Clement, Leyli Jamali, 2015-07-30 This volume visits death in children's literature from around the world making a substantial contribution to the dialogue between the expanding fields of Childhood Studies Children's Literature and Death Studies Considering both textual and pictorial representations of death contributors focus on the topic of death in children's literature as a physical reality a philosophical concept a psychologically challenging adjustment and or a social construct Essays covering literature from the US Mexico El Salvador Guatemala Canada the UK Sweden Germany Poland Bulgaria Brazil Czechoslovakia the Soviet Union India and Iran display a diverse range of theoretical and cultural perspectives Carefully organized sections interrogate how classic texts have been adapted for the twenty first century how death has been politicized ritualized or metaphorized and visual strategies for representing death and how death has been represented within the context of play Asking how different cultures present the concept of death to children this volume is the first to bring together a global range of perspective on death in children's literature and will be a valuable contribution to an array of disciplines Communication, Translation, and Community in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Period Albrecht Classen, 2022-08-22 Literature serves many purposes and one of them certainly proves to be to convey messages wisdom and instruction and this across languages religions and cultures Beyond that as the contributors to this volume underscore people have always endeavored to reach out to their community members that is to build community to learn from each other and to teach Hence this volume explores the meaning of communication translation and community building based on the medium of language While all these aspects have already been discussed in many different venues the contributors endeavor to explore a host of heretofore less considered historical religious literary political and linguistic sources While the dominant focus tends to rest on conflicts hostility and animosity in the pre modern age here the emphasis rests on communication with its myriad of challenges and potentials for establishing a community As the various studies illustrate a close reading of communicative issues opens
