Therapy in East Asia Hector Wing Hong Tsang, Stella Wai Chee Cheng, David Wai Kwong Man, 2025-10-21 This is the first major textbook on occupational therapy (OT) aimed at students and practitioners based in Asia. Written by a team of authors mainly based in Hong Kong, the book is divided into four sections. Section I presents the history of OT in the region as well as those key theories which underpin it. Section II introduces the essentials of OT practice. From assessment through to evaluation and intervention, these chapters cover five key therapeutic areas in which occupational therapists work: providing support for sensory and motor functions; providing support for cognitive and perceptual issues; providing support for psychosocial issues; providing support for returning to home and the community, including the use of assistive technology; and providing support for returning to the workplace. Section III then details a range of case studies to show occupational therapists in action, while Section IV looks at how the field is developing, including the increasing use of AI and other technologies. Throughout the book, cultural factors specific to the region are highlighted. An ideal resource for any student in Hong Kong, mainland China, Taiwan, or Singapore, this outstanding text is also a key reference work for practitioners in the region. Developing Clinical Indicators for Needed Skilled Nursing Facility Care Robert Schmitz, 2001
