Modern Social Imaginaries Charles Taylor, 2003-12-29 An accounting of the varying forms of social imaginary that have underpinned the rise of Western modernity

Taking the Square Maria Rovisco,, Jonathan Corpus Ong, 2016-06-10 From the Arab uprisings to the indignados movement and the global Occupy sit ins recent protests and civil unrest have sparked new debates about political organisation media representation and the nature of contemporary citizenship But is there anything new about these occupations of public space How are these protests legitimised or undermined by the intense mediation of streets and squares And how are these different from expressions of dissent in other contexts including those of ethnic minorities in the New Orleans mardi gras and survivors of natural disaster in the Philippines This book challenges the notion of a disappearance of public space by reconsidering the significance of physical space and embodiment in the conduct and consequences of protest events Looking at a range of assemblies sustained and fleeting spectacular and ordinary this volume illuminates how square and street politics and their mediation become vehicles for new ideas of community citizenship and public life

Transnational Migrations in the Asia-Pacific Catherine Gomes, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2018-08-15 This edited collection interrogates the diversity of transnational migration experiences in the Asia Pacific through the lens of digital ethnography in order to explore the transformative effects digital media plays in these experiences While there has been work on the various ways in which internet communication technologies ICTs particularly mobile communication allows for various forms of connectivity between individuals and groups in this age of hyper transnational mobility there is a scarcity on the way digital media presents challenges creates agency and alters relationships within the broad umbrella of the transnational migration experience The authors in this collection who come from diverse disciplinary backgrounds across social cultural education and communication research present cutting edge cross and trans disciplinary analyses of transnational migration where digital media becomes a creative if not fundamental avenue for migrants to develop new strategies for dealing with their cross border mobilities

Poetry, Practical Theology and Reflective Practice Mark Pryce, 2019-03-13 This groundbreaking study offers an innovative critical analysis of poetry as a resource for reflective practice in the context of continuing professional development In the contemporary drive in all professions for greater rigour in education training and development little attention is paid to the inner shape of learning and meaning making for individuals and groups especially ways in which individuals are formed for the task of their work Building on empirical research into the author s professional practice the book takes the use of poetry in clergy continuing ministerial development as a case study to examine the value of poetry in professional learning Setting out the advantages and limitations of poetry as a stimulant for imaginative critical reflexivity and formation within professional reflective practice the study develops a practical model for group reflection around poetry distilling pedagogical approaches for working effectively with poetry in continuing professional development Drawing together a number of strands of thinking about poetry Practical

Theology and reflective practice into a tightly argued study the book is an important methodological resource It makes available a range of primary and secondary sources offering researchers into professional practice a model of ethnographic research in Practical Theology which embraces innovative methods for reflexivity and theological reflection including the value of auto ethnographic poetry Spaces of Aid Lisa Smirl,2015-03-12 Aid workers commonly bemoan that the experience of working in the field sits uneasily with the goals they've signed up to visiting project sites in air conditioned Land Cruisers while the intended beneficiaries walk barefoot through the heat or checking emails from within gated compounds while surrounding communities have no running water Spaces of Aid provides the first book length analysis of what has colloquially been referred to as Aid Land It explores in depth two high profile case studies the Aceh tsunami and Hurricane Katrina in order to uncover a fascinating history of the objects and spaces that have become an endemic yet unexamined part of the delivery of humanitarian assistance Publics and the City Kurt Iveson,2011-07-22 Publics and the City investigates struggles over the making of urban publics considering how the production management and regulation of public spaces has emerged as a problem for both urban politics and urban theory Advances a new framework for considering the diverse spatialities of publicness in relation to the city Argues that a city's contribution to the making of publics goes beyond the provision of places for public gathering Examines a series of detailed case studies Looks at the relationship between urbanism public spheres and democracy Regimes of Social Cohesion A. Green,J. Janmaat,2011-06-13 In an original and highly interdisciplinary mixed method approach Green and Janmaat identify four major traditions of social cohesion in developed societies analyzing how these various mechanisms are withstanding the strains of the current global financial crisis Imagined Futures in Science, Technology and Society Gert Verschraegen,Frédéric Vandermoere,Luc Braeckmans,Barbara Segaert,2017-04-07 Imagining forecasting and predicting the future is an inextricable and increasingly important part of the present States organizations and individuals almost continuously have to make decisions about future actions financial investments or technological innovation without much knowledge of what will exactly happen in the future Science and technology play a crucial role in this collective attempt to make sense of the future Technological developments such as nanotechnology robotics or solar energy largely shape how we dream and think about the future while economic forecasts gene tests or climate change projections help us to make images of what may possibly occur in the future This book provides one of the first interdisciplinary assessments of how scientific and technological imaginations matter in the formation of human ecological and societal futures Rooted in different disciplines such as sociology philosophy and science and technology studies it explores how various actors such as scientists companies or states imagine the future to be and act upon that imagination Bringing together case studies from different regions around the globe including the electrification of German car infrastructure or genetically modified crops in India Imagined Futures in Science Technology and Society shows how science and technology create novel forms of imagination thereby opening horizons toward alternative futures By developing central aspects of the current debate on how scientific imagination and future making interact this timely volume provides a fresh look at the complex interrelationships between science technology and society This book will be of interest to postgraduate students interested in Science and Technology Studies History and Philosophy of Science Sociology Cultural Studies Anthropology Political Sciences Future Studies and Literary Sciences Articulating Dissent Pollyanna

