The Textual Tradition of the Gospels Amy S. Anderson, 2019-11-26 This investigation of the 10th century minuscule Codex 1582 in the Gospel of Matthew includes a description of the physical document and an extensive evaluation of the text it contains The manuscript was copied by the monk Ephraim who is known to scholars in various fields The high quality of his work and of the documents which were available to him demonstrate that he carefully reproduced an exemplar which witnessed to an ancient and valuable text The text and marginal variants of Codex 1582 are shown to be related though not identical to the text of Matthew used by Origen raising the possibility of a Caesarean archetype A full collation of Codex 1582 to Codex 1 demonstrates that 1582 should be the leading member as well as the basis for the age and readings of Family 1 in Matthew Test collations of twelve other supposed family members lead to a re evaluation of the interrelationships of the documents and an expanded stemma of the family The Ecclesiastical gazette, or, Monthly register of the affairs of the Church of England , 1861 Changing the Goalpost of New Testament Textual Criticism Abidan Paul Shah, 2020-10-02

Before the 1960s the goal of New Testament Textual Criticism was singular to retrieve the original text of the New Testament Since then the goalpost has incrementally shifted away from the original text to retrieving any text or many texts of the NT Some scholars have even concluded that the original text is hopelessly lost and cannot be retrieved with any confidence or accuracy Other scholars have gone a step further to claim that the idea of an original text itself is a misconception that needs to be abandoned If this new approach in NTTC is correct then the authority of Scripture is weakened or no longer valid It will be shown in this book that such is not the case Furthermore emphasis will be placed on the need to return to the traditional goalpost of NTTC i e to retrieve the original text Without a generally definitive text the door will be left wide open to recreate any desired text of the NT An unsettled original text will result in an unsettled biblical theology due to a lack of any authoritative and standard text Consequently it will lead to an unsettled Christian faith and practice

Biblical Theology of the Old and New Testaments Brevard S. Childs,1993-04 This monumental work is the first comprehensive biblical theology to appear in many years and is the culmination of Brevard Child's lifelong commitment to constructing a biblical theology that surmounts objections to the discipline raised over the past generation Childs rejects any approaches that overstress either the continuity or discontinuity between the Old and New Testaments He refuses to follow the common pattern in Christian thought of identifying biblical theology with the New Testament's interest in the Old Rather Childs maps out an approach that reflects on the whole Christian Bible with its two very different voices each of which retains continuing integrity and is heard on its own terms
