Perspectives On Human Animal Communication Internatural Communication:

Perspectives on Human-animal Communication Emily Plec, 2013 Despite its inherent interdisciplinarity the Communication discipline has remained an almost entirely anthropocentric enterprise This book represents early and prominent forays into the subject of human animal communication from a Communication Studies perspective an effort that brings a discipline too long defined by that fallacy of division human or nonhuman into conversation with animal studies biosemiotics and environmental communication as well as other recent intellectual and activist movements for reconceptualizing relationships and interactions in the biosphere This book is a much needed point of entry for future scholarship on animal human communication as well as the whole range of communication possibilities among the more than human world It offers a groundbreaking transformation of higher education by charting new directions for communication research policy formation and personal and professional practices involving animals

The Sensory Modes of Animal Rhetorics Alex C. Parrish, 2021-07-14 The Sensory Modes of Animal Rhetorics A Hoot in the Light presents the latest research in animal perception and cognition in the context of rhetorical theory Alex C Parrish explores the science of animal signaling that shows human and nonhuman animals share similar rhetorical strategies such as communicating to manipulate or persuade which suggests the vast impact sensory modalities have on communication in nature The book demonstrates new ways of seeing humans and how we have separated ourselves from and subjectified the animal rhetor This type of cross species study allows us to trace the origins of our own persuasive behaviors providing a deeper and more inclusive history of rhetoric than ever before

Communicating in the Anthropocene C. Vail Fletcher, Alexa M. Dare, 2021-02-04 The purpose of Communicating in the Anthropocene Intimate Relations is to tell a different story about the world Humans especially those raised in Western traditions have long told stories about themselves as individual protagonists who act with varying degrees of free will against a background of mute supporting characters and inert landscapes Humans can be either saviors or destroyers but our actions are explained and judged again and again as emanating from the individual And yet as the coronavirus pandemic has made clear humans are unavoidably interconnected not only with other humans but with nonhuman and more than human others with whom we share space and time Why do so many of us humans avoid deny or resist a view of the world where our lives are made possible maybe even made richer through connection In this volume we suggest a view of communication as intimacy We use this concept as a provocation for thinking about how we humans are in an always already state of being in relation with other humans nonhumans and the land

Rhetorical Animals Kristian Bjørkdahl, Alex C. Parrish, 2017-11-30 For this edited volume the editors solicited chapters that investigate the place of nonhuman animals in the purview of rhetorical theory what it would mean to communicate beyond the human community how rhetoric reveals our brute roots In other words this book investigates themes that enlighten us about likely or possible implications of the animal turn within rhetorical studies The present book is unique in its focus on the call for nonanthropocentrism in rhetorical studies Although there have been many hints in recent years that rhetoric is beginning to consider the implications of the animal turn as yet no other anthology makes this its explicit starting point and sustained objective Thus the various contributions to this book promise to further the ongoing debate about what rhetoric might be after it sheds its long standing humanistic bias

A Research Agenda for Animal Geographies Alice Hovorka, Sandra McCubbin, Lauren Van Patter, 2021-06-25 Exploring the innovative and thriving field of animal geographies this Research Agenda analyses how humans think about place and engage with animals Chapters explore how animals shape human identities and social dynamics as well as how broader processes influence the circumstances and experiences of animals

Another End of the World is Possible Pablo Servigne, Raphaël Stevens, Gauthier Chapelle, 2020-11-18 The critical situation in which our planet finds itself is no longer in doubt Some things are already collapsing while others are beginning to do so increasing the possibility of a global catastrophe that would mean the end of the world as we know it As individuals we are faced with a daily deluge of bad news about the worsening situation preparing ourselves to live with years of deep uncertainty about the future of the planet and the species that inhabit it including our own How can we cope How can we project ourselves beyond the present think bigger and find ways not just to survive the collapse but to live it In this book the sequel to How Everything Can Collapse the authors show that a change of course necessarily requires an inner journey and a radical rethinking of our vision of the world Together these might enable us to remain standing during the coming storm to develop a new awareness of ourselves and of the world and to imagine new ways of living in it Perhaps then it will be possible to regenerate life from the ruins creating new alliances in differing directions with ourselves and our inner nature between humans with other living beings and with the earth on which we dwell

Listening for Democracy Andrew Dobson, 2014 This book examines the reasons why so little attention has been paid to the listening aspect of democratic conversation explores the role that listening might play in democracy and outlines some institutional changes that could be made to make listening more central to democratic processes

