

THE 12" x 30" MODEL "C"

(Figure 59)

The Monarch model "C" tool room lathes were designed and presented to industry during 1929 and 1930. They have been progressively improved in design and construction since that time. Today, they represent the finest developments in precision tool room lathes . . . the almost universal choice not only of operators, but of production executives who know cost figures.

Maximum accuracy and efficiency are assured by anti-friction bearings, automatic force feed lubrication; all hardened steel parts, including headstock and tailstock spindles, shafts, gears, and studs, throughout headstock, end gear train, apron, quick-change gear box, and bed rack.

Here are a few of the outstanding advantages of Monarch tool room lathes:

Sixteen speed, completely Timkenized headstock;

Fully Timkenized quick-change gear box, providing an extremely wide range of threads and feeds;

Apron and quick-change gear box equipped throughout with anti-friction bearings;

End gear train mounted on anti-friction bearings;

Leadscrew reversing mechanism incorporated as an integral part of the headstock and operated from the apron;

Carriage can be reversed at fast spindle speeds without danger of breakage to the mechanism;

The American Standard ~~ANSI~~ flanged spindle nose provides the fastest known means of changing chucks and plates—together with almost perfect duplication of mounting chucks and plates each time they are put on the spindle;

Automatic force feed lubrication to the carriage, apron, and compound rest, decreases bed wear, bearing wear, and prolongs life and makes for greater ease of operation.
