The book's particular focus is on the development and use of the Principal Instructional Management Rating Scale PIMRS. The PIMRS is the most widely used survey instrument designed for assessing instructional leadership for research and practice. It has been used in more than 250 studies in more than 30 countries around the world. The authors provide a detailed conceptual and data-based description of the rationale and development of the instrument as well as the ways in which it has been used in practice. The book also provides for the first time a comprehensive assessment of the scale's measurement properties. This represents essential information for future users of the instrument across different national contexts. Finally, the volume outlines an agenda for improving future research on the role of principal instructional leadership in student learning and school effectiveness.

Dilemmas of Authenticity Zaid Adhami, 2025-05-20. The past two decades have witnessed pervasive anxieties in US Muslim communities around a perceived crisis of faith. As Zaid Adhami argues in this richly textured ethnography, these concerns are fundamentally about the pressures and dilemmas of authenticity: what it really means to be a Muslim. While discussions about authenticity in Islam typically focus on maintaining tradition and competing claims to true Islam, Adhami focuses instead on the powerful idea of being true to one's own self and what it means to have genuine belief. Drawing on extensive conversations with American Muslims and careful readings of broader communal discourse, Adhami shows that this drive for personal authenticity plays out in complicated ways. It can produce deep doubt while also serving as the grounds to affirm tradition. It can converge with revivalist modes of piety but it can also prompt emphatic challenges to communal orthodoxies. Through vivid storytelling and sensitive analysis, Adhami illuminates why religious doubt is often a source of intense anxiety in today's world and how people maintain their faith despite such unsettling uncertainty.

A Guide to Planning and Managing Open Innovative Ecosystems João Leitão, Vanessa Ratten, Jean Barroca, 2020-10-16. Digital technology in the form of big data and data analytics is transforming the global economy. This book is the first to take an open innovation perspective to the study and practice of ecosystems, providing a novel way of understanding the impact data has on the way entrepreneurial firms develop.

When Pre-K Comes to School Bethany Wilinski, 2017. When Pre-K Comes to School traces what happens for institutions and teachers when a school district and community ECE centers partner to provide public pre-K. Wilinski examines policy implementation across diverse sites: a private part-day preschool, a corporate childcare center, and a public elementary school. She demonstrates how pre-K partnerships create opportunities but also considerable constraints for the institutions and teachers involved. Though teachers are required to comply with the same policy mandates, their compensation and access to resources varies greatly. This book calls for policies and practices that will work better for teachers, which in turn will work better for children. The book's unique insider perspective on how policy is actually enacted in schools provides important insight into what communities and policymakers should consider when creating pre-K policies.

Book Features: An in-depth examination of teachers' work across settings and situated within a changing broader policy context. Evidence that public pre-K partnerships have serious and sometimes negative consequences for teachers and institutions A focus on the experience of teachers who are critical to the success of pre K Interviews with pre K teachers and state policymakers Recommendations for pre K policy that is more beneficial to teachers institutions and families Absolutely essential and mind shifting reading for those crafting prekindergarten policies and programs From the Foreword by Sharon Lynn Kagan Teachers College Columbia University
