Metropolis Mapping The City:

Metropolis Jeremy Black, 2015-10-13 How the city was imagined in maps from ancient times to the present day

Nonstop Metropolis Rebecca Solnit, Joshua Jelly-Schapiro, 2016-10-19 This set explores the hidden histories of San Francisco New Orleans and New York City With many contributors each atlas addresses the multi faceted nature of a city as experienced by numerous categories of inhabitants

Mapping the Megalopolis Glen David Kuecker, Alejandro Puga, 2017-12-22 Mapping the Megalopolis Order and Disorder in Mexico City brings the humanities and the social sciences into a conversation about Mexico City in its social political and aesthetic manifestations Through a shared exploration of the order and disorder that mutually constitute the city contributing authors engage topics such as the privatization of public space challenges to existing conceptualizations of the urban form and variations on the fl neur and other urban actors Mexico City is truly a city of versions and Mapping the Megalopolis celebrates the intersection of the image of the city and the lived experience of it Readers will find substantive entries on a great variety of Mexico City s monumental and counter monumental spaces as well as some of its pivotal contemporary debates and cultural products The volume serves both as supplemental reading on the world city or the Latin American city and as a central text in a multidisciplinary study of Mexico City

The Post-9/11 City in Novels Karolina Golimowska, 2016-03-01 Post 9 11 fiction reflects how the September 11 2001 attacks have influenced our concept of public space from urban behavior patterns to architecture and urban movement It also suggests a need for remapping the real and imagined spaces where we live and work Through close readings of novels from both sides of the Atlantic this analysis of the literary 21st century metropolis explores the fictional post 9 11 city as a global space not defined or contained by its physical limits

The Intelligible Metropolis Nora Pleßke, 2014-08-15 Writings on the metropolis generally foreground illimitability stressing thereby that the urban ultimately remains both illegible and unintelligible Instead the purpose of this interdisciplinary study is to demonstrate that mentality as a tool offers orientation in the urban realm Nora Ple ke develops a model of urban mentality to be employed for cities worldwide Against the background of the Spatial Turn she identifies dominant urban specific structures of London mentality in contemporary London novels such as Monica Ali s Brick Lane J G Ballard s Millennium People Nick Hornby s A Long Way Down and Ian McEwan s Saturday

Diasporic Agencies: Mapping the City Otherwise Nishat Awan, 2017-05-15 Diasporic Agencies addresses the neglected subject of how architecture and urban design can respond to the consequences of increasing migration Arguing that diasporic inhabitations can only be understood as the co production of space subjectivity and politics the book explores questions of difference belonging and movement in the city Through focusing on a series of examples it reveals how diasporas produce new types of spaces and develop new subjectivities in the contemporary European metropolis It explores the way in which geo politics affects individual lives and how national and regional borders inscribe themselves onto diasporic bodies The book claims that the multiple belongings of diasporic citizens half here and half there provoke a crisis in the standard modes of architectural representation that tend to homogenise and flatten experience Instead Diasporic Agencies makes a case for a non representational approach where the displacement of the diasporic subject and their consequent reterritorialisation of space are developed as modes of thinking and doing In parallel mapping otherwise is proposed as a tool for spatial practitioners to work with these multi layered spaces The book is aimed at spatial practitioners and theorists of all sorts architects artists geographers urban designers anyone with a general interest in mapping or those interested in working through issues related to migration and the contemporary city Dissemination of Cartographic

Knowledge Mirela Altić, Imre Josef Demhardt, Soetkin Vervust, 2017-09-07 This book gathers 22 papers which were presented at the 6th International Symposium of the ICA Commission on the History of Cartography in Dubrovnik Croatia on 13-15 October 2016 The overall conference theme was The Dissemination of Cartographic Knowledge Production Trade Consumption Preservation The book presents original research by internationally respected authors in the field of historical cartography offering a significant contribution to the development of this field of study but also of geography history and the GIS sciences The primary target audience includes researchers educators postgraduate students map librarians and archivists Mapping Detroit June Manning Thomas, Henco Bekkering, 2015-03-16 Containing some of the leading voices on

Detroit's history and future Mapping Detroit will be informative reading for anyone interested in urban studies geography and recent American history Mapping Wuhan Henco Bekkering, Jiaxiu Cai, Joran Kuijper, Zhang Ke, Chen Wei, 2022-03-15 Chinese cities have been expanding since the early 1980s under trends of rapid modernization urbanization and globalization Since then they have changed dramatically and have in the process lost many of their traditional environments and spatial characteristics Urban planners and designers have been and are facing unprecedented challenges in China They not only have to learn to understand the constantly emerging new urban mechanisms and seek balance among stakeholders but they also need to cope with the political pressures and the changing context under often extreme time pressure In such circumstances future and design oriented analysis based on a designerly way of thinking is useful if not indispensable for understanding the existing city and deciding on its transformations in a responsible and accountable way that is communicable among designers and with the public This is especially so in light of the growing awareness also in China of the value and importance of local urban identity that is always at least partially based on history In this atlas the Delft method of historical morphological analysis is applied to the city of Wuhan valuing the importance of and finding meaning in the local urban identity of a city with a population over 11 million with a floating population of 14 million The series of maps show the urban development covering a century and a half In The Post-Urban World Tigran Haas, Hans

