Paris qui mendie Louis Paulian, 1905 Catalogue of the Printed Books in the Library of the British Museum British Library, 1903 An Age to Work Miranda Sachs, 2023 An Age to Work reveals how the French welfare state produced class and gender based hierarchies within childhood It weaves together the histories of child labor and juvenile delinquency to trace how the state used age based regulations to ensure the productivity of working class youths Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books, 1903 Gender, Space, and the Gaze in Post-Haussmann Visual Culture Temma Balducci, 2017-03-27 Charles Baudelaire's flâneur as described in his 1863 essay The Painter of Modern Life remains central to understandings of gender space and the gaze in late nineteenth century Paris despite misgivings by some scholars Baudelaire's privileged and leisurely figure at home on the boulevards underlies theorizations of bourgeois masculinity and by implication bourgeois femininity whereby men gaze and roam urban spaces unreservedly while women lacking the freedom to either gaze or roam are wedded to domesticity In challenging this tired paradigm and offering fresh ways to consider how gender space and the gaze were constructed this book attends to several neglected elements of visual and written culture the ubiquitous male beggar as the true denizen of the boulevard the abundant depictions of well to do women looking sometimes at men the popularity of windows and balconies as viewing perches and the overwhelming emphasis given by both male and female artists to domestic scenes The book's premise that gender space and the gaze have been too narrowly conceived by a scholarly embrace of Baudelaire's flâneur is supported across the cultural spectrum by period sources that include art criticism high and low visual culture newspapers novels prescriptive and travel literature architectural practices interior design trends and fashion journals Municipal Affairs Robert Clarkson Brooks, 1901 Vice, Crime, and Poverty Dominique Kalifa, 2019-04-16 Beggars outcasts urchins waifs prostitutes criminals convicts madmen fallen women lunatics degenerates part reality part fantasy these are the grotesque faces that populate the underworld the dark inverse of our everyday world Lurking in the mirror that we hold up to our society they are our counterparts and our doubles repelling us and yet offering the tantalizing promise of escape Although these images testify to undeniable social realities the sordid lower depths make up a symbolic and social imaginary that reflects our fears and anxieties as well as our desires In Vice Crime and Poverty Dominique Kalifa traces the untold history of the concept of the underworld and its representations in popular culture He examines how the myth of the lower depths came into being in nineteenth century Europe as biblical figures and Christian traditions were adapted for a world turned upside down by the era of industrialization democratization and mass culture From the Parisian demimonde to Victorian squalor from the slums of New York to the sewers of Buenos Aires Kalifa deciphers the making of an image that has cast an enduring spell on its audience While the social conditions that created that underworld have changed Vice Crime and Poverty shows that from social scientific ideas of the underclass to contemporary cinema and steampunk culture its shadows continue
