Psychosocial Implications of Disney Movies Lauren Dundes, 2019-07-11 In this volume of 15 articles contributors from a wide range of disciplines present their analyses of Disney movies and Disney music which are mainstays of popular culture The power of the Disney brand has heightened the need for academics to question whether Disney's films and music function as a tool of the Western elite that shapes the views of those less empowered Given its global reach how the Walt Disney Company handles the role of race gender and sexuality in social structural inequality merits serious reflection according to a number of the articles in the volume On the other hand other authors argue that Disney productions can help individuals cope with difficult situations or embrace progressive thinking The different approaches to the assessment of Disney films as cultural artifacts also vary according to the theoretical perspectives guiding the interpretation of both overt and latent symbolic meaning in the movies The authors of the 15 articles encourage readers to engage with the material showcasing a variety of views about the good the bad and the best way forward Encyclopedia of Curriculum Studies Craig

Kridel, 2010-02-16 The study of curriculum beginning in the early 20th century first served the areas of school administration and teaching and was used to design and develop programs of study The field subsequently expanded and drew upon disciplines from the arts humanities and social sciences to examine larger educational forces and their effects upon the individual society and conceptions of knowledge Curriculum studies now embraces an array of academic scholarship in relation to personal and institutional needs and interests while it also focuses upon a diverse and complex dynamic among educational experiences practices settings actions and theories The Encyclopedia of Curriculum Studies provides a and helps readers to learn unfamiliar terms and concepts to become more comfortable with specialized phrases and to understand the many significant and perplexing concepts and questions that characterize the field Internationalisation and Marketisation of Higher Education in the UK Zahra Kemiche, 2024-09-23 This timely volume sets out the author's novel concept of the Organic model of internationalisation developed using participants' perceptions, lived experiences and recommendations for a better sustainable future of HE and explores its broader application in the context of higher education. Using the qualitative IPA (Interpretative Phenomenological Analysis) approach, chapters showcase the lived experiences and subjective perspectives of individuals around the paradox that internationalisation presents: the distorting effects of institutional power and the market and ethics-based concerns of internationalisation in higher education. Drawing on an in-depth empirical study conducted using participant observation and interviews with participants from three UK universities, the book proposes a framework for redefining the global discourse of HE through the Organic model and urges the need for a compromise between profit and ethics to the benefit of both organisations and individuals. The book thoroughly discusses racist practices and introduces the concepts of xeno racism and angelism, ensuring that the proposed approach is authentic and responsive to the diverse experiences of the student body. Showcasing a model with international potential and ramifications, this book will appeal to researchers, academics and postgraduate students in higher education. Internationalisation and international study mobility: Practitioners and policymakers may also benefit from the volume.

Kinderculture Shirley R. Steinberg, 2018-05-04 America is a corporatized society defined by a culture of consumerism and the youth market is one of the groups that corporations target most. By marketing directly to children through television, movies, radio, video games, toys, books and fast food, advertisers have produced a kinderculture. In this eye-opening book, editor Shirley R. Steinberg reveals the profound impact that our purchasing-obsessed culture has on our children and argues that the experience of childhood has been reshaped into something that is prefabricated. Analyzing the pervasive influence of these corporate productions, top experts in the fields of education, sociology, communications and cultural studies contribute incisive essays that students, parents, educators and general readers will find insightful and entertaining. Including seven new chapters, this third edition is thoroughly updated with examinations of the icons that shape the values and consciousness of today's children, including Twilight, True Blood and vampires, hip hop, Hannah Montana, Disney and others. The Learning Adult John Holford, Marcella Milana, Richard Waller, Sue Webb, 2019-12-18 Peter Jarvis is a towering figure in adult and lifelong education and a leading and original theorist of learning. This book explores the breadth and significance of his work. Sixteen chapters by leading international scholars explain and engage critically with his theorisation of learning and with his extensive writings on the sociology, politics, ethics and history of adult education and on professional education, lifelong learning and the learning society. The authors discuss his ideas, their influence and origins. They cover his contribution to learning theory, the recurring ethical themes in his writing and the implications of his work for areas such as the education of migrants They explore his global engagement as a scholar not only in different areas of lifelong education but across the world much travelled Peter Jarvis has supported the growth of adult education as a humane profession as well as a field of study in Africa Asia North and South America and Australasia as well as Europe They also address the intense humanism of his work which has been continually informed by theological and ethical concerns though he taught for three decades at the University of Surrey where he was Head of the Department of Educational Studies and is now Emeritus Professor he has been a Minister of the Methodist Church for over half a century This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Lifelong Education International Sport Business Management James J. Zhang, Brenda G.

