Transnational Interconnections of Nature Studies and the Environmental Humanities Sophia Emmanouilidou, Sezgin Toska, 2020-02-24 How is ecotthinking articulated in varied research fields What are the conjunctions and concurrences of academic endeavors in the attempt to curb environmental destruction This collection of essays offers a multifaceted exploration of the basic tenets of environmentalism proposed by academic curricula across the world Ecodestruction the wilderness rampant pollution tourism developments sustainability educational interventions and the plurivocal turn to ecotheoretical textual analysis are some of the critical perspectives and scientific findings investigated here The book introduces a multilateral understanding of environmental consciousness and suggests that the study of nature should not be compartmentalized into separate fields of analyses but aim for the interconnections between disciplines given that the physical cosmos is an unambiguous and finite host of humanity's endeavours. The volume appeals to academics, researchers and professionals with a particular interest in the current environmental crisis, offers solid insights into the ways human societies construe nature and hopefully will embark on the protection of the ecosphere. Researching Virtual Play Experiences Chris Bailey, 2021-10-11. This book illuminates the lived experience of a group of primary school children engaged in virtual world play during a year-long after-school club. Shaped by post-structuralist theory and New Literacy Studies, it outlines a playful, participatory and emergent methodological approach referred to as rhizomic ethnography. This hybrid text uses both words and images to describe the fieldsite and the methodology, demonstrating how children's creation of a digital community through Minecraft was shaped by both the game and their wider social and cultural experiences. Through the exploration of various dimensions of the club, including visual and soundscape data, the author demonstrates the emergent dimension of play. It will be of interest and value to researchers of children's play as well as those who explore visual methods and design multimodal research outputs. Teaching Primary English Eve Bearne, David Reedy, 2017-12-06. Teaching Primary English is a comprehensive evidence-informed introduction designed to support and inspire teaching and learning in the primary school. Written in a clear and accessible way, it draws on the very latest research and theory to describe and exemplify a full and rich English curriculum. It offers those on teacher training courses as well as qualified teachers who are looking to develop their practice, subject knowledge and guidance for effective, enjoyable classroom practice. Advice and ideas are supported by explicit examples of good teaching linked to video clips filmed in real schools, reflective activities, observational tasks and online resources. Each chapter includes suggestions for great children's literature, considers assessment throughout and offers support planning for diversity and special educational needs. Key topics covered include spoken language for teaching and learning, storytelling, drama and role play, reading for pleasure, early reading including phonics, poetry, writing, composition, spelling and handwriting, grammar and punctuation, responding to and assessing writing, multimodal, multimedia and digital texts. With a focus on connecting all modes of English, the global and the local, and home and school experience, this detailed, uplifting book will support you in developing a curious, critical approach to teaching and learning English. Additional content can be found on the fantastic supporting website. Features include video clips from within the classroom to demonstrate English teaching techniques, audio resources including an interactive quiz to check understanding and provide real-life examples and case studies, downloadable resources to support teaching and incorporate into lesson plans. Literacy Practices and Perceptions of Agency Bronwyn T. Williams, 2017-07-06. In this book, Bronwyn T. Williams explores how perceptions of agency, whether a person perceives and feels able to read and write successfully in a given context, are critical in terms of how people perform their literate identities. Drawing on interviews and observations with students in several countries, he examines the intersections of the social and the personal in relation to how and crucially why people engage successfully or struggle painfully in literacy practices and what factors and forces they regard as enabling or constraining their actions Recognizing such moments and patterns can help teachers and researchers rethink their approaches to teaching to facilitate students sense of agency as writers and readers The Evolving Curriculum in Interpreter and Translator Education David B.