Westlund, 2017-10-16 Winner of the Regional Studies Association's Best Book Award 2018 In the last few decades many global cities and towns have experienced unprecedented economic social and spatial structural change Today we find ourselves at the juncture between entering a post urban and a post political world both presenting new challenges to our metropolitan regions municipalities and cities Many megacities declining regions and towns are experiencing an increase in the number of complex problems regarding internal relationships governance and external connections In particular a growing disparity exists between citizens that are socially excluded within declining physical and economic realms and those situated in thriving geographic areas This book conveys how forces of structural change shape the urban landscape In The Post Urban World is divided into three main sections Spatial Transformations and the New Geography of Cities and Regions Urbanization Knowledge Economies and Social Structuration and New Cultures in a Post Political and Post Resilient World One important subject covered in this book in addition to the spatial and economic forces that shape our regions cities and neighbourhoods is the social cultural ecological and psychological aspects which are also critically involved Additionally the urban transformation occurring throughout cities is thoroughly discussed Written by today's leading experts in urban studies this book discusses subjects from different theoretical standpoints as well as various methodological approaches and perspectives this is alongside the challenges and new solutions for cities and regions in an interconnected world of global economies This book is aimed at both academic researchers interested in regional development economic geography and urban studies as well as practitioners and policy makers in urban development

Mapping the Futures John Bird, Barry Curtis, Tim Putnam, Lisa Tickner, 2012-09-10 There are now new experiences of space and time new tensions between globalism and regionalism socialism and consumerism reality and spectacle new instabilities of value meaning and identity a dialectic between past and future How are we to understand these Mapping the Futures is the first of a series which brings together cultural theorists from different disciplines to assess the implications of economic political and social change for intellectual inquiry and cultural practice

Map Reading unlocks the essential skill of interpreting maps providing a foundation applicable to geography earth sciences and even travel The book explores how to effectively use coordinate systems like latitude and longitude to pinpoint locations and how to understand directional orientation with tools like compasses Readers will gain an understanding of how early maps evolved shaping our perception of the world and appreciate the precision of modern cartography The book progresses logically starting with map fundamentals like scale and symbols then moving to coordinate systems and practical exercises You ll learn to read topographic maps and navigational charts culminating in real world applications like hiking and urban planning The ability to read maps isn t just a technical skill it s a fundamental literacy empowering you to navigate and understand our complex world Map Reading stands out by combining theoretical knowledge with practical exercises using clear diagrams and real world examples This approach makes complex concepts accessible even without prior knowledge of cartography It presents established cartographic principles and techniques drawn from surveying and geographic information systems to enhance spatial reasoning and confidence in using maps for various applications London's Urban Landscape Christopher Tilley, 2019-05-07 London's Urban Landscape is the first major study of a global city to adopt a materialist perspective and stress the significance of place and the built environment to the urban landscape Edited by Christopher Tilley the volume is inspired by phenomenological thinking and presents fine grained ethnographies of the practices of everyday life in London In doing so it charts a unique perspective on the city that integrates ethnographies of daily life with an analysis of material culture The first part of the volume considers the residential sphere of urban life discussing in detailed case studies ordinary residential streets housing estates suburbia and London's mobile linear village of houseboats The second part analyses the public sphere including ethnographies of markets a park the social rhythms of a taxi rank and graffiti and street art London's Urban Landscape returns us to the everyday lives of people and the manner in which they understand their lives The deeply sensuous character of the embodied experience of the city is invoked in the thick descriptions of entangled relationships between people and places and the paths of movement between them What stories do door bells and house facades tell us about contemporary life in a Victorian terrace How do antiques acquire value and significance in a market How does living in a concrete megastructure relate to the lives of the people who dwell there These and a host of other questions are addressed in this fascinating book that will appeal widely to all readers interested in London or contemporary urban life Mapping Generations of Traumatic Memory in American Narratives Dana

Mihăilescu, Roxana Oltean, Mihaela Precup, 2014-06-12 This volume collects work by several European North American and Australian academics who are interested in examining the performance and transmission of post traumatic memory in the contemporary United States The contributors depart from the interpretation of trauma as a unique exceptional event that shatters all systems of representation as seen in the writing of early trauma theorists like Cathy Caruth Shoshana Felman and Dominick LaCapra Rather the chapters in this collection are in conversation with more recent readings of trauma such as

Michael Rothberg's multidirectional memory 2009 the role of mediation and remediation in the dynamics of cultural memory
Astrid Erll 2012 Aleida Assman 2011 and Stef Craps focus on postcolonial witnessing and its cross cultural dimension 2013
The corpus of post traumatic narratives under discussion includes fiction diaries memoirs films visual narratives and oral testimonies A complicated dialogue between various and sometimes conflicting narratives is thus generated and examined along four main lines in this volume trauma in the context of multidirectional memory the representation of trauma in autobiographical texts the dynamic of public forms of national commemoration and the problematic instantiation of 9 11 as a traumatic landmark

Maps: their untold stories Rose Mitchell, Andrew Janes, 2014-09-11 A map is a snapshot of a place a city a nation or even the world at a given point in time fascinating for what they tell us about the way our ancestors saw themselves their neighbours and their place in the world This magnificent collection drawn from seven centuries of maps held in the National Archives at Kew looks at a variety of maps from those found in 14th Century manuscripts through early estate maps to sea charts maps used in military campaigns and maps from treaties The text explores who the mapmakers were the purposes for which the maps were made and what it tells us about the politics of the time Great images are accompanied by compelling stories Featured is a woodcut map of 16th Century London a map of where the bombs fell during the Second World War and a map the first American settlers drew when they were attempting to establish a new empire on Roanoke Island off the coast of what is now North Carolina Richly illustrated with large scale reproductions of the maps the book also includes some of the more amusing or esoteric maps from the National Archives such as the map of the Great Exhibition in 1851 that was presented on a lady's glove a London Underground map in the form of a cucumber and a Treasure Island map used to advertise National Savings This is a fascinating and unusual journey through the world of maps and mapmakers
