McLaughlin, 1923 Catholic Particularity in Seventeenth-Century French Writing Richard Parish, 2011-07-28 le christianisme est trange Pascal Pens es Pascal s assertion that Christianity is strange provides the theme for Richard Parish s exploration of Catholic particularity as it was expressed in the writing of the French seventeenth century This was a period of quite exceptional fertility in a range of genres apologetics sermons devotional manuals catechisms martyr tragedies lyric poetry polemic and spiritual autobiography Parish examines a broad cross section of this corpus with reference to the topics of apologetics physicality language discernment polemics and salvation and draws evidence both from canonical figures Pascal Bossuet F nelon St Fran ois de Sales Madame Guyon and from less easily available texts Parish aims to consider all those distinctive features that the heritage of the Catholic Reformation brought to the surface in France and to do so in support of the numerous ways in which Christian doctrine could be understood as being strange it is by turns contrary to expectations paradoxical divisive carnal and inexpressible These features are exploited imaginatively in the more conventional literary forms didactically in pulpit oratory and empirically in the accounts of personal spiritual experience In addition they are manifested polemically in debates surrounding penance authority inspiration and eschatology and often push orthodoxy to its limits and beyond in the course of their articulation This volume provides an unsettling account of a belief system to which early modern France often unquestioningly subscribed and shows how the element of cultural assimilation of Catholic Christianity into much of Western Europe only tenuously contains a subversive and counter intuitive creed The degree to which that remains the case will be for the reader to decide Harrap's New Standard French and English Dictionary Jean Edmond Mansion,1972 Royal Dictionary, English and French, and French and English Charles Fleming,J.