Ruiz,2014-06-20 Articulating Dissent analyses the new communicative strategies of coalition protest movements and how these impact on a mainstream media unaccustomed to fractured articulations of dissent Pollyanna Ruiz shows how coalition protest movements against austerity war and globalisation build upon the communicative strategies of older single issue campaigns such as the anti criminal justice bill protests and the women s peace movement She argues that such protest groups are dismissed in the mainstream for not articulating a unified position and explores the way in which contemporary protesters stemming from different traditions maintain solidarity Articulating Dissent investigates the ways in which this diversity inherent to coalition protest affects the movement of ideas from the political margins to the mainstream In doing so this book offers an insightful and original analysis of the protest coalition as a developing political form The Political

Afterlife of Sites of Monumental Destruction Andrea Connor,2017-06-14 What happens when a monumental thing is physically destroyed Is its life as a socially significant presencing thing at an end Or might the process of destruction work to enhance its symbolic force mediating work and presencing power In this book Andrea Connor traces the afterlife of two exemplary examples of monumental destruction and their re investment with cultural value and symbolic significance In 1993 during the Bosnian war the Mostar Bridge was completely destroyed Reconstructed in 2004 as an exact copy of the original this new Old Bridge has assumed an afterlife as an intentional monument to reconciliation The World Trade Centre in New York has also been transformed since its destruction in 2001 as a place of national mourning and remembrance a symbolic void marking a singular act of terrorism Using recent work on affect and object agency Connor considers their contested reconfiguration as sites of collective remembering and forgetting in new highly charged political contexts She argues for a more expansive notion of reconstruction encompassing not only the material and symbolic afterlife of both things but also their affecting afterlives as they are re assembled in the present Provoking a reconsideration of the way monuments and heritage sites even in their absence become powerful agents of historical narrativization this work will be of interest to students and scholars in a range of fields including international relations cultural studies critical heritage studies and material culture studies Transnational Screen Culture in Scandinavia Pei-Sze Chow,2021-09-28 This book explores a range of lesser known documentaries and short films from the transnational resund region released in the period 2000 2009 focusing on how this Scandinavian region s urban and maritime spaces iconic architecture and peripheral communities across Malm and Copenhagen have been imagined and critiqued through film This is the first book to widen the critical gaze beyond popular representations to examine a significant body of peripheral films produced in and about the metropolitan resund region Emerging at a time of spatial transformation and geopolitical change these films weave alternative narratives that confront the official rhetoric of transnational regionalism Offering the concept of regioscape as a way to investigate the intimate relationship between artistic representation screen policy space and the region building project this book presents new readings of films by contemporary Swedish and Danish filmmakers such as Fredrik Gertten Kolbj rn Guwallius Daniel Dencik and Max Kestner Theorising Drones in Visual Culture Elisa Serafinelli,2024-11-30 This book investigates whether and how drone technology is changing how we see and experience our visual cultures Knowing more about these visuals is essential to understand how our visual experience of the world is changing and the creative potential these new technological implementations may afford To do so the book analyses drone visuals exploring their aesthetics and meanings the context where they circulate and how they are perceived The book will therefore be of interest to students and researchers of digital sociology digital media mobile media visual studies media and communication and journalism addressing the ways in which climate engineers view its respective physical political and moral domains Tracing the intellectual and political history of dreams to control the weather and climate as well as the discovery of climate change Jeroen Oomen examines the imaginative parameters within which contemporary climate engineering research takes place Introducing the analytical metaphor ways of seeing to describe explicit or implicit visions understandings and foci that facilitate a particular understanding of what is at stake Imagining Climate Engineering shows how visions on the knowability of climate tie into moral and political convictions about the possibility and desirability of engineering the climate Marrying science and technology studies and the environmental humanities Oomen provides crucial insights for the future of the climate change debate for scholars and students

Urban Mountain Waterscapes in Leh, Indian Trans-Himalaya Judith Müller, 2022-11-16 The city of Leh is located in the high mountain desert of Ladakh in the Indian Himalayas and access to water has always been limited there In recent years the town has experienced high rates of urbanisation on the one hand and tourist numbers have increased exponentially on the other which has implications for the water supply of the people living there Through several years of on site research challenges on various levels were documented and current governance approaches were analysed This research forms the basis for future approaches to sustainable development

Imagines of Migration Yolanda López García, 2021-09-03 How do Mexican migrants in Germany perceive themselves and their lives Innovatively combining theories of interculturality and social imaginaries Yolanda López García uses the anthropological method of life stories to investigate the understudied area of Mexican migration to Germany She discusses areas such as quality of life as a motivation for migration the role of banal nationalism in imaginaries the dynamic subjective reconstruction of Mexicanness and the process of imagined Germanisation Yolanda López García ultimately argues that individuals as social agents engage with and construct new emerging imaginaries which may be viewed as important engines of social change

A Good Life Mary Edmunds, 2013-05-01 This book is a story It is a story about ordinary people in very different parts of the world dealing with rapid change in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries It is about times of turbulent and violent social upheaval and rupture with the past It is about modern times It is also about being human what it is to be human in a modernising and globalising world how in responding to the circumstances of their times different groups define redefine and attempt to put into practice their understandings of the good and of what constitutes a good life And it is about how human rights have come to be not abstract universal principles but a practical source of consciousness and practice for real people
