Trafficking in Antiracism Lyndsey P. Beutin, 2023-02-27 In Trafficking in Antiracism Lyndsey P Beutin analyzes how campaigns to end human trafficking often described as modern day slavery invoke the memory of transatlantic slavery to support positions ultimately grounded in antiracism Drawing on contemporary antitrafficking visual culture and media discourse she shows how a constellation of media philanthropic NGO and government actors invested in ending human trafficking repurpose the history of transatlantic slavery and abolition in ways that undermine contemporary struggles for racial justice and slavery reparations The recurring narratives images and figures such as slavery in Africa Arab slave traders and Black incapacity for self governance discursively turn Black people across the diaspora into the enslavers of the past and present in place of white Americans and Europeans Doing so Beutin contends creates a rhetorical defense against being held liable for slavery s dispossessions and violence Despite these implications Beutin demonstrates that antitrafficking discourse remains popular and politically useful for former slaving nations and their racial beneficiaries because it refashions historic justifications for white supremacy into today s abolition of slavery

International Child Protection Neil Howard, Samuel Okyere, 2022-02-19 This book interrogates the international child protection regime with a particular focus on its weaknesses and failures It looks at the lack of accountability the normativity and the tendency to recreate patterns of power and exclusion that blight otherwise good intentions The book assesses why the regime falls short of its ideals and offers ideas for what can be done to improve it Bringing together influential established voices and emerging scholars who work on issues related to childhood youth policy and practice the book offers a timely intervention that aims to push the world of international child protection in more progressive directions

Extreme Sustainability Rhetoric and Sustainable Development Mauro Fracaroli Nunes, Camila Lee Park, 2022-08-01 This book considers the nature causes and consequences of extreme pro and anti sustainability rhetoric exploring how and why the expressions of radical views on sustainability related themes may prevent real sustainable development Following a thorough introduction on sustainability rhetoric on dialogue and on the role played by ideologies in the building of environmental beliefs Fracarolli Nunes and Lee Park examine positions and statements expressed or made by individuals companies governments and NGOs in the last decades The outcomes of these considerations lead to the classification of expressions in different categories of sustainability rhetoric laying the groundwork for the development of a sustainability spectrum a metric for the level of radicalization of sustainability positions which ranges from apocalyptic views to ultimate denial Through the combination of historical perspectives theoretical frameworks and conceptual developments this book provides a foundation for a more informed and productive dialogue between radically opposing views on sustainability issues This volume will be of great interest to students scholars and practitioners researching and working in the areas of environmental communication and media environmental politics and sustainable development Welfare to

Work in Contemporary European Welfare States Anja Eleveld,Thomas Kampen,Josien Arts,2020-01-29 With welfare to work programmes under intense scrutiny this book reviews a wide range of existing and future policies across Europe Seventeen contributors provide case studies and legal sociological and philosophical perspectives from around the continent building a rich picture of welfare to work policies and their impact They show how many schemes do not adequately address social rights and lived experiences and consider alternatives based on theories of non domination For anyone interested in the justice of welfare to work this book is an important step along the path towards more fair and adequate legislation

Revisiting the Law and Governance of Trafficking, Forced Labor and Modern Slavery Prabha Kotiswaran,2017-05-25 In the decades following the globalization of the world economy trafficking forced labor and modern slavery have emerged as significant global problems States negotiated the Palermo Protocol in 2000 under which they agreed to criminalize trafficking primarily understood as an issue of serious organized crime Sixteen years later leading academics activists and policy makers from international organizations come together in this edited volume and adopt an inter disciplinary multi stakeholder approach to revisit trafficking through the lens of labor migration and extreme exploitation and in the process rethink the law and governance of trafficking This volume considers many key factors including the evolving international law on trafficking the relationship between trafficking slavery indenture and domestic migration law and policy as well as newly emergent techniques of governance including indicators all with a view to furthering prospects for lasting economic justice in a globalized world

