Meltdown: Earthquake, Tsunami, and Nuclear Disaster in Fukushima Deirdre Langeland, 2021-02-23 Deirdre Langeland's Meltdown explores for middle grade readers the harrowing story of the deadly earthquake tsunami and nuclear meltdown that caused the 2011 Fukushima power plant disaster. On March 11, 2011, the largest earthquake ever measured in Japan occurred off the northeast coast. It triggered a tsunami with a wall of water 128 feet high. The tsunami damaged the nuclear power plant in Fukushima, triggering the nightmare scenario: a nuclear meltdown. For six days, employees at the plant worked to contain the meltdown, and disaster workers scoured the surrounding flooded area for survivors. This book examines the science behind such a massive disaster and looks back at the people who experienced an unprecedented trifecta of destruction. Rea's Far Eastern Manual ..., 1923 User's Manual to the International Annual Reports Collection, 1988

Learning and Instruction National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Strategic Education Research Partnership, Panel on Learning and Instruction, 2004-01-04 The Strategic Education Research Partnership SERP is a bold, ambitious plan that proposes a revolutionary program of education research and development. Its purpose is to construct a powerful knowledge base derived from both research and practice that will support the efforts of teachers, school administrators, colleges of education, and policy officials with the ultimate goal of significantly improving student learning. The proposals in this book have the potential to substantially improve the knowledge base that supports teaching and learning by pursuing answers to questions at the core of teaching practices. It calls for the linking of research and development, including instructional programs, assessment tools, teacher education programs, and materials. Best of all, the book provides a solid framework for a program of research and development that will be genuinely useful to classroom teachers. Japan Company Handbook, 1985 ABC-Clio Online User Manual Jessica S. This new book demystifies this simple yet sophisticated programming tool in an easy-to-understand tutorial format and presents a comprehensive how-to of parametric programming from a user's point of view. Focusing on three of the most popular versions of parametric programming: Fanuc's custom macro B, Okuma's user task 2, and Fadal's macro, the book describes what parametric programming is, what it can do, and how it does it more efficiently than manual programming. Along with a host of program-simplifying techniques included in the book, you're treated to descriptions of how to write, set up, and run general subprograms, simulate the addition of control options, and integrate higher-level programming capabilities at G-code level. An Investigation of Labor Flexibility in Cellular Manufacturing Systems Viviana I. Flexible Automation in Japan J. Hartley,2013-04-09 Much has been said and written about Japan s manufacturing prowess Most of the comment comes from people who are merely visitors to the country and can be best c lassified as observers looking in from the outside Other views come from the Japanese themselves in which the double barrier of culture and language filters out much information that would be of real value to Western industrialists Neither of these limitations apply to John Hartley who has been resident in Japan for the past five years He understands the culture can speak the language and has extensive contacts at the highest level Therefore he is in a unique position to report on the Japanese scene and its activities in advanced manufacturing technology This he has been doing on a regular basis to IFS magazines The Industrial Robot Assembly Automation Sensor Review and The FMS Magazine Most of the material in this book is from John Hartley s pen and represents his most significant contributions on flexible automation in Japan to these journals over the last three years It is augmented with a few other articles written by leading authorities on new technology in Japanese manufacturing industry Manufacturing Technology Transfer Yasuo Yamane,Tom Childs,2018-10-08 Based on a bestselling book originally published in Japanese Manufacturing Technology Transfer A Japanese Monozukuri View of Needs and Strategies offers time tested methods and little known tips for achieving successful transfer of technology along with the skills required to operate that technology Designed to support a series of lectures on technology transfer within a master s course on the management of technology it presents the results of years of research carried out at Hiroshima University The book delves into the authors decades of experience transferring technology between Japan and the rest of the world particularly to developing countries from where much of the world s future economic growth is expected It contains case studies of successful technology transfers from both the ship building and food equipment industries Its wide reaching coverage examines methods of skill transfer production management and manufacturing company classification Introducing readers to the engineering activities that occur within the manufacturing industry the book illustrates the engineering technology activities involved in manufacturing along with the production management activities required to support them It also explains how job simulators can help shorten learning times in the manufacturing industry in the same way that flight simulators are used to teach flying skills to pilots The book outlines a framework for teaching and learning processes that can be visualized in terms of an S shaped learning curve It explains how technology transfer overseas should be supported by contractual agreements between the parties concerned Detailing the legal contractual responsibilities for all parties involved it also describes what you should do if problems arise during the transfer Integrating previously unpublished research results with illustrative case studies this book is suitable for a wide audience within the manufacturing industry including manufacturing engineering students in both developed and developing countries those responsible for the development of manufacturing engineers in industry and elsewhere and anyone interested in the international activities of Japanese manufacturing companies     Shurei No Hikari ,1969     In-Process Measurement and Control Stephan D.

Patent and Trademark Office,2000     Meltdown Yoichi Funabashi,2021-03-02 The human drama and long term lessons of the Fukushima nuclear disaster The Fukushima nuclear disaster in March 2011 presented an enormous challenge even to Japan one of the world s most advanced and organized countries Failures at all levels of both the government and the private sector worsened the human and economic impact of the disaster and ensured that the consequences would continue for many years to come Based on interviews with more than 300 government officials power plant operators and military personnel during the years since the disaster Meltdown is a meticulous recounting and analysis of the human stories behind the response to the Fukushima disaster While the people battling to deal with the crisis at the site of the power plant were risking their lives the government at the highest levels in Tokyo was in disarray and the utility company that operated the plants seemed focused more on power struggles with the government than on dealing with the crisis The author one of Japan s most eminent journalists provides an unrivaled chronological account of the immediate two weeks of human struggle to contain man made technology that was overwhelmed by nature Yoichi Funabashi gives insights into why Japan s decisionmaking process failed almost as dramatically as had the Fukushima nuclear reactors which went into meltdown following a major tsunami Funabashi uses the Fukushima experience to draw lessons on leadership governance disaster resilience and crisis management lessons that have universal application and pertinence for an increasingly technology driven and interconnected global society     AMTIL the Source Peter Lambeck,2009 Journal dates 2008 2009 Annual 2008