Disney Princesses and Tween Identity The Franchise in Illiberal Hungary examines how tweens in illiberal Hungary construct verbal and visual identities through engagement with Disney princess animations Presenting and analyzing ethnographic research in the form of interviews with Hungarian tweens around the time of the populist government s winning the general elections in 2018 Anna Zsubori reveals the importance of social and cultural context in establishing the Disney princess phenomenon as a heterogeneous cultural force The ambivalent and sometimes even contradictory ideas of identity expressed by the tweens highlight the role that diverse audiences local negotiations and dynamic discourses play in the reception of the Disney princess animations Combining thematic and semiotic textual analyses of the conversations tweens drawings and building blocks and broader contextual examinations of the sessions with Hungarian children this book offers original contributions on both theoretical and methodological levels International Handbook of Children, Media and Culture Kirsten Drotner, Sonia Livingstone, 2008-02-19

This essential volume brings together the work of internationally renowned researchers each experts in their field in order to capture the diversity of children and young people s media cultures around the world Why are the media such a crucial part of children s daily lives Are they becoming more important more influential and in what ways Or does a historical perspective reveal how past media have long framed children's cultural horizons or perhaps how families however constituted have long shaped the ways children relate to media. In addressing such questions the contributors present detailed empirical cases to uncover how children weave together diverse forms and technologies to create a rich symbolic tapestry which in turn shapes their social relationships. At the same time many concerns even public panics arise regarding children's engagement with media leading the contributors also to inquire into the risky or problematic aspects of today's highly mediated world. Deliberately selected to represent as many parts of the globe as possible and with a commitment to recognizing both the similarities and differences in children and young people's lives from China to Denmark from Canada to India from Japan to Iceland from the authors offer a rich contextualization of children's engagement with their particular media and communication environment while also pursuing cross-cutting themes in terms of comparative and global trends. Each chapter provides a clear orientation for new readers to the main debates and core issues addressed combined with a depth of analysis and argumentation to stimulate the thinking of advanced students and established scholars. Since children and young people are a focus of study across different disciplines the volume is thoroughly multi-disciplinary. Yet since children and young people are all too easily neglected by these same disciplines this volume hopes to accord their interests and concerns they surely merit. The

Conscious Cultural Worker Khalilah Ali, 2024-04-01. The Conscious Cultural Worker: Counter Narratives of Black Women Artists as Radical Educators uses narrative inquiry and Black feminist and womanist pedagogy to look at the teaching identities and lived experiences of Black women activist educators in the current neoliberal anti-woke moment. Their counter narratives are presented as vignettes to look at a certain time in the lives of Black women artists who use rap, spoken word or visual art to turn public places like bars, clubs, galleries, lounges and alleys into unofficial educational spaces that the author calls Communities of Reciprocity (CoR). This book adds to what is known about situated learning, teacher identity and the co-creation of communities of practice by focusing on the point of view of Black women as conscious culture workers. It does this by bringing attention to the fact that culture work is a kind of conversation between creatives as expert practitioners and audiences as spectator-actors who co-create liberatory educative texts. In this book Black women work the culture by challenging hegemonic discourse and hidden curricula wherever people who want to learn come together. ECGBL 2020 14th
