emerging Media at Kennesaw State University Georgia USA He is a columnist for the Nigerian Tribune and blogs at <https://www.farooqkperogi.com> Nigerian News Coverage of Intimate Partner Violence, 2011-2022 Aje-Ori Agbese, 2023-11-02 Intimate partner violence is a prevalent problem that affects both men and women not only in Nigeria but around the world According to the ManKind Initiative one in three women and one in six to seven men have fallen victim to domestic violence Due to these large numbers there has been an increase in news coverage which has had both positive and negative impacts on how intimate partner violence has been defined expressed and handled Aje Ori Agbese's book sheds light on the news coverage of intimate partner violence in Nigeria including the hidden menace of female perpetrated violence against men through an analysis of three national newspapers and two news blogs from 2011 to 2022 The analysis determined that women are the prominent victims and face of intimate partner violence in Nigeria excluding many male victims In fact if the victim either male or female was not killed or did not die due to a violent attack it was very unlikely for the mass media to cover it Agbese explores why this is happening and provides information on how journalists and bloggers can become more inclusive in order to redefine the narrative and help manage intimate partner violence Interactivity and the Online Media Sphere in Nigeria Joseph Wilson, 2019-01-15 In today's age of extraordinary technological development the mass media industry must constantly innovate and adopt emerging concepts to keep up with the demand of online visibility and prominence Interactivity is a distinguishing feature of the current online environment and is a necessity in maintaining relevance in digital media sphere The growing impact of new media technologies and the resulting pressure on mass media organizations to incorporate more audience involvement have made interactivity a particularly sought after phenomenon throughout the industry The prominence of online interactivity has resulted in anxiety throughout the mass media industry regarding the ways in which media organisations can engage with their audience and maintain a high level of traffic on their websites Attaining these heights largely depends on the quality and nature of interactivity on a given site This book provides insights into the interactivity basics of an ideal media website and highlights the nature of interactivity in the Nigerian online media sphere vis a vis the basics of interactivity African Language Media Abiodun Salawu, 2020-11-16 This edited volume considers why the African language press is unstable and what can be done to develop quality African language journalism into a sustainable business Providing an overview of the African language journalism landscape this book examines the challenges of operating sustainable African language media businesses The chapters explore the political economy and management of African language media and consider case studies of the successes and failures of African language newspapers as well as the challenges of developing quality journalism Covering print and digital newspapers and broadcast journalism this book will be of interest to scholars of media and journalism in Africa

The Victory of Muhammadu Buhari and the Nigerian Dream Michael Chima Ekenyerengozi, 2015-06-10 The Victory of Muhammadu Buhari and the Nigerian Dream My Testimony on the 2015 Presidential Election is an important chronicle of the 2015 presidential election in Nigeria and the principal actors in the emergence of the first Nigerian presidential candidate to defeat an incumbent President in the political history of Nigeria

Political Economy of Contemporary African Popular Culture Kealeboga Aiseng, Israel A. Fadipe, Phillip Mpofu, 2024-04-01 Drawing on examples from across the continent this volume examines socially significant aspects of contemporary African popular culture including music cultures fandoms and community mass and digital media to demonstrate how neoliberal politics and market forces shape the cultural landscape and vice versa Contributors investigate the role that the media politicians and corporate interests play in shaping that landscape highlight the crucial role of the African people in the production and circulation of popular culture more broadly and furthermore demonstrate how popular culture can be used as a tool to resist oppressive regimes and challenge power structures in the African context Scholars of political communication cultural studies and African studies will find this book particularly useful

A Dream of Nigeria Kevin Etta Jr., 2006 A Dream of Nigeria is a collection of published essays examining governance in Nigeria from 2002 to 2005 during Nigeria's current civil rule dispensation It is firstly a historical and political assessment of the nature and impact of governance during this period on the social economic and spiritual fortunes of the Nigerian peoples Secondly it is a whisper a prayer and a clarion call for the peoples of Nigeria in particular and Africa in general to reach for something higher than themselves a set of higher values forming the basis for good governance improved service delivery and civic responsibility at all levels and creating a more stable political foundation for proper democratization