Sporting Realities Samantha N. Sheppard, Travis Vogan, 2020-09 Despite the increasing number of popular and celebrated sports documentaries in contemporary culture such as ESPN's 30 for 30 series there has been little scholarly engagement with this genre Sports documentaries like all films do not merely showcase objective reality but rather construct specific versions of sporting culture that serve distinct economic industrial institutional historical and sociopolitical ends ripe for criticism contextualization and exploration Sporting Realities brings together a diverse group of scholars to probe the sports documentary's cultural meanings aesthetic practices industrial and commercial dimensions and political contours across historical social medium specific and geographic contexts It considers and critiques the sports documentary's visible and powerful position in contemporary culture and forges novel connections between the study of nonfiction media and sport

environmentalist and the first African woman to receive the Nobel Prize for Peace Dr Maathai was a gifted orator who crafted messages that imagined new possibilities for human agency and social justice and who inspired action to protect our natural habitats This collection explores the various strategies Maathai employed in her speeches to create memorable images and arguments for audiences in Kenya and around the world Specifically authors examine Maathai's use of storytelling her creative use of metaphor and local cultural knowledge and her use of sharp social political analysis Authors approach Maathai's rhetoric from both African and Western ways of knowing Edinburgh Companion to Children's Literature Clementine Beauvais, 2018-02-16 Introduces you to the promises and problems of Charles Taylor's thought in major contemporary debates Ambivalent Activism Akwugo Emejulu, Marlies Kustatscher, Callum McGregor, 2025-09-18 What if doubt hesitation and ambivalence weren't barriers to activism but powerful tools for change Challenging the idea that activism is fuelled only by anger or hope this bold collection explores how activists across anti racism climate justice and mental health navigate uncertainty to sustain their work Blending scholarship with on the ground perspectives this book highlights ambivalence not as a weakness but as a dynamic force This is essential reading for anyone engaged in activism or emotional research redefining what it means to feel and act for justice in a complex world Human-Animal Relationships in Times of Pandemic and Climate Crisis Josephine Browne, Zoe Sutton, 2024-09-02 This book situates sociological research as a vital tool for understanding and responding to the multispecies entanglements that cause harm and arise from states of crisis involving the environment climate and zoonotic disease transmission Considering the consequences of a range of multispecies engagements that challenge the perceived distinction between the social worlds of humans and other animals it explores the themes of crisis through a range of studies including ecological disturbance consumer culture intensive farming and interspecies relations in urban life With attention to central questions about life in the now normal including the extent to which a human animal perspective can contribute to our understanding of pandemics the ideological foundations of mainstream norms for human animal relations and the scope of current and emerging social movements for reshaping human animal relations this volume represents a timely and important call for a sociological vision to embrace the implications of a multispecies planet and to expand the concepts of inclusion and justice A reconsideration of the human animal relation that seeks both to revise sociology's past and inform its future Human Animal Relationships in Times of Pandemic and Climate Crises will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in human animal relations and the environment

Critical Approaches to Climate Change and Civic Action Anabela Carvalho, Julie Doyle, Chris Russill, 2021-09-10

Rhetorics of Names and Naming Star Medzerian Vanguri, 2016-01-29 This volume takes up rhetorical approaches to our primarily linguistic understanding of how names work considering how theories of materiality in rhetoric enrich conceptions of the name as word or symbol and help explain the processes of name bestowal accumulation loss and theft Contributors theorize the formation modification and recontextualization of names as a result of technological and cultural change and consider the ways in which naming influences identity and affects grants power Software Evangelism and the Rhetoric of Morality Jennifer Helene Maher, 2015-08-27 Examining the layers of meaning encoded in software and the rhetoric surrounding it this book offers a much needed perspective on the intersections between software morality and politics In software development culture evangelism typically denotes a rhetorical practice that aims to convert software developers as well as non technical lay users from one platform to another e g from the operating system Microsoft Windows to Linux This book argues that software evangelism like its religious counterpart must also be understood as constructing moral and political values that extend well beyond the boundaries of the development culture Unlike previous studies that locate such values in the effects of code in use or in certain types of code like free and open source FOSS software Maher argues that all code is meaningful beyond its technical executable functions To facilitate this analysis this study builds a theory of evangelism and illustrates this theory at work in the proprietary software industry and FOSS communities As an example of political liberalism at work at the level of code these evangelical rhetorics of software construct competing conceptions of what is good that fall within a shared belief in what is just Maher illustrates how these beliefs in goodness and justice do not always execute in replicable ways as the different ways of decoding software evangelisms in the contexts of Brazil and China reveal Demonstrating how software evangelisms exert a transformative force on the world one comparable in significance to code itself this book highlights the importance of rhetoric in even the most seemingly a rhetorical of technical endeavors and foregrounds the crucial need for rhetorical literacy in the digital age Mapping Christian Rhetorics Michael-John

DePalma, Jeffrey M. Ringer, 2014-10-10 The continued importance of Christian rhetorics in political social pedagogical and civic affairs suggests that such rhetorics not only belong on the map of rhetorical studies but are indeed essential to the geography of rhetorical studies in the twenty first century This collection argues that concerning ourselves with religious rhetorics in general and Christian rhetorics in particular tells us something about rhetoric itself its boundaries its characteristics its functionings In assembling original research on the intersections of rhetoric and Christianity from prominent and emerging scholars Mapping Christian Rhetorics seeks to locate religion more centrally within the geography of rhetorical studies in the twenty first century It does so by acknowledging work on Christian rhetorics that has been overlooked or ignored connecting domains of knowledge and research areas pertaining to Christian rhetorics that may remain disconnected or under connected and charting new avenues of inquiry about Christian rhetorics that might invigorate theory building teaching research and civic engagement In dividing the terrain of Christian rhetorics into four categories theory education methodology and civic engagement Mapping Christian Rhetorics aims to foster connections among these areas of inquiry and spur future future collaboration between scholars of religious rhetoric in a range of research areas

