Language in Public Spaces in Japan Nanette Gottlieb, 2014-06-11 This book throws light on ideologies practices and sociocultural developments currently shaping language use in Japan by departing from the more common investigation of language in private contexts and examining aspects of the language found in a range of significant public spaces from the material an international airport the streets of Tokyo the JSL classroom in Japan and courtrooms to the electronic television dramas local government web pages and cyberspace Through its study of the language encountered in such settings the volume provides a deeper understanding of multifaceted aspects of linguistic diversity both in terms of the use of languages other than Japanese and of issues relating to the Japanese language itself The variety of theoretical approaches brought to bear by contributing authors ensures a substantial intellectual contribution to the literature on language in contemporary Japan This book was published as a special issue of Japanese Studies

Bridging Transcultural Divides Xianlin Song, Kate Cadman, 2012 The impressive and stimulating essays in Bridging Transcultural Divides deal with the cultural and educational issues in the Australian context The books central message is that education for Asian students in Australia and more broadly in the West can no longer been seen as a one way transfer of knowledge but must be understood as a process of reciprocal learning in which both teachers and students are changed by the experience Prof Tim Wright University of Sheffield

Teaching and Learning Language: Current Trends and Practices (Penerbit USM) Ambigapathy Pandian, Sunny Tan Siew Bek, Shaik Abdul Malik Mohamed Ismail, 2014-11-25 This book represents a collection of papers that relate to the challenges and problems posed by the ever changing and diversified nature of today s classroom The papers discuss and demonstrate methodologies and learning strategies and in the process recommend effective practices that are practical and open to adaptation for different teaching and learning contexts They range from suggestions on how to exploit information technology resources to individual or specific case studies These case studies report on a variety of contextual issues and problems that are specified to particular learning contexts This book therefore thus not only offers examples of tried and tested teaching strategies but also offers useful insights into specific sociocultural problems that are experienced by learners as well as teachers and interested stakeholders in particular settings and countries The papers offer a comprehensive documentation of past as well as present problems faced by teachers policy makers and students and discuss ways and strategies of overcoming such problems such that the teaching and learning process is not only enhanced but made more meaningful and fulfilling to both teachers and learners The inherently global perspective of the papers in this book makes it an enriching compendium

Pragmatic Competence Naoko Taguchi, 2009 In the disciplines of applied linguistics and second language acquisition SLA the study of pragmatic competence has been driven by several fundamental questions such as What does it mean to become pragmatically competent in a second language L2 This book explores these key issues in Japanese as a second foreign language
