Radio Console

The Radio Console is located in the center of the cockpit, directly in front of the pilot's seat. It contains the radio, microphone, and various controls for the radio system. The console is mounted on a swivel base, allowing it to be rotated to the left or right as needed.

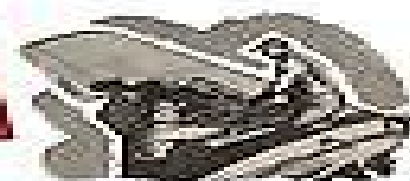

The console is divided into two main sections: the upper section for the radio and the lower section for the microphone. The upper section contains the radio dial, frequency selector, and various controls for the radio system. The lower section contains the microphone and its controls.

The console is designed to be used by the pilot while seated. It is mounted on a swivel base, allowing it to be rotated to the left or right as needed. The console is also designed to be easily accessible to the pilot.
