Reconnecting Reading and Writing Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction

Arguments and Arguing Thomas A. Hollihan, Kevin T. Baaske, 2015-11-17 The latest edition of Arguments and Arguing contains the same balance of theory and practice breadth of coverage current and relevant examples and accessible writing style that made previous editions so popular in hundreds of classrooms The authors draw from classic and recent argumentation theory and research contextualized with well chosen examples to showcase a narrative style of argumentation and the values and attitudes of audiences Readers learn how to employ both formal and informal argumentative strategies in an array of communication forums from interpersonal interactions to academic debate to politics to business A newly added chapter on visual argumentation and a striking color photo insert demonstrate the value and power of visual elements in the construction of arguments The ability to argue is necessary if people are to solve problems resolve conflicts and evaluate alternative courses of action While many are taught that arguing is counterproductive and arguments should be avoided Hollihan and Baaske illustrate that arguing is an essential and fundamental human activity Learning the art of effective argumentation entails a grasp of not only the strategies and principles of analysis and logical reasoning but also the importance of arguing in a positive and socially constructive fashion

Perspectives on Scientific Argumentation Myint Swe Khine, 2011-09-30 Argumentation arriving at conclusions on a topic through a process of logical reasoning that includes debate and persuasion has in recent years emerged as a central topic of discussion among science educators and researchers There is now a firm and general belief that fostering argumentation in learning activities can develop students critical thinking and reasoning skills and that dialogic and collaborative inquiries are key precursors to an engagement in scientific argumentation It is also reckoned that argumentation helps students assimilate knowledge and generate complex meaning The consensus among educators is that involving students in scientific argumentation must play a critical role in the education process itself Recent analysis of research trends in science education indicates that argumentation is now the most prevalent research topic in the literature This book attempts to consolidate contemporary thinking and research on the role of scientific argumentation in education Perspectives on Scientific Argumentation brings together prominent scholars in the field to share the sum of their knowledge about the place of scientific argumentation in teaching and learning Chapters explore scientific argumentation as a means of addressing and solving problems in conceptual change reasoning knowledge building and the promotion of scientific literacy Others interrogate topics such as the importance of language discursive practice social interactions and culture in the classroom The material in this book which features intervention studies discourse analyses classroom based experiments anthropological observations and design based research will inform theoretical frameworks and changing pedagogical practices as well as encourage new avenues of research

Groundwork in the Theory of Argumentation J. Anthony Blair, 2011-10-20 J Anthony Blair is a prominent international figure in argumentation studies He is among the originators of informal logic an author of textbooks on the informal logic approach to argument analysis and evaluation and on critical thinking and a founder and editor of the journal Informal Logic Blair is widely recognized among the leaders in the field for contributing formative ideas to the argumentation literature of the last few decades This selection of key works provides insights into the history of the field of argumentation theory and various related disciplines It illuminates the central debates and presents core ideas in four main areas Critical Thinking Informal Logic Argument Theory and Logic Dialectic and Rhetoric

Argument Dialectics: The Place of Reasons in Logic Hubert Marraud, 2025-06-12 This book is a systematic exposition of Argument Dialectics AD Despite its name argument dialectics is a logical approach to argumentation theory AD stands out among theories of argument because of three unusual features it is reasons based holistic and particularistic This implies that AD conceives of logic as a theory of the dialectical construction of reasons not as a theory of inferences Consequently contrary to other logical approaches AD focuses on the study of inter argumentative relations especially those of opposition and weighing The book makes an extensive use of the theory of reasons a branch of metaethics that has been a very valuable quarry of intuitions and concepts for the elaboration of a reason based theory of argument The oppositions generalism particularism and atomism holism proposed by Jonathan Dancy which play a central role in the book and in the development of AD have been adapted from the theory of reasons and the same can be said of the distinction between different statuses of reasons that AD associates with different kinds of counterarguments Conceiving of the theory of argument in terms of reasons has the effect of situating the paradigm of argumentation in practical argumentation reasoning about what to do rather than in theoretical argumentation about what to believe as inference based theories do Hence this book is of interest to argumentation theorists communication theorists epistemologists linguists moral philosophers and philosophers of law

Conference proceedings. New perspectives in science education 7th edition Pixel, 2018-03-19

Reflections on Theoretical Issues in Argumentation Theory Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2015-08-08 This volume presents a selection of papers reflecting key theoretical issues in argumentation theory Its six sections are devoted to specific themes including the analysis and evaluation of argumentation argument schemes and the contextual embedding of argumentation The section on general perspectives on argumentation discusses the trends of empiricalization contextualization and formalization offers descriptions of the analytical and evaluative tools of informal logic and highlights selected principles that argumentation theorists do and do not agree upon In turn the section on linguistic approaches to argumentation focuses on the problem of distinguishing between explanation and argument while also elaborating on the role of verbal indicators of argument schemes All essays included in this volume point out notable recent developments in the study of argumentation

On Reasoning and Argument David Hitchcock, 2017-04-06 This book brings together in one place David Hitchcock's most significant published articles on reasoning and argument In seven new chapters he updates his thinking in the light of subsequent scholarship Collectively the papers articulate a distinctive position in the philosophy of argumentation Among other things the author develops an account of material consequence that permits evaluation of inferences without problematic postulation of unstated premises updates his recursive definition of argument that accommodates chaining and embedding of arguments and allows any type of illocutionary act to be a conclusion advances a general theory of relevance provides comprehensive frameworks for evaluating inferences in reasoning by analogy means end reasoning and appeals to considerations or criteria argues that none of the forms of arguing ad hominem is a fallacy describes proven methods of teaching critical thinking effectively