De-neocolonizing Africa Unwana Samuel Akpan, 2024-10-16 This book fills a critical void in African research a lack of engagement with the question of how digital capabilities can be harnessed to liberate Africa from the subtle grips of neocolonization Bringing together seasoned and emerging scholars from diverse regions of Africa the book dissects the intricate relationship between technology and the persistent echoes of colonial legacies The authors distinguish between decolonization the historical struggle for independence and the ongoing imperative of de neocolonization an evolving battle against persistent but more subtle colonial influences now manifesting in the digital terrain With a focus on the profound impact of digital tools the contributors question how these capabilities can serve as instruments of liberation in a globalized age Through a comprehensive examination of the intersection between Africa digital technology and neocolonization the book not only breaks new ground but also positions itself as an invaluable resource for students academics and professionals globally By offering fresh perspectives nuanced analyses and innovative solutions this book emerges as an essential addition to the global intellectual academe reshaping the discourse on African autonomy identity and emancipation from neocolonial chains

Nigerian English David Jowitt, 2018-11-05 Although the past few decades have witnessed growing interest in varieties of English around the world no study of the Nigerian variety intended for the international market has yet been published Making use of well known paradigms the book will relate Nigerian English as a Second Language variety to other World Englishes Its chief overall concern however is to provide a detailed descriptive account of the variety seeking to show what is distinctive about it and also in this perspective distinguishing between more educated and less educated usage After giving a sociolinguistic profile of Nigeria where English today enjoys a more prominent role than ever before it will examine in turn the phonology morpho syntax and lexico semantics of Nigerian English with samples of written texts from the eighteenth century to the present It will also give a comprehensive summary of academic research carried out in the field over the past fifty years In this way the book will provide an introduction to the subject for the benefit of scholars and students in universities in many countries and will serve as a useful companion to other books in De Gruyter Mouton's Dialects of English series

The Print Media as a Tool for Evangelisation in Auchi-Diocese / Nigeria Peter Egielewa, 2018 Communication in Africa is growing at an unprecedented pace African governments are investing close to 100bn dollars annually for new infrastructure in communication There are presently over 500 million mobile phones in Africa Nigeria remains the economic hub of Africa With an approximately 50% Christian population this explosion poses opportunities and challenges for evangelisation in Nigeria Although the internet boom is still on the rise print media has remained an important media of information This work investigates how church evangelisation can maximise these media opportunities Dissertation Series Forum Religious Pedagogy Intercultural Forum Religionspädagogik interkulturell Vol 30 Subject Religious Studies Media Studies African Studies future tense Richard O. Ikiebe, Taiwo Obe, 2015-02-11 234NEXT is the boldest and most ambitious experiment in Nigerian journalism since the founding of The Guardian in 1983 Olatunji Dare future tense is a book of questions it examines likely factors responsible for the premature disappearance of 234NEXT from the Nigerian newspaper market Why did a paper with so much promise fail What went wrong at 234NEXT Is the failure linked to the socio political economic factors in Nigeria It is a book of conversations It draws on the perspectives of media professionals and scholars attempting to answer the questions posed above The questions form the basis of discussions at the webconference organised by an online forum EverythingJournalism hosted on the professional network LinkedIn future tense is a book of answers the discussions will serve the interest of those who want a first glimpse at the media environment in Nigeria There is scanty literature about the Nigerian media environment Even the existing ones are largely filled with outdated information future tense offers templates that could be useful not just for NEXT's next evolution but for others who may wish to venture into the murky waters of Nigerian daily newspaper publishing Tola Adenle Africa in Fragments Moses E. Ochonu, 2017-10-26 Africa in Fragments is one of a few texts to tackle many topics on the position and challenges of Africa its peoples and its diaspora in the world today It is part of a new genre that makes old and new academic debates on the problems and predicaments of Africanness accessible to a broad spectrum of audiences while outlining and defending the author's own compelling arguments This book is also one of a few texts breaking new ground by bringing nation continent and diaspora into conversation It weaves together analyses of Nigerian African and global African topics in an informed but polemical style challenges readers to rethink their preconceptions on the topics and offers profoundly new insights into these issues
