

Mi Ultimo Adios (My Last Farewell) – Jose Rizal
(1896) Translated by Charles Derbyshire

Farewell, dear Fatherland, clime of the sun caress'd Pearl of the Orient seas, our Eden lost!,
Gladly now I go to give thee this faded life's best,
And were it brighter, fresher, or more blest
Still would I give it thee, nor count the cost.

On the field of battle, 'mid the frenzy of fight,
Others have given their lives, without doubt or heed;
The place matters not-cypress or laurel or lily white,
Scaffold or open plain, combat or martyrdom's plight,
'Tis ever the same, to serve our home and country's need.

I die just when I see the dawn break,
Through the gloom of night, to herald the day;
And if color is lacking my blood thou shalt take,
Pour'd out at need for thy dear sake
To dye with its crimson the waking ray.

The Philippine Republic ,1923      The Social Cancer: A Complete English Version of Noli Me Tangere José

Rizal,2023-11-16 In The Social Cancer A Complete English Version of Noli Me Tangere Jos Rizal presents a scathingly critical portrayal of Philippine society under Spanish colonial rule The narrative unfolds through the experiences of Crisostomo Ibarra a young Filipino who returns from Europe only to confront the pervasive corruption injustice and social inequities plaguing his homeland Rizal employs a rich tapestry of characters and vivid imagery blending realism with romanticism to expose the systemic issues facing the Philippines The novel is not merely a story of personal turmoil but a profound social commentary that reflects the urgent need for reform and the fight against oppression situating itself within the broader narrative of 19th century nationalism and reformist literature Jos Rizal a physician writer and fervent advocate for Filipino rights was deeply influenced by his experiences abroad and the injustices faced by his fellow countrymen Having witnessed the oppressive conditions of colonial life Rizal sought to awaken a sense of national identity among Filipinos His exposure to Enlightenment thought and European liberalism profoundly shaped his vision of a free and egalitarian society which he passionately articulated through his writings making him a pivotal figure in the Philippine reform movement This seminal work is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand the historical context and revolutionary ideas that shaped the Philippines Rizal s eloquence and moral conviction resonate deeply offering modern readers valuable lessons on social justice identity and the enduring power of literature to inspire change In an era where such themes remain pertinent The Social Cancer stands as a timeless call to awaken collective consciousness and strive for equality In this enriched edition we have carefully created added value for your reading experience A succinct Introduction situates the work s timeless appeal and themes The Synopsis outlines the central plot highlighting key developments without spoiling critical twists A detailed Historical Context immerses you in the era s events and influences that shaped the writing An Author Biography reveals milestones in the author s life illuminating the personal insights behind the text A thorough Analysis dissects symbols motifs and character arcs to unearth underlying meanings Reflection questions prompt you to engage personally with the work s messages connecting them to modern life Hand picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance Interactive footnotes clarify unusual references historical allusions and archaic phrases for an effortless more informed read

The English Linguistics Project Jonathan Malicsi,2017-11-15 The ELP ENGLISH MANUAL 8th Edition is a comprehensive response to the integration of the ELP s English language workshops for professionals and the English language courses for students under an English Language Learning System ELLS particularly as spurred by the more wide ranging concerns articulated by universities and multinationals This book introduces new concepts that reflect contemporary grammatical theory with entries on diction idioms and pronunciation based on current data on Filipino English accumulated over the past 18 years More insights have actually come from a parallel study that focuses on the grammar and rhetoric of Filipino some of which have affected the chapters on Determiners Tense and Embedding The English Language Project instituted by former U P President Jose V Abueva under his office in 1991 has transformed into the English Linguistics Project part of Dr Jonathan Malicsi s research and extension service for the Department of Linguistics English for College Freshmen , New Horizons in Learning English i Tm'99 Ed.(decs) , Cities of Others Xiaojing Zhou,2014-12-01 Asian American literature abounds with complex depictions of American cities as spaces that reinforce racial segregation and prevent interactions across boundaries of race culture class and gender However in Cities of Others Xiaojing Zhou uncovers a much different narrative providing the most comprehensive examination to date of how Asian American writers both celebrated and overlooked depict urban settings Zhou goes beyond examining popular portrayals of Chinatowns by paying equal attention to life in other parts of the city Her innovative and wide ranging approach sheds new light on the works of Chinese Filipino Indian Japanese Korean and Vietnamese American writers who bear witness to a variety of urban experiences and reimagine the American city as other than a segregated nation space Drawing on critical theories on space from urban geography ecocriticism and postcolonial studies Zhou shows how spatial organization shapes identity in the works of Sui Sin Far Bienvenido Santos Meena Alexander Frank Chin Chang rae Lee Karen Tei Yamashita and others She also shows how the everyday practices of Asian American communities challenge racial segregation reshape urban spaces and redefine the identity of the American city From a reimagining of the nineteenth century flaneur figure in an Asian American context to providing a framework that allows readers to see ethnic enclaves and American cities as mutually constitutive and transformative Zhou gives us a provocative new way to understand some of the most important works of Asian American literature Rizal & the Dev. family's experiences as the only known survivors despite being starved and tortured during the Japanese occupation of World War II of an orchestrated campaign to expel them from the United States under the Filipino Repatriation Act of 1935. Included throughout are a treasure trove of personal and historic images as well as additional insights obtained after the completion of Manette's extensive research. American Aswang intertwines the true story of a Filipino American girl's challenging coming of age journey with the often horrific experiences of her father's family as they were repatriated to the Philippines.

The Distant Glow Terry I. Sarigumba, 2014-02-14 As an autobiography The Distant Glow traces the story of my life to the rough and rigorous way of life in Corella Bohol my birthplace. Descending from generations of very poor and illiterate ancestors I exceeded my parents' grade three education by finishing grade six and graduating as elementary school valedictorian. Because my parents could not afford to send me to high school in the city I stayed out of school for six years helping my father on the farm and my mother in household chores. One of several backbreaking works I used to do was climbing several coconut trees about 50 feet in height to tap the trees' sanggutan for tuba, a coconut juice that yields mildly alcoholic drink. I used to climb 20 coconut trees every morning, noon, and evening, mount over top, sit on one of the palms, and tap the juice. One evening after sunset while atop the sanggutan I saw a glow, a distant glow. I muttered to myself, "Someday I'll find out what causes that glow." I equated that statement to my goals in life. I did find out what caused the distant glow. Other distant glows appeared and I reached most of them with hard work and having a dream. When the owners of a private school offered me an opportunity to go to their school free of tuition provided that I maintained the first place standing in the class honor roll I went to high school starting at age 20. To help shoulder the other costs of going to high school in the city I paid my room and board with service scrubbing and polishing the floor, fetching water from an artesian well, and gathering firewood every weekend for the landlord family. With all the hardship I maintained the tuition-free deal and graduated from high school as class valedictorian.

The Sky Rained Heroes Frederick E. LaCroix, 2009 I asked for action and I'm really getting it. We had our toughest mission to date yesterday. It was a bombing strafing job on destroyers and they really threw up the fireworks. It gives you a funny feeling to see all the ack-ack coming and still have to keep on going. It is a feeling of acute anticipation and mild curiosity the latter as regards whether it is your turn to get hit. I like combat pretty well. I guess it is a natural desire to like destruction. If you've ever seen six streams of tracers hosing into a target I think you'd know what I mean. I've flown an awful lot lately, 9 hours a day and hope I can keep it up. However, some replacements came in today so they will probably ease up a little on the rest of us. I'd rather keep up the steady flying though. P.S. Guess you've been praying for me quite a bit. At any rate, someone has. Keep it up. There really are no atheists here.