Passion in the Pulpit Jerry Vines, Adam B. Dooley, 2018-07-03 Biblical exegesis doesn't stop with the words alone Faithful preachers exegete the emotion of the text as well It's easy to let our own personalities dictate the emotional dimension of our sermons but the best preachers mirror the Bible's emotive intent in their sermons In Passion in the Pulpit Jerry Vines and Adam Dooley will teach you how to exegete not just the verbal content of Scripture but its emotional appeal as well They show you the role the Bible's emotional intent should play in each stage of sermon prep and Offer exegetical steps to discern the biblical pathos Teach you how to avoid manipulation while making your sermons emotional Help you determine the appropriate limitations of emotional appeal Give you verbal vocal and visual techniques to help convey the biblical emotional intent in your sermons When we elevate the Bible's emotional intent above our own we preach truth rather than personality

Evaluating the Language of Argument Martin Hinton, 2020-11-30 This book is concerned with the evaluation of natural argumentative discourse and in particular with the language in which arguments are expressed It introduces a systematic procedure for the analysis and assessment of arguments which is designed to be a practical tool and may be considered a pseudo algorithm for argument evaluation The first half of the book lays the theoretical groundwork with a thorough examination of both the nature of language and the nature of argument This leads to a definition of argumentation as reasoning expressed within a procedure which itself yields the three frames of analysis used in the evaluation procedure Process Reasoning and Expression The second half begins with a detailed discussion of the concept of fallacy with particular attention on fallacies of language their origin and their effects A new way of looking at fallacies emerges from these chapters and it is that conception together with the understanding of the nature of argumentation described in earlier sections which ultimately provides the support for the Comprehensive Assessment Procedure for Natural Argumentation The first two levels of this innovative procedure are outlined while the third that dealing with language and involving the development of an Informal Argument Semantics is fully described The use of the system and its power of analysis are illustrated through the evaluation of a variety of examples of argumentative texts

Systematic Approaches to Argument by Analogy Henrique Jales Ribeiro, 2014-07-09 The present volume assembles a relevant set of studies of argument by analogy which address this topic in a systematic fashion either from an essentially theoretical perspective or from the perspective of it being applied to different fields like politics linguistics literature law medicine science in general and philosophy All result from original research conducted by their authors for this publication Thus broadly speaking this is an exception which we find worthy of occupying a special place in the sphere of the bibliography on the argument by analogy In effect most of the contexts of the publications on this topic focus on specific areas for example everyday discourse science or law theory while underestimating or sometimes even ignoring other interdisciplinary scopes as is the case of literature medicine or philosophy The idiosyncrasy of this volume is that the reader and the researcher may follow the development of different theoretical outlooks on argument by analogy while measuring the scope of its greater or lesser application to the aforementioned areas as a whole

Media Argumentation Douglas Walton, 2007-09-24 Media argumentation is a powerful force in our lives From political speeches to television commercials to war propaganda it can effectively mobilize political action influence the public and market products This book presents a new and systematic way of thinking about the influence of mass media in our lives showing the intersection of media sources with argumentation theory informal logic computational theory and theories of persuasion Using a variety of case studies that represent arguments that typically occur in the mass media Douglas Walton demonstrates how tools recently developed in argumentation theory can be usefully applied to the identification analysis and evaluation of media arguments He draws upon the most recent developments in artificial intelligence including dialogical theories of argument which he developed as well as speech act theory Each chapter presents solutions to problems central to understanding analyzing and criticizing media argumentation

The Place of Emotion in Argument Douglas Walton, 2010-11-01

The Concept of Argument Harald R. Wohlrapp, 2014-06-26 Arguing that our attachment to Aristotelian modes of discourse makes a revision of their conceptual foundations long overdue the author proposes the consideration of unacknowledged factors that play a central role in argument itself These are in particular the subjective imprint and the dynamics of argumentation Their inclusion in a four dimensional framework subjective objective structural procedural and the focus on thesis validity allow for a more realistic view of our discourse practice Exhaustive analyses of fascinating historical and contemporary arguments are provided These range from Columbus's advocacy of the Western Passage to India over the trial of King Louis XVI during the French Revolution to today's highly charged controversies surrounding euthanasia and embryo research Excavating foundational issues such as the purpose of argument itself assent of an audience or critical examination of validity claims and the contested role of argument as a generator of knowledge the book culminates in a discussion of the relationship between rationality and reasonableness and criticizes the restrictions of rational argument relying on fixed logical economic or cultural criteria that in reality are mutable Here a true open argument requires the infusion of Paul Lorenzen's principle of transsubjectivity which recognizes but transcends the partiality of the individual and which can be seen in the pragmatic and expanding consensus that humanity can control itself to safeguard the future of a fragile damaged world A Delicate is the property of a disputed fact being established inferentially from an extant fact This book explicates the structural components of this phenomenon in the context of hate crimes across various jurisdictions around the world It departs from the orthodox conception of evidence and proof as being a general value neutral or non normative and epistemic subject and offers a relativistic conception of this area of law The core argument is that proof is both semantically and methodologically determined by three conditions of materiality process and probativity This argument is then justified by the context specific application of this relativistic theory of proof to hate crimes This theoretical application of proof is sustained throughout the book using multiple examples and illustrations of hate crimes around the world The discussion both at the level of proof and hate crimes while focusing on the grounds of race religion and ethnicity specifically is framed in jurisprudential cross jurisdictional and interdisciplinary terms The book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of criminal law legal philosophy and procedural law Autoethnographic Perspectives on Multilingual Life Stories