The Commonalities of Global Crises Christian Karner,Bernhard Weicht,2016-05-26 Bringing together contributions from an international group of social scientists this collection examines diverse crises both historical and contemporary which implicate market forces widening inequalities social exclusion forms of resistance and ideological polarisation The Commonalities of Global Crises offers carefully researched case studies which stretch across large geographical distances from Egypt to the US and from northern central eastern and southern Europe to South America and covers timely issues including human rights slavery care migration racism and the far right The volume demonstrates that such different settings and diverse concerns are characterized by a common tension in which the crises that unfold around pressures of widening marketization and commodification are met by the re building or re assertion of various communities and competing politics of solidarity and nostalgia Fighting Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Genevieve LeBaron, Jessica R. Pliley, David W. Blight, 2021-07-01 Over the last two decades fighting modern slavery and human trafficking has become a cause célèbre Yet large numbers of researchers non governmental organizations trade unions workers and others who would seem like natural allies in the fight against modern slavery and trafficking are hugely skeptical of these movements They object to how the problems are framed and are skeptical of the new abolitionist movement Why This book tackles key controversies surrounding the anti slavery and anti trafficking movements head on Champions and skeptics explore the fissures and fault lines that surround efforts to fight modern slavery and human trafficking today These include whether efforts to fight modern slavery displace or crowd out support for labor and migrant rights whether and to what extent efforts to fight modern slavery mask naturalize and distract from racial gendered and economic inequality and whether contemporary anti slavery and anti trafficking crusaders use of history are accurate and appropriate

The Borders of Violence Marie Segrave, Stefani Vasil, 2024-10-11 This book explores the structural harm of borders and non citizenship specifically temporary non citizenship in the perpetuation of domestic and family violence DFV It focuses on the stories and situations of over 300 women in Australia The analysis foregrounds how the state and the migration system both sustain and enable violence against women In doing so this book demonstrates how structural violence is an insidious component of gendered violence limiting and curtailing women's safety The Borders of Violence advances contemporary research on DFV by considering the role of the state and the migration system It bridges different fields of scholarship to interrogate our knowledge about DFV and its impacts and improve our critical accounts of gender structural violence and borders It illuminates the ways in which temporary non citizens are often silenced and or their experiences are obfuscated by state processes policies and practices which are weaponised by perpetrators in countries of destination and origin with impunity An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of border criminology criminology sociology politics sociology law and social policy It offers key insights for professionals policymakers stakeholders and advocates working broadly to support temporary non citizens and or to address and eliminate violence against women

The SAGE Handbook of Marxism Beverley Skeggs, Sara R. Farris, Alberto Toscano, Svenja Bromberg, 2021-11-17 The past decade has witnessed a resurgence of interest in Marxism both within and without the academy Marxian frameworks concepts and categories continue to be narratively relevant to the features and events of contemporary capitalism Most crucially an attention to shifting cultural conditions has lead contemporary researchers to re confront some classical and essential Marxist concepts as well as elaborating new critical frameworks for the analysis of capitalism today The SAGE Handbook of Marxism showcases this cutting edge of today's Marxism It advances the debate with essays that rigorously map and renew the concepts that have provided the groundwork and main currents for Marxist theory and showcases interventions that set the agenda for Marxist research in the 21st century A rigorous and challenging collection of scholarship this book contains a stunning range of contributions from contemporary academics writers and theorists from around the world and across disciplines invaluable to scholars and graduate students alike Part 1 Reworking the critique of political economy Part 2 Forms of domination subjects of struggle Part 3 Political perspectives Part 4 Philosophical dimensions Part 5 Land and existence Part 6 Domains Part 7 Inquiries and debates

