Monologues In the House of Fun Mirrors Harold James Sachwald, 2023-08-15 This book of poems is best enjoyed with a cup of tea a favorite scented candle and several flowers in water which will aid the journey toward nine mediative messages at the end Are these lessons that will solve the dilemmas of the speakers Conceptions that everyone must submerge themselves inside Mediative experiences for survival The poetry in Monologues In the House of Fun Mirrors develops through a design of multiple meanings all of which dive deeply into the disposition emotional state and personality of each speaker The prelude announces the mood of the Dream Circle It's an environmental pathway revealing the endless options in life Much like the maze of mirrors in a funhouse carnival fair or amusement boardwalk the reader will soon discover the journey we travel in life does not reflect so many illusionary appearances but rather ones of cause and effect The subject matter and narrators in the Concave World and the Convex Realm show one commonality an analysis of psychological moments in the human mind But that's where it all ends What further takes place is left for unearthing by the reader Each dramatic monologue epitomizes indescribable experiences and word pictures to portray meaning and insight about ways of behaving passions connected to desires sensations linked to rages visions of innocence and experience and psychosocial influences tied to obsessions The poems in the Concave World function as a map for a networking journey into a complicated world of distortions similar to the curved interior images in a house of fun mirrors Once entered the innocent fun evolves into confusion where everyone must come face to face with their surrealistic selves The heightened stream of consciousness voices in the Convex Realm exhibit human beings on the verge of frightful remembrance and forgetfulness where they're attempting to seek some type of closure while at the same time they're unaware of the voyages of their unconscious minds not formed by personal encounters in their real environments

Exile as an Educative Engagement Parmis Aslanimehr, 2025-06-30 This book explores the concept of exile experienced not as a physical displacement but as a subjective experience of disconnection from the Other It further clarifies the notion of exilic subjectivity whereby a hidden facet of the self ineffable both to the Other and to the Self causes a distance between self comprehension and external perception In doing so it poses a challenge to recognition theory's assertion that self understanding occurs through interactions with Others Engaging with the writings of Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel Charles Taylor Axel Honneth Søren Kierkegaard and Rumi the book explores the difficulties individuals encounter when transitioning their inwardly focused private identities into public spaces such as educational institutions It emphasizes the critical role educators can play in cultivating an atmosphere of attentive listening attuned to the unique experiences that may exile the self Through the complex interplay of writings by thinkers such as Hegel Kierkegaard Rumi Taylor and Pinar this work transcends traditional theories of recognition Rather than resolving misrecognition it embraces it as a central aspect of the human condition examining the tension between self perception and external acknowledgement The text phenomenologically investigates seeing the Other and the risk of misrecognizing an individual s innermost depths These insights find resonance in academia where even amid success a chasm may persist isolating students and educators from each other As the self dwells in the uneasiness of estrangement the discussion welcomes the ownership of silence and inwardness into the classroom From this detached perspective the possibility of recognizing the convergence of familiarity and strangeness before and within oneself may emerge This book is tailored for scholars educators and readers interested in the intersections of philosophy education and lived experience It offers readers innovative approaches to understanding exile and recognition fostering deeper engagement with the complexities of identity alienation and the self Mirroring the

Derek Jarman and Lyric Film Steven Dillon, 2004-04-01 Derek Jarman was the most important independent filmmaker in England during the 1980s. Using emblems and symbols in associative contexts rather than conventional cause and effect narrative, he created films noteworthy for their lyricism and poetic feeling and for their exploration of the gay experience. His style of filmmaking also links Jarman with other prominent directors of lyric film including Pier Paolo Pasolini, Andrei Tarkovsky, Jean Cocteau, and Jean Genet. This pathfinding book places Derek Jarman in the tradition of lyric film and offers incisive readings of all eleven of his feature length films from Sebastiane to Blue. Steven Dillon looks at Jarman and other directors working in a similar vein to establish how lyric films are composed through the use of visual imagery and actual poetry. He then traces Jarman's use of imagery, notably mirrors and the sea, in his films and discusses in detail the relationship between cinematic representations and sexual identity. This insightful reading of Jarman's work helps us better understand how films such as The Last of England and The Garden can be said to cohere and mean without being reduced to clear messages. Above all, Dillon's book reveals how truly beautiful and brilliant Jarman's movies are.

Absolute Monologues Alison Reid, Simon Reade, 1994 The Awkward Spaces of Fathering Stuart C. Aitken, 2016-03-23 Societal notions of fathers have evolved from the distant breadwinner through genial dad and masculine role model to today's equal co-parent. This book seeks to explore the spaces and movements of men as fathers. Weaving together theories of space, sexuality, and political identity with the stories of fathers from a range of sources including popular culture, it discusses the way in which geographies of space can disconnect and disempower fathers while societal notions marginalize and disassociate them from raising children. It explores how fathering identities are shaped by family and community spaces and aims to move the definition of fathering beyond its definition in opposition to mothering. In doing so, it provides insights into the contradictory nature of father's lives and argues that rather than moving away from the traditional notions of masculine roles that the emotional work of fathering in itself is an heroic act Acting: The First Six Lessons
