Pascal Delheye, 2014-05-23 The field of sport history is a relatively new research domain situated at the intersection of a number of disciplines and sub disciplines This interdisciplinarity has created interesting avenues for growth and fresh thinking but also inherent problems of coherence and identity Making Sport History examines the development of an academic community around sport history exploring the roots of the discipline its current boundaries borders and challenges and looking ahead at future prospects Written by a team of world leading sport historians with commentaries from scholars working outside of the sport historical mainstream the book considers key themes in the historiography of sport including The relationship between history sport studies and physical education Comparative analysis of the role of historians in the writing of sport history Modern and post modern approaches to sport history Race gender and the sport historical establishment The role of scholarly organisations conferences and journals in discipline building Presenting new perspectives on what constitutes sport history and its core methodologies the book helps explain why historians have become interested in sport why they ve chosen the topics they have and how their work has influenced the wider world of history and been influenced by it Making Sport History is essential reading for any advanced student scholar or researcher with an interest in sport history historiography or the history and philosophy of the social sciences

The Cultural Sociology of Art and Music Lisa McCormick, 2022-12-16 This edited collection develops the Strong Program s contribution to the sociological study of the arts and places it in conversation with other cultural perspectives in the field Presenting some of the newest and most original research by both renowned figures and early career scholars the volume marks a new stage in the development of the cultural sociology of art and music The chapters in Part 1 set new agendas by reflecting on the field s history presenting theoretical innovations and suggesting future directions for research Part 2 explores aesthetic issues and challenges in the creation experience and interpretation of art and music Part 3 focuses on the material environments and social settings where people engage with art and music In Part 4 the contributors examine controversies about music and contestation over artistic matters whether in the public sphere in the American judicial system or in an emerging academic discipline The editor s introduction and Ron Eyerman s afterword place the chapters in context and reflect on their collective contribution to meaning centered sociology

Technology, Research and Professional Learning Jingjing Zhang, 2018-06-20 This book investigates the use of network technologies in research and explores how such use potentially changes the nature of professional learning between academics It attempts to situate the discussion of technology use in real world research settings to identify the different forms of participation in intellectual exchange embedded in academic dialogue and to further contribute to knowledge on how the use of network technology potentially changes the nature of learning Multiple data collection methods are employed in two forms of study a single case study and a number of individual interviews The single case study was carried out over a one year period and consisted of interviews 22 interviewees observations and document review Individual semi structured interviews were carried out over a similar period of time with a wider and different population of 24 academics from different Oxford faculties Half of these were interviewed twice The main findings presented in this book demonstrate that the direct consequences of technology use are changes to academic dialogue and scholarly communication in general The change to this critical aspect of research scholarly communication has potentially led to more distributed research in interconnected research environments It is the changes to scholarly communication and the research environment that consequently affect participation in intellectual exchange

A Companion to Reality Television Laurie Ouellette, 2016-12-19 International in scope and more comprehensive than existing collections A Companion to Reality Television presents a complete guide to the study of reality factual and nonfiction television entertainment encompassing a wide range of formats and incorporating cutting edge work in critical social and political theory Original in bringing cutting edge work in critical social and political theory into the conversation about reality TV Consolidates the latest broadest range of scholarship on the politics of reality television and its vexed relationship to culture society identity democracy and ordinary people in the media Includes primetime reality entertainment as well as precursors such as daytime talk shows in the scope of discussion Contributions from a list of international leading scholars in this field

The Discourse of Scholarly Communication Patrick Gamsby, 2023-08-14 The Discourse of Scholarly Communication examines the place and purpose of modern scholarship and its dialectical relationship with the ethos of Enlightenment Patrick Gamsby argues that while Enlightenment enlightenment is often used in the mottos of numerous academic institutions its historical social and philosophical elements are largely obscured Using a theoretical lens Gamsby revisits the ideals of the Enlightenment alongside the often contradictory issues of disciplinary boundaries access to research academic labor in the production of scholarship author peer reviewer editor and translator the interrelationship of form and content lectures textbooks books and essays and the stewardship of scholarship in academic libraries and archives It is ultimately argued that for the betterment of the scholarly communication ecosystem and the betterment of society anti Enlightenment rules of scholarship such as publish or perish should be dispensed with in favor of the formulation of a New Enlightenment

Crossing Boundaries Julie Thompson Klein, 1996 An interdisciplinary approach to knowledge

Self-(re)presentation now Nancy Thumim, 2020-05-18 Questions of presentation and representation of individuals groups and communities have become key sites of struggle as evidenced by the battles in both physical and digital spaces battles which have also thrown the roles of digital affordances systems industries and structures into relief This book shows that questions about the re presentation of the self in digital culture are now key to how the field of media and communication must engage with the political and demonstrates the wide range of scholarship focusing on presentation and representation of the self in recent times The contributors show that questions of self presentation and representation in digital culture are the focus of lively debate critique and investigation and that this is taking place from a number of theoretical perspectives and locations across the globe This book was originally published as a special issue of Popular Communication

Commodity Activism Roopali Mukherjee, Sarah Banet-Weiser, 2012 Buying RED products from Gap T shirts to Apple to fight AIDS Drinking a Caring Cup of coffee at the Coffee Bean Tea Leaf to support fair trade Driving a Toyota Prius to fight global warming All these commonplace activities point to a central feature of contemporary culture the most common way we participate in social activism is by buying something Roopali Mukherjee and Sarah Banet Weiser have gathered an exemplary group of scholars to explore this new landscape through a series of case studies of commodity activism Drawing from television film consumer activist campaigns and cultures of celebrity and corporate patronage the essays take up examples such as the Dove Real Beauty campaign sex positive retail activism ABC's Extreme Home Makeover and Angelina Jolie as multinational celebrity missionary Exploring the complexities embedded in contemporary political activism Commodity Activism reveals the workings of power and resistance as well as citizenship and subjectivity in the neoliberal era Refusing to simply position politics in opposition to consumerism this collection teases out the relationships between material cultures and political subjectivities arguing that activism may itself be transforming into a branded commodity
