Automotive FDI in Emerging Europe A. J. Jacobs, 2017-06-19 This book examines the dramatic increase in automotive assembly plants in the former Socialist Central European CE nations of Czechia East Germany Hungary Poland and Slovakia from 1989 onwards Enticed by relatively lower wage labour and significant government incentives the world's largest automakers have launched more than 20 passenger car assembly complexes in CE nations with production accelerating dramatically since 2001 As a result the annual passenger car production in Western Europe declined by more than 20% between 2001 and 2015 and alternatively in the CEE it increased by nearly 170% during this period Drawing on case studies of 25 current and former foreign run assembly plants the author presents a rare historical account of automotive foreign assembly plants in the CE following this dramatic geographic shift This book will expand the knowledge of policy makers in Europe in relation to their pursuits of FDI and will be of great interest to scholars and students of business economic history political science and development

Domański,Grzegorz Micek,Robert Guzik,Krzysztof Gwosdz,Arkadiusz Kocaj,2024-08-29 The book provides a picture of the increasing significance of Central Europe and especially Poland in global production networks discussing the underlying economic social and political factors The key question it answers is to what extent the growth of production and exports results in industrial upgrading towards the manufacturing of more sophisticated high value added products new technologies and the development of non production functions especially design and advanced service capabilities The book shows that Central European manufacturing no longer exhibits the typical features of production activities in the periphery in particular low density and diversity low productivity narrow specialisation in low value added activities and poor local linkages hence limited local value creation and value capture There is still dependence on foreign controlled enterprises in several sectors and limited product innovation which remains a major weakness Further the book assesses the social consequences of the ongoing development of manufacturing capabilities in Poland and its impact on employment conditions including the quality of jobs and level of wages The authors provide insight into relationships between globalisation processes place specific attributes and current economic policies and as such the book will be of interest to academics policy makers and other stakeholders interested in both peripheral economies and core countries and representing various international organisations dealing with economic transition and development Computational Science and Its Applications – ICCSA 2023 Workshops
