Might Nature Be Canadian? William A. Macdonald, 2020-03-05 Mutual accommodation is about co-operation, compromise and inclusion. It's a big idea, equal to freedom, science and compassion. The postwar global economic order led by the United States is one of the greatest historic achievements of mutual accommodation, yet it is now at risk from the centrifugal forces that have led to populism. Today, to many nations and people, Canada is the model country driven by successful mutual accommodation. In Might Nature Be Canadian, William Macdonald explores the theme of mutual accommodation with a close lens on the Canadian experience. Canada has a drive toward mutual accommodation; the United States has a strong drive toward division. There has always been a divergence of ideologies between the two countries. The United States now appears to view the world as a never-ending struggle which has become greater since 2000, between good and evil, while Canada, by contrast, leans toward the idea that there is an underlying order at the heart of things. Canada has always faced strong limits in creatively overcoming a challenging geography and French-English language differences within its own borders; on the other hand, the United States sees itself as a country with virtually no limits. Throughout its history, Canada's drive toward mutual accommodation, stronger than that of any other country, has allowed its increasingly diverse citizens to live together peacefully and successfully, even as they retain their own culture, language and religion. Nature can be described as simultaneously either/or and both/and. Is there something fundamentally Canadian about this? Taking inspiration from British philosopher Alfred North Whitehead, who said that civilization is the triumph of persuasion over force, Macdonald argues that the urgent spread of mutual accommodation, a charge led by Canada, is central to achieving a bearable world for everyone.

The Good Body Bill Gaston, 2010-04-10 The Good Body is a triumphant blend of mordant humour and heartbreak. It tells the comic and poignant story of a retired pro hockey ruffian named Bobby Bonaduce who is stubbornly ignoring a disease, multiple sclerosis, that may be killing him. Bobby returns to his hometown and scams his way into university in a misguided attempt to redeem his messy past and lay emotional claim to a son he abandoned twenty years earlier. With this terrific novel, Bill Gaston demonstrates yet again that he is a writer of great empathy, capable of getting beneath the skin of anybody. 2002 Giller Prize jury

Newscan, 1992 Troubling Truth and Reconciliation in Canadian Education Sandra D. Styres, Arlo Kempf, 2022-09-07 Troubling Truth and Reconciliation in Canadian Education offers a series of critical perspectives concerning reconciliation and reconciliatory efforts between Canadian and Indigenous peoples Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars address both theoretical and practical aspects of troubling reconciliation in education across various contexts with significant diversity of thought approach and socio political location Throughout the work challenges mainstream reconciliation discourses This timely unflinching analysis will be invaluable to scholars and students of Indigenous studies sociology and education Foreword by Jan Hare Contributors Daniela Bascuñán Jennifer Brant Liza Brechbill Shawna Carroll Frank Deer George J Sefa Dei Nana Adusei Sefa Tweneboah Lucy El Sherif Rachel yacaa a George Ruth Green Celia Haig Brown Arlo Kempf Jeannie Kerr David Newhouse Amy Parent Michelle Pidgeon Robin Quantick Jean Paul Restoule Toby Rollo Mark Sinke Sandra D Styres Lynne Wiltse Dawn Zinga Off the Record Peter Mansbridge, 2021-10-05 INSTANT 1 NATIONAL BESTSELLER Peter Mansbridge invites us to walk the beat with him in this entertaining and revealing look into his life and career from his early broadcasting days in the remote northern Manitoba community of Churchill to the fast paced news desk of CBC's flagship show The National where he reported on stories from around the world Today Peter Mansbridge is often recognized for his distinctive deep voice which calmly delivered the news for over fifty years But ironically he never considered becoming a broadcaster In some ways though Peter was prepared for a life as a newscaster from an early age Every night around the dinner table his family would debate the news of the day from Cold War scandals and Vietnam to Elvis Presley and the Beatles So in 1968 when by chance a CBC radio manager in Churchill Manitoba offered him a spot hosting the local late night music program Peter embraced the opportunity Without a teacher he tuned into broadcasts from across Canada the US and the UK to learn the basic skills of a journalist and he eventually parlayed his position into his first news job Less than twenty years later he became the chief correspondent and anchor of The National With humour and heart Peter shares never before told stories from his distinguished career including reporting on the fall of the Berlin Wall and the horror of 9 11 walking the beaches of Normandy with Tom Brokaw and talking with Canadian prime ministers from John Diefenbaker to Justin Trudeau But it's far from all serious Peter also writes about finding the cure for baldness in China and landing the role of Peter Moosebridge in Disney's Zootopia From the first and only time he was late to broadcast to his poignant interview with the late Gord Downie these are the moments that have stuck with him After years of interviewing others Peter turns the lens on himself and takes us behind the scenes of his life on the frontlines of journalism as he reflects on the toll of being in the spotlight the importance of diversity in the newsroom the role of the media then and now and the responsibilities we all bear as citizens in an increasingly global world Saturday Night, 1985
