Visual Culture and Mathematics in the Early Modern Period Ingrid Alexander-Skipnes, 2017-01-06 During the early modern period there was a natural correspondence between how artists might benefit from the knowledge of mathematics and how mathematicians might explore through advances in the study of visual culture new areas of enquiry that would uncover the mysteries of the visible world This volume makes its contribution by offering new interdisciplinary approaches that not only investigate perspective but also examine how mathematics enriched aesthetic theory and the human mind The contributors explore the portrayal of mathematical activity and mathematicians as well as their ideas and instruments how artists displayed their mathematical skills and the choices visual artists made between geometry and arithmetic as well as Euclid's impact on drawing artistic practice and theory These chapters cover a broad geographical area that includes Italy Switzerland Germany the Netherlands France and England The artists philosophers and mathematicians whose work is discussed include Leon Battista Alberti Nicholas Cusanus Marsilio Ficino Francesco di Giorgio Leonardo da Vinci and Andrea del Verrocchio as well as Michelangelo Galileo Piero della Francesca Girard Desargues William Hogarth Albrecht Dürer Luca Pacioli and Raphael

"Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture, 1789-1914" Temma Balducci, 2017-07-05 Focusing on images of or produced by well to do nineteenth century European women this volume explores genteel femininity as resistant to easy codification vis is the public Attending to various iterations of the public as space sphere and discourse sixteen essays challenge the false binary construct that has held the public as the sole preserve of prosperous men By contrast the essays collected in Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture 1789-1914 demonstrate that definitions of both femininity and the public were mutually defining and constantly shifting In examining the relationship between affluent women femininity and the public the essays gathered here consider works by an array of artists that includes canonical ones such as Mary Cassatt and Frans Hals as well as understudied women artists including Louise Abbéma and Broncia Koller The essays also consider works in a range of media from fashion prints and paintings to private journals and architectural designs facilitating an analysis of femininity in public across the cultural production of the period Various European centers including Madrid Florence Paris Brittany Berlin and London emerge as crucial sites of production for genteel femininity providing a long overdue rethinking of modern femininity in the public sphere

Can Art History be Made Global? Monica Juneja, 2023-03-20 The book responds to the challenge of the global turn in the humanities from the perspective of art history A global art history it argues need not follow the logic of economic globalization nor seek to bring the entire world into its fold Instead it draws on a theory of transculturation to explore key moments of an art history that can no longer be approached through a facile globalism How can art historical analysis theorize relationships of connectivity that have characterized cultures and regions across distances How can it meaningfully handle issues of commensurability or its absence among cultures By shifting the focus of enquiry to South Asia the five meditations that make up this book seek to translate intellectual insights of experiences beyond Euro America into globally intelligible analyses