Rhetoric and Ethics in the Cybernetic Age Jeff Pruchnic, 2013-08-15 It has become increasingly difficult to ignore the ways that the centrality of new media and technologies from the global networking of information systems and social media to new possibilities for altering human genetics seem to make obsolete our traditional ways of thinking about ethics and persuasive communication inherited from earlier humanist paradigms This book argues that rather than devoting our critical energies towards critiquing humanist touchstones we should instead examine the ways in which media and technologies have always worked as crucial cultural forces in shaping ethics and rhetoric Pruchnic combines this historical itinerary with critical interrogations of diverse cultural and technological sites the logic of video games and artificial intelligence the ethics of life extension in contemporary medicine the transition to computer automated trading in world stock markets the state of critical theory in the contemporary humanities along with innovative analyses of the works of such figures as the Greek Sophists Kenneth Burke Martin Heidegger Michel Foucault Friedrich Nietzsche and Gilles Deleuze This book argues that our best strategies for crafting persuasive communication and producing ethical relations between individuals will be those that creatively replicate and appropriate rather than resist the logics of dominant forms of media and technology

Environmental Rhetoric and Ecologies of Place Peter N. Goggin, 2013-07-18 Understanding how rhetoric and environmental rhetoric in particular informs and is informed by local and global ecologies contributes to our conversations about sustainability and resilience the preservation and conservation of the earth and the future of human society This book explores some of the complex relationships collaborations compromises and contradictions between human endeavor and situated discourses identities and landscapes social justice and natural resources movement and geographies unpacking and grappling with the complexities of rhetoric of presence Making a significant contribution to exploring the complex discursive constructions of environmental rhetorics and place based rhetorics this collection considers discourses actions and adaptations concerning environmental regulations and development sustainability exploitation and conservation of energy resources Essays visit arguments on cultural values social justice environmental advocacy and identity as political constructions of rhetorical place and space Rural and urban case studies contribute to discussions of the ethics and identities of environment and the rhetorics of environmental cartography and glocalization Contributors represent a range of specialization across a variety of scholarly research in such fields as communication studies rhetorical theory social cultural geography technical professional communication cartography anthropology linguistics comparative literature ecocriticism literacy studies digital rhetoric media studies and discourse analysis Thus this book goes beyond the assumption that rhetorics are situated and challenges us to consider not only how and why they are situated but what we mean when we theorize notions of situated place based rhetorics

Authorship Contested Amy E. Robillard, Ron Fortune, 2015-06-12 This volume explores a dimension of authorship not given its due in the critical discourse to this point authorship contested Much of the existing critical literature begins with a text and the proposition that the text has an author The debates move from here to questions about who the author is whether or not the author's identity is even relevant and what relationship she or he does and does not have to the text The authors contributing to this collection however ask about circumstances surrounding efforts to prevent authors from even being allowed to have these questions asked of them from even being identified as authors They ask about the political cultural economic and social circumstances that motivate a prospective audience to resist an author s efforts to have a text published read and discussed Particularly noteworthy is the range of everyday rhetorical situations in which contesting authorship occurs from the production of a corporate document to the publication of fan fiction Each chapter also focuses on particular instances in which authorship has been contested demonstrating how theories about various forms of contested authorship play out in a range of events from the complex issues surrounding peer review to authorship in the age of intelligent machines

Pedagogies of Public Memory Jane Greer, Laurie Grobman, 2015-06-12 Pedagogies of Public Memory explores opportunities for writing and rhetorical education at museums archives and memorials Readers will follow students working and writing at well known sites of international interest e g the Flight 93 National Memorial in Shanksville Pennsylvania and the U S Holocaust Memorial Museum at local sites e g vernacular memorials in and around Muncie Indiana and the Central Pennsylvania African American Museum in Reading Pennsylvania and in digital spaces e g Florida State University s Postcard Archive and The Women s Archive Project at the University of Nebraska Omaha From composing and delivering museum tours to designing online memorials that challenge traditional practices of public grief to producing and publishing a magazine containing the photographs and stories of individuals who lived through historic moments in the Freedom Struggle to expanding and creating new public archives the pedagogical projects described in this volume create richly textured learning opportunities for students at all levels from first year writers to graduate students The students and faculty whose work is represented in this volume undertake to reposition the past in the present and to imagine possible new futures for themselves and their communities By exploring the production of public memory this volume raises important new questions about the intersection of rhetoric and remembrance
