Mapping Multiple Literacies Diana Masny, David R. Cole, 2012-06-14. Mapping Multiple Literacies brings together the latest theory and research in the fields of literacy study and European philosophy. Multiple Literacies Theory (MLT) and the philosophical work of Gilles Deleuze. It frames the process of becoming literate as a fluid process involving multiple modes of presentation and explains these processes in terms of making maps of our social lives and ways of doing things together. For Deleuze, language acquisition is a social activity of which we are a part but only one part amongst many others. Masny and Cole draw on Deleuze's thinking to expand the repertoires of literacy research and understanding. They outline how we can understand literacy as a social activity and map the ways in which becoming literate may take hold and transform communities. The chapters in this book weave together theory, data and practice to open up a creative new area of literacy studies and to provoke vigorous debate about the sociology of literacy.

Reading and Experience: A Philosophical Investigation Alexander Samely, 2024-06-10. This text is the first comprehensive attempt in decades to integrate reading into the philosophical discussion of the synthesis of experience more generally. It offers a comprehensive critique of three disciplinary approaches to reading: philosophical, literary and empirical/neuroscientific, while developing an innovative and unifying phenomenological account. It discusses texts from a variety of contemporary and historical contexts. It is inclusive, treating non-fiction alongside fiction, literary art alongside everyday texts and narrative alongside thematic discourse. It addresses all reading practices found today: casual and unreflective reading, close and scholarly reading, with re-reading, the analysis of literary art and sacred text study and memorization. In the current intellectual landscape, the book is unique in bringing all these aspects together in a philosophically coherent discussion. The book provides a critique of philosophical accounts of text meaning and linguistic experience by philosophers from Husserl and Ingarden to Sartre, Merleau-Ponty, Arendt, Gadamer and Derrida, and examines the positions of contemporary naturalizing phenomenologists such as Varela and Thompson. Also treated are neuroscientists.

such as Dehaene and theorists of consciousness such as Kintsch Flanagan and Dennett Finally this volume engages with psychological linguistic structuralist theory of mind and experiential approaches in literary studies from B hler and Hamburger to Fludernik Herman and Kuzmi ov It appeals to students and researchers working in these fields Digital Cultures David Kergel,2023-01-01 David Kergel explores the questions of how free and self determined we are in the digital age whether the Internet encloses us or whether it opens up new spaces for diversity and education The starting point is the thesis that the Internet is both heritage and future postmodern spaces of freedom and neoliberal fixations of the electronic age unfold in the ubiquitous cultural space that digital media span At the same time the Internet restructures social spaces in the analog world digitalizes self world relations or forms digital cultures which in turn form ourselves For dealing with the ambivalence of the Internet between postmodern diversity and neoliberal subjectification an understanding of media education based on educational theory is proposed This book is a translation of the original German 1st edition Kulturen des Digitalen by David Kergel published by Springer Fachmedien Wiesbaden GmbH part of Springer Nature in 2018 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL com A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support the authors Spirit and the Politics of Disablement Sharon V.
