standards based classroom      Teaching History for Justice Christopher C. Martell, Kaylene M. Stevens, 2021 Learn how to enact justice oriented pedagogy and foster students critical engagement in today s history classroom Over the past 2 decades various scholars have rightfully argued that we need to teach students to think like a historian or think like a democratic citizen In this book the authors advocate for cultivating activist thinking in the history classroom Teachers can use Teaching History for Justice to show students how activism was used in the past to seek justice how past social movements connect to the present and how democratic tools can be used to change society The first section examines the theoretical and research foundation for thinking like an activist and outlines three related pedagogical concepts social inquiry critical multiculturalism and transformative democratic citizenship The second section presents vignettes based on the authors studies of elementary middle and high school history teachers who engage in justice oriented teaching practices Book Features Outlines key components of justice oriented history pedagogy for the history and social studies K 12 classroom Advocates for students to develop thinking like an activist in their approach to studying the past Contains research based vignettes of four imagined teachers providing examples of what teaching history for justice can look like in practice Includes descriptions of typical units of study in the discipline of history and how they can be reimagined to help students learn about movements and social change      Teaching and Researching English Accents in Native and Non-native Speakers Ewa

Waniek-Klimczak, Linda R. Shockey, 2012-12-14 Second language phonology is approached in this book from the perspective of data based studies into the English sound system as used by native and non native speakers of the language The book offers a unique combination of psycholinguistic sociolinguistic and pedagogical approaches with individual contributions investigating the effect of selected conditioning factors on the pronunciation of English With all the richness of approaches it is a strong phonetic background that unifies individual contributions to the volume Thus the book contains a large body of original primary research which will be of interest to experienced scientist practitioners and lecturers as well as graduate students planning to embark on empirical methods of investigating the nature of the sound system      Input-based Tasks in Foreign Language Instruction for Young Learners Natsuko Shintani, 2016-03-24 The book examines how task based language teaching TBLT can be carried out with young beginner learners in a foreign language context It addresses how TBLT can be introduced and implemented in a difficult instructional context where traditional teaching approaches are entrenched The book reports a study that examined how TBLT can be made to work in such a context The study compares the effectiveness of TBLT and the traditional present practice produce PPP approach for teaching English to young beginner learners in Japan The TBLT researched in this study is unique as it employed input based tasks rather than oral production tasks The study shows that such tasks constitute an ideal means of inducting beginner learners into listening and processing English It also shows that such tasks lead naturally to the learners trying to use the L2 in communication It provides evidence to support the claim that TBLT promotes the kind of naturalistic interaction which is beneficial for the development of both interactional and linguistic competence The book concludes with suggestions for how to implement TBLT in Japanese school contexts      Raising Germans in the Age of Empire Jeff Bowersox,2013-05-09 What is the relationship between colonialism and culture Jeff Bowersox answers this question by looking at how young Germans imagined the wider world around them during the age of high imperialism      Innovating Strategies and Solutions for Urban Performance and Regeneration Cristina Piselli,Haşim Altan,Osman Balaban,Peleg Kremer,2022-07-01 This book focuses on enhancing urban regeneration performance and strategies that pave the way toward sustainable urban development models and solutions The book at hand thoroughly examines the latest studies on the regeneration of urban areas and attempts at alleviating the negative impacts associated with high population density and urban heat effects It gathers contributions that combine theoretical reflections and international case studies on urban regeneration and transformation with the single goal of tackling existing social and economic imbalances and developing new solutions The primary audience of this book will be from the field of architecture and urban planning offering new insights on how to address the myriad of problems that our cities are facing      Design Solutions for Adaptive Hypermedia Listening Software Turel, Vehbi,2021-06-18 Adaptive hypermedia listening software enables materials writers to combine and deliver a wide range of digital elements on the same digital computer platform more efficiently Such a combination and delivery provides a multidimensional multi sensory digital environment in which rich efficient instant comprehensible optimum and meaningful input and feedback can be presented effectively and efficiently Moreover language learners attention can be drawn to forms and meanings in input Such aspects correspond with different theories and hypotheses of language learning and teaching This presents users learners with an environment that is easy to use tension free and optimal during self study However to be able to design and develop cost effective and professional adaptive hypermedia listening software there are certain scientific educational findings and implications that need to be implemented at every single stage To have access to such vital findings is not so easy and research must address this area Design Solutions for Adaptive Hypermedia Listening Software explores how to design and create technically and pedagogically sound and efficient interactive adaptive hypermedia listening software for language learners in any language The chapters will cover learner strategy tools the effectiveness of this technology best practices in adaptive hypermedia listening software and the benefits and challenges of this technology for language learning It is ideal for companies institutions teachers policymakers academicians researchers advanced level students technology developers and decision making pertinent government officials interested in designing and developing multimedia listening environments for language learners      Teaching Secondary School Mathematics: Techniques And Enrichment Alfred S Posamentier,Beverly Smith,2020-09-18 The primary aim of this book is to provide teachers of mathematics with all the tools they would need to conduct most effective mathematics instruction The book guides teachers through the all important planning process which includes short and long term planning as well as constructing most effective lessons with an emphasis on motivation
