The Right to Be Punished Gabriel Hallevy, 2012-10-12 Does an offender have the right to be punished The right to be punished may sound like an oxymoron but it is not necessarily so With the emergence of modern criminal law the offender gained the right to be punished by rational criminal law rather than being lynched by an angry mob The present day offender may have the right to be punished by doctrinal sentencing rather than being subjected to verdicts based on vague unclear and uncertain principles In modern criminal law the imposition of criminal liability follows accurate and strict rules whereas there are no similar rules for the imposition of punishment The process of sentencing is vague and obscure as are the considerations used for the imposition of punishments The objective of the present book is to propose a comprehensive general and legally sophisticated theory of modern doctrinal sentencing The challenges of such a legal theory are plenty and complex In addition to increasing clarity and certainty modern doctrinal sentencing must deal with modern types of delinquency e g organized crime recidivism corporate offenders high tech offenses etc and modern principles of criminal law Modern doctrinal sentencing must serve to ensure optimal sentencing
