Freedom's Coming Paul Harvey, 2012-09-01 In a sweeping analysis of religion in the post Civil War and twentieth century South Freedom's Coming puts race and culture at the center describing southern Protestant cultures as both priestly and prophetic as southern formal theology sanctified dominant political and social hierarchies evangelical belief and practice subtly undermined them The seeds of subversion Paul Harvey argues were embedded in the passionate individualism exuberant expressive forms and profound faith of believers in the region Harvey explains how black and white religious folk within and outside of mainstream religious groups formed a southern evangelical counterculture of Christian interracialism that challenged the theologically grounded racism pervasive among white southerners and ultimately helped to end Jim Crow in the South Moving from the folk theology of segregation to the women who organized the Montgomery bus boycott from the hymn inspired freedom songs of the 1960s to the influence of black Pentecostal preachers on Elvis Presley Harvey deploys cultural history in fresh and innovative ways and fills a decades old need for a comprehensive history of Protestant religion and its relationship to the central question of race in the South for the postbellum and twentieth century period

Humanities ,2002 The Qur'an Heard Timur R. Yuskaev, 2024-11-29 For many Muslims there is an inseparable connection between sound and meaning particularly when it comes to Islamic verse and scripture This provides fertile ground for a comparative study across traditions and forms Timur

Yuskaev offers a meditation on the Qur'an and human sensibilities heard together in American Muslim sermons. Foregrounding sound poetry and music, it is a cultural anthropology of the Qur'an carried out in conversation with colleagues in multiple disciplines including Religions in America, Qur'anic Islamic Memory, Communication and Sound Studies. The author draws upon the works of Mikhail Bakhtin, Charles Long, Mary Douglas, and many others to hear mysticism in a homiletic symphony by Warith Deen Mohammed, to sense the experience of the covenant in a three-minute ribbon-cutting speech by Aras Konjodžić, and to appreciate the Qur'anic musicality of a down-to-earth interfaith address by Sarah Sayeed. A creative guide to an organic engagement with texts, this book will be of particular interest to those studying scriptures and the Qur'an.

The Power of Neo-Slave Fiction and Public History Grant Rodwell, 2023-10-13 Professional historians, schools, colleges, and universities are not alone in shaping higher-order understanding of history. The central thesis of this book is the belief that historical fiction in text and film shapes attitudes towards an understanding of history as it moves the focus from slavery to the enslaved, from the institution to the personal, families, and feminist accounts. In a broader sense, this contributes to a public history. In part using the quickly growing corpus of neo-slave counterfactual narratives, this book examines the notion of the emerging slavery public history and the extent to which this is defined by literature, film, and other forms of artistic expression rather than non-fiction, popular or scholarly, and education in history in the school systems. Inter alia, this book looks to the validity of historical fiction in print or in film as a way of understanding history. A focal point of this book is the hypothesis that neo-slave narratives, supported by selective triangulated readings and viewings of scholarly works and non-fiction, have assisted greatly in re-shaping the historiography of antebellum slavery, and scholarly historians followed in the wake of these developments. Essentially, this has meant a re-shaping of the historiography with a focus from slavery to that of the enslaved. Moreover, it has opened new vistas for a public history devoid of top-down authoritative scholarship. An important and provocative read for students and scholars interested in understanding the history of slavery, its harrowing effects, and how it was culturally defined.

Recognizing Race and Ethnicity, Student Economy Edition Kathleen Fitzgerald, 2019-07-05 To better reflect the current state of research in the sociology of race and ethnicity, this book places significant emphasis on white privilege, the social construction of race, and theoretical perspectives for understanding race and ethnicity.

100 Great American Novels You've (Probably) Never Read Karl Bridges, 2007-09-30 From Elizabeth Stoddard's The Morgesons and Anzia Yzierska's The Bread Givers to Laurie Colwin's Shine On Bright and Dangerous Object and Chet Raymo's The Dork of Cork, here are some of the forgotten gems of American literature. Bridges has compiled a diverse list of 100 American novels published between 1797 and 1997 and worthy of the title 'great.' Although the idea is to bring light to the obscure, these titles are physically accessible to readers either in print or represented in library collections and available through library loan.

Class, Please Open Your Comics Matthew L. Miller, 2015-05-07 Comics and sequential art are increasingly in use in college classrooms. Multimodal multimedia and often collaborative, the graphic narrative format has entered all kinds of subject areas and its potential as a teaching tool is still being realized This collection of new essays presents best practices for using comics in various educational settings beginning with the basics Contributors explain the need for teachers to embrace graphic novels Multimodal composition is demonstrated by the use of comics Strategies are offered for teachers who have struggled with weak visual literacy skills among students Student generated comics are discussed with several examples The teaching of postmodern theories and practices through comics is covered An appendix features assignment sheets so teachers can jump right in with proven exercises
