

Kenji Miyazawa (1896–1933) is one of Japan's most beloved writers and poets, known particularly for his sensitive and symbolist children's fiction.

This volume collects stories that focus on Miyazawa's love of space and his use of the galaxy as a metaphor for the concepts of purity, self-sacrifice, and faith, which were near and dear to his heart.

"The Nighthawk Star" follows a lowly bird as he struggles to transform himself into something greater, a constellation in the night sky.

"Signal and Signal-less" depicts a pair of star-crossed train signals who dream of eloping to the moon.

"Night on the Galactic Railroad," Miyazawa's most famous work, tells the story of two boys as they journey on a train that traverses the Milky Way, learning the true meaning of friendship, happiness, and life itself along the way.

Maynard, 2022-01-17 From the perspective of philosophical contrastive pragmatics, this study investigates our multiple selves as manifested in how we use language. Based on analyses of original and translation texts of Japanese and English literary works, the Japanese self is proposed as being fundamentally empty and yet richly populated with multiple subjective aspects, characters, and characteristics. Incorporating the concept of emptiness drawn from Japanese philosophical traditions and postmodernism primarily developed in the West, selves evidenced in grammar, style, and variation are investigated, applying interpretive resources of linguistic subjectivity, character, and character speech. Expressive gaps found in source and target texts across two languages lead us toward different ontological views and guide us to engage in the rethinking of the concept of self. The Revenge of My Youth Boiru Iseebi, Yuzi Keino, 2025-06-10 Bidding farewell to his old cowardice, Shin-ichiro takes a stand.
