Protecting, Promoting and Supporting Breastfeeding Mary A. Uyoga, Seema Miharshahi, Bindi Borg, 2025-03-14 Breastfeeding is widely recognized as the best start to life for all infants and one of the most effective and cost effective investments nations can make for the future health of their community The World Health Organisations recommend exclusive breastfeeding for the first 6 months of life and introduction of nutritionally adequate and safe complementary solid foods at 6 months together with continued breastfeeding up to 2 years of age or beyond Enabling women to breastfeed is key to the sustainable development goals as it improves nutrition ensures food security and reduces inequalities between and within countries Lack of breastfeeding is an important issue with health social and economic implications Infants who do not receive breast milk are more likely to experience infections and poorer health outcomes than breastfed infants In addition there are also health implications for mothers who do not breastfeed
