READ THE TEXT CAREFULLY AND ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

Doctors tell us to eat more fruits and more vegetables. They tell us to drink more water and less fizzy drinks. But do we listen?? No, we continue to eat lots of junk food like pizza, sweets, chips, cakes and biscuits.

We are what we eat. If we keep putting bad things into our bodies every day, like lots of fats and sugar, we will see bad things happen to our body. Unhealthy food makes your body unhealthy. When you get older you start to have a lot of problems like heart diseases. We only think that burgers taste better than salad. We think that the juice we buy from the supermarket is more delicious than the juice we make at home. Burgers, French Fries and fizzy drinks may be delicious but they haven't got enough vitamins and minerals. Your body needs vitamins and minerals to grow healthy. Healthy food gives our body the vitamins and the minerals it needs.

People eat junk food because it is tasty but everybody can have a tasty meal at home. The only problem is that buying fresh products and cooking takes time. And people prefer to spend time doing other activities such as watching films, meeting friends, walking in parks and so on. I also like to do these activities but I am very careful of my body. If you want to be healthy, you should eat healthy food every day!!

records 11174197 Handbook of Research on Literacy and Diversity Lesley Mandel Morrow, Robert Rueda, Diane Lapp, 2010-11-03 This is the first research handbook to address all dimensions of diversity that have an impact on literacy achievement. Leading experts examine how teaching and learning intersect with cultural and language differences and socioeconomic disparities in today's increasingly diverse schools and communities. The volume weaves compelling research findings together with theory, policy considerations, and discussions of exemplary instructional practices. It offers fresh perspectives on such topics as family literacy, multiliteracies, drawing on cultural resources in the classroom, factors that promote success in high-poverty schools, equity issues, and ways to teach specific literacy skills. The concluding section provides crucial recommendations for teacher preparation and professional development. Teaching Reading Comprehension to English Learners in Secondary Schools: A Research-Based Approach Cekiso, Madoda, Olifant, Florence, Mokhtari, Kouider, 2025-04-23 Teaching reading comprehension to English learners (ELs) in secondary schools presents unique challenges as these students must navigate the complexities of academic texts and the intricacies of language acquisition. Effective instruction requires a research-based approach that considers the diverse linguistic, cultural, and cognitive backgrounds of these learners. Recent studies highlight the importance of integrating strategies that build both language proficiency and content knowledge, essential for helping ELs develop the skills needed to comprehend complex materials. Fostering metacognitive awareness through strategies like summarizing, questioning, and making connections can empower students to become active and strategic readers. This approach recognizes the need for a supportive, inclusive classroom environment that encourages language development while promoting academic achievement in content areas. Further research may help educators provide English learners with the tools to thrive as capable readers in secondary school. Teaching Reading Comprehension to English Learners in Secondary School: A Research-Based Approach explores various aspects of teaching reading comprehension to English Second Language (ESL) learners in secondary schools. It examines current challenges and evidence-based strategies in reading comprehension. This book covers topics such as language learning, reading strategies, and teacher training, and is a useful resource for academicians, researchers, and scientists.
