We are the Champions: The Politics of Sports and Popular Music Ken McLeod,2016-02-11 Sports and popular music are synergistic agents in the construction of identity and community They are often interconnected through common cross marketing tactics and through influence on each other s performative strategies and stylistic content Typically only studied as separate entities popular music and sport cultures mutually play off each other in exchanges of style ideologies and forms Posing unique challenges to notions of mind body dualities nationalism class gender and racial codes and sexual orientation Dr Ken McLeod illuminates the paradoxical and often conflicting relationships associated with these modes of leisure and entertainment and demonstrates that they are not culturally or ideologically distinct but are interconnected modes of contemporary social practice Examples include how music is used to enhance sporting events such as anthems chants cheers and intermission entertainment music that is used as an active part of the athletic event and music that has been written about or that is associated with sports There are also connections in the use of music in sports movies television and video games and important though critically under acknowledged similarities regarding spectatorship practice and performance Despite the scope of such confluences the extraordinary impact of the interrelationship of music and sports on popular culture has remained little recognized McLeod ties together several influential threads of popular culture and fills a significant void in our understanding of the construction and communication of identity in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries

Representing Jazz Krin Gabbard, 1995 Traditional jazz studies have tended to see jazz in purely musical terms as a series of changes in rhythm tonality and harmony or as a parade of great players But jazz has also entered the cultural mix through its significant impact on novelists filmmakers dancers painters biographers and photographers Representing Jazz explores the other history of jazz created by these artists a history that tells us as much about the meaning of the music as do the many books that narrate the lives of musicians or describe their recordings Krin Gabbard has gathered essays by distinguished writers from a variety of fields They provide engaging analyses of films such as Round Midnight Bird Mo Better Blues Cabin in the Sky and Jammin the Blues the writings of Eudora Welty and Dorothy Baker the careers of the great lindy hoppers of the 1930s and 1940s Mura Dehn s extraordinary documentary on jazz dance the jazz photography of William Claxton painters of the New York School the traditions of jazz autobiography and the art of vocalese The contributors to this volume assess the influence of extramusical sources on our knowledge of jazz and suggest that the living contexts of the music must be considered if a more sophisticated jazz scholarship is ever to evolve Transcending the familiar patterns of jazz history and criticism Representing Jazz looks at how the music actually has been heard and felt at different levels of American culture With its companion anthology Jazz Among the Discourses this volume will enrich and transform the literature of jazz studies Its provocative essays will interest both aficionados and potential jazz fans Contributors Karen Backstein Leland H Chambers Robert P Crease Krin Gabbard Frederick Garber Barry K Grant Mona Hadler Christopher Harlos Michael Jarrett Adam Knee Arthur Knight James Naremore