African Migrants, European Borders, and the Problem with Humanitarianism P. Khalil Saucier, Tryon P. Woods, 2024-06-10 African Migrants European Borders and the Problem with Humanitarianism presents a probing examination of the contemporary migrant crisis in the Mediterranean Basin By centering our analysis on how racial slavery has shaped European democratic culture its abolitionist traditions and the global structures of capital accumulation P Khalil Saucier and Tryon P Woods reveal and confront how contemporary discourse on the migrant crisis displaces Black sovereign mobility Their inquiry into the modern world s culture of politics investigates freedom of movement discourse s ostensible confrontation with border policing the memorializing of Black migrant deaths by artists and advocates and the visual imagery of a cosmopolitan and multicultural Europe as conceived by filmmakers in response to the migrant crisis as variants of a slaveholding culture instantiated in the early Mediterranean and Atlantic worlds This analysis allows the authors to formulate a new critical framework for analysis of both the problems of contemporary migration and borders and the leading prescriptions on offer from analysts advocates and policy makers in order to develop alternate ways of conceptualizing global society

That Most Precious Merchandise Hannah Barker, 2019-09-27 The history of the Black Sea as a source of Mediterranean slaves stretches from ancient Greek colonies to human trafficking networks in the present day At its height during the fourteenth and early fifteenth centuries the Black Sea slave trade was not the sole source of Mediterranean slaves Genoese Venetian and Egyptian merchants bought captives taken in conflicts throughout the region from North Africa sub Saharan Africa the Balkans and the Aegean Sea Yet the trade in Black Sea slaves provided merchants with profit and prestige states with military recruits tax revenue and diplomatic influence and households with the service of women men and children Even though Genoa Venice and the Mamluk sultanate of Egypt and Greater Syria were the three most important strands in the web of the Black Sea slave trade they have rarely been studied together Examining Latin and Arabic sources in tandem Hannah Barker shows that Christian and Muslim inhabitants of the Mediterranean shared a set of assumptions and practices that amounted to a common culture of slavery Indeed the Genoese Venetian and Mamluk slave trades were thoroughly entangled with wide ranging effects Genoese and Venetian disruption of the Mamluk trade led to reprisals against Italian merchants living in Mamluk cities while their participation in the trade led to scathing criticism by supporters of the crusade movement who demanded commercial powers use their leverage to weaken the force of Islam Reading notarial registers tax records law merchants accounts travelers tales and letters sermons slave buying manuals and literary works as well as treaties governing the slave trade and crusade propaganda Barker gives a rich picture of the context in which merchants traded and enslaved people met their fate

Touts Enrique Martino, 2022-08-22 Touts is a historical account of the troubled formation of a colonial labor market in the Gulf of Guinea and a major contribution to the historiography of indentured labor which has relatively few reference points in Africa The setting is West Africa s largest island Fernando Po or Bioko in today s Equatorial Guinea 100 kilometers off the coast of Nigeria The Spanish ruled this often ignored island from the mid nineteenth century until 1968 A booming plantation economy led to the arrival of several hundred thousand West African principally Nigerian contract workers on steamships and canoes In Touts Enrique Martino traces the confusing transition from slavery to other labor regimes paying particular attention to the labor brokers and their financial logistical and clandestine techniques for bringing workers to the island Martino combines multi sited archival research with the concept of touts as lumpen brokers to offer a detailed study of how commercial labor relations could develop shift and collapse through the recruiters own techniques such as large wage advances and elaborate deceptions The result is a pathbreaking reconnection of labor mobility contract law informal credit structures and exchange practices in African history

The Truth About Modern Slavery Emily Kenway, 2021-01-20 A powerful treatise Amelia Gentleman Guardian In 2019 over 10 000 possible victims of slavery were found in the UK From men working in Sports Direct warehouses for barely any pay to teenaged Vietnamese girls trafficked into small town nail bars we re told that modern slavery is all around us operating in plain sight But is this really slavery and is it even a new phenomenon Why has the British Conservative Party called it one of the great human rights issues of our time when they usually ignore the exploitation of those at the bottom of the economic pile The Truth About Modern Slavery reveals how modern slavery has been created as a political tool by those in power It shows how anti slavery action acts as a moral cloak hiding the harms of the hostile environment towards migrants legitimising big brands exploitation of the poorest workers and oppressing sex workers Blaming the media s complicity rich philanthropists opportunism and our collective failure to realise the lies we re being told The Truth About Modern Slavery provides a vital challenge to conventional narratives on modern slavery
