Our Knowledge Is Not Primitive Decolonizing Botanical Anishinaabe Teachings:

Our Knowledge Is Not Primitive Wendy Makoons Geniusz, 2023-03-15 Traditional Anishinaabe Ojibwe or Chippewa knowledge like the knowledge systems of indigenous peoples around the world has long been collected and presented by researchers who were not a part of the culture they observed. The result is a colonized version of the knowledge one that is distorted and trivialized by an ill suited Eurocentric paradigm of scientific investigation and classification. In Our Knowledge Is Not Primitive Wendy Makoons Geniusz contrasts the way in which Anishinaabe botanical knowledge is presented in the academic record with how it is preserved in Anishinaabe culture. In doing so she seeks to open a dialogue between the two communities to discuss methods for decolonizing existing texts and to develop innovative approaches for conducting more culturally meaningful research in the future. As an Anishinaabe who grew up in a household practicing traditional medicine and who went on to become a scholar of American Indian studies and the Ojibwe language, Geniusz possesses the authority of someone with a foot firmly planted in each world. Her unique ability to navigate both indigenous and scientific perspectives makes this book an invaluable contribution to the field of Native American studies and enriches our understanding of the Anishinaabe and other native communities. Our Knowledge Is Not Primitive Wendy Makoons Geniusz, 2022-12-05

Intimately Situated Stories of Place Iris Berger, 2024-11-10 This edited volume illuminates how intimate relations with place can transform early childhood pedagogy by presenting a diverse range of situated place stories. The book begins to answer big questions facing the early childhood education community including: What is situated locally responsive education at a time when both researchers and educators grapple with their responsibility and response ability to initiate and inspire alternative environmental ethics and anticolonial approaches that invite active participation from children? Chapters will include work from Indigenous and non-Indigenous researchers and educators who center the role of place in cultural identity, community building and anticolonial projects throughout their work and teaching Resistance and Recognition at Kitigan Zibi Dennis Leo Fisher, 2023-11-15 Resistance and Recognition at Kitigan Zibi tells the modern history of Kitigan Zibi the largest and oldest Algonquin reserve in Canada This local history sheds light on the larger experience of the Algonquin First Nations whose traditional lands span the Ottawa River watershed and cross contemporary boundaries Drawing on archival sources and interviews with community members this work elucidates the relationship between culture and politics on the reserve during the twentieth century Despite the disruptions of settler colonialism the Algonquin have maintained a distinct identity and have waged a multifaceted struggle against assimilation and economic marginalization This struggle has played out in political spaces including border crossing celebrations grand councils and courtrooms This fight has also informed strategic labour choices interactions with game wardens and protests against the Catholic Church Resistance and Recognition at Kitigan Zibi demonstrates that the contest over recognition of treaty rights and traditional lands is longer broader and deeper than previously understood Indigenous Experiences with Collaborative Governance Michèle

Companion, Jason D. Rivera, 2025-10-01 Governance processes often fail to integrate Indigenous perspectives or address issues such as sovereignty self determination and decolonization making successful policy outcomes difficult to achieve It is vital for Indigenous and non Indigenous governments to collaborate in producing sustainable mutually beneficial outcomes This volume highlights the importance of authentic Indigenous inclusion in governance processes at national and subnational levels worldwide Through case studies and best practice models it examines the opportunities and barriers Indigenous Peoples face in collaborative governance In doing so it offers recommendations for practice and policy that promote social equity The Earth in Her Hands Jennifer Jewell, 2020-03-03 An empowering and expertly curated look at the horticultural world Gardens Illustrated In this beautiful and empowering book Jennifer Jewell introduces 75 inspiring women Working in wide reaching fields that include botany floral design landscape architecture farming herbalism and food justice these influencers are creating change from the ground up Profiled women include flower farmer Erin Benzakein codirector of Soul Fire Farm Leah Penniman plantswoman Flora Grubb edible and cultural landscape designer Leslie Bennett Caribbean American writer and gardener Jamaica Kincaid soil scientist Elaine Ingham landscape designer Ariella Chezar floral designer Amy Merrick and many more Rich with personal stories and insights Jewell s portraits reveal a devotion that transcends age locale and background reminding us of the profound role of green growing things in our world and our lives

Performance Studies in Canada Laura Levin, Marlis Schweitzer, 2017-06-01 Since its inception as an institutionalized discipline in the United States during the 1980s performance studies has focused on the interdisciplinary analysis of a broad spectrum of cultural behaviours including theatre dance folklore popular entertainments performance art protests cultural rituals and the performance of self in everyday life Performance Studies in Canada brings together a diverse group of scholars to explore the national emergence of performance studies as a field in Canada To date no systematic attempts has been made to consider how this methodology is being taught applied and rethought in Canadian contexts and Canadian performance studies scholarship remains largely unacknowledged within international discussions about the discipline This collection fills this gap by identifying multiple origins of performance studies scholarship in the country and highlighting significant works of performance theory and history that are rooted in Canadian culture Essays illustrate how specific institutional conditions and cultural investments Indigenous francophone multicultural and more produce alternative articulations of performance and reveal national identity as a performative construct A state of the art work on the state of the field Performance Studies in Canada foregrounds national and global performance knowledge to invigorate the discipline around the world

Eastern Cherokee Stories Sandra Muse Isaacs, 2019-07-10 Throughout our Cherokee history writes Joyce Dugan former principal chief of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians our ancient stories have been the essence of who we are These traditional stories embody the Cherokee concepts of Gadugi working together for the good of all and Duyvhta walking the right path and teach listeners how to understand and live in the world with reverence for all living things In Eastern Cherokee Stories Sandra Muse Isaacs uses the concepts of Gadugi and Duyvhta to explore the Eastern Cherokee oral tradition and to explain how storytelling in this tradition as both an ancient and a contemporary literary form is instrumental in the perpetuation of Cherokee identity and culture Muse Isaacs worked among the Eastern Cherokees of North Carolina recording stories and documenting storytelling practices and examining the Eastern Cherokee oral tradition as both an ancient and contemporary literary form For the descendants of those Cherokees who evaded forced removal by the U S government in the 1830s storytelling has been a vital tool of survival and resistance and as Muse Isaacs shows us this remains true today as storytelling plays a powerful role in motivating and educating tribal members and others about contemporary issues such as land reclamation cultural regeneration and language revitalization The stories collected and analyzed in this volume range from tales of creation and origins that tell about the natural world around the homeland to post Removal stories that often employ Native humor to present the Cherokee side of history to Cherokee and non Cherokee alike The persistence of this living oral tradition as a means to promote nationhood and tribal sovereignty to revitalize culture and language and to present the Indigenous view of history and the land bears testimony to the tenacity and resilience of the Cherokee people the Ani Giduwah

Indigenous Research Deborah McGregor, Jean-Paul Restoule, Rochelle Johnston, 2018-08-15 Indigenous research is an important and burgeoning field of study With the Truth and Reconciliation Commission s call for the Indigenization of higher education and growing interest within academic institutions scholars are exploring research methodologies that are centred in or emerge from Indigenous worldviews epistemologies and ontology This new edited collection moves beyond asking what Indigenous research is and examines how Indigenous approaches to research are carried out in practice Contributors share their personal experiences of conducting Indigenous research within the academy in collaboration with their communities and with guidance from Elders and other traditional knowledge keepers

Their stories are linked to current discussions and debates and their unique journeys reflect the diversity of Indigenous languages knowledges and approaches to inquiry Indigenous Research Theories Practices and Relationships is essential reading for students in Indigenous studies programs as well as for those studying research methodology in education health sociology anthropology and history It offers vital and timely guidance on the use of Indigenous research methods as a movement toward reconciliation

Sacred Ecology Fikret Berkes, 2012-03-29 Sacred Ecology examines bodies of knowledge held by indigenous and other rural peoples around the world and asks how we can learn from this knowledge and ways of knowing Berkes explores the importance of local and indigenous knowledge as a complement to scientific ecology and its cultural and political significance for indigenous groups themselves This third edition further develops the point that traditional knowledge as process rather than as content is what we should be examining It has been updated with about 150 new references and includes an extensive list of web resources through which instructors can access additional material and further illustrate many of the topics and themes in the book Winner of the Ecological Society of America's 2014 Sustainability Science Award

Knowing Manchuria Ruth Rogaski, 2022-09 Knowing Manchuria places the creation of knowledge about nature at the center of our understanding of one of the world's most contested borderlands At the intersection of China Russia Korea and Mongolia Manchuria is known as a site of war and environmental extremes where projects of political control intersected with projects designed to make sense of Manchuria's multiple environments Covering over 500 000 square miles comparable in size to all the land east of the Mississippi Manchuria's landscapes included temperate rain forests deserts prairies cultivated plains wetlands and Siberian taiga Ruth Rogaski reveals how paleontologists and indigenous shamans and many others made sense of the Manchurian frontier She uncovers how natural knowledge and thus the nature of Manchuria itself changed over time from a sacred land where the dragon arose to a global epicenter of contagious disease from a tragic wasteland to an abundant granary that nurtured the hope of a nation

Law in a Changing World Jutta Brunnee, Brenda Cossman, Andrew Green, Benjamin Alarie, 2025-05-31 Law in a Changing World explores how climate change is reshaping the law drawing on contributions from legal scholars across diverse fields The book examines how climate change impacts areas such as governance justice housing and disability law Rather than focusing on climate law alone the chapters explore how climate change is challenging foundational legal concepts and demanding adaptations across various sectors The authors consider the roles of international Indigenous and domestic legal systems in addressing climate related issues Topics include climate justice for vulnerable populations the role of government in crisis management and the intersection of law with emerging challenges like housing and disability rights Law in a Changing World provides a comprehensive cross disciplinary examination of how legal frameworks can respond to climate related emergencies and injustices offering fresh perspectives on the role of law in a warming world It is an essential read for those interested in the intersection of law policy and climate change
