Niosh Health Hazard Evaluation Program Booklet:

NIOSH Health Hazard Evaluation Program National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health. Hazard Evaluations and Technical Assistance Branch, 2000 The pamphlet explained the operation of the NIOSH Health Hazard Evaluation HHE Program by offering descriptions of the ways in which employees authorized representatives of employees or employers can request an evaluation of possible hazardous conditions at their job or workplace Specific topics dealt with in the pamphlet included a definition of NIOSH itself a definition of the HHE who is entitled to request an HHE the authority by which NIOSH conducts HHEs the proper time for employers or employees to request an HHE what the response is of NIOSH to a request for an HHE steps taken by NIOSH during an HHE employee protection procedural rights of NIOSH and employees employee representatives procedural rights of the employer role of the employee representative benefits of the HHE process how the HHE results are reported the steps taken to request an HHE and the locations of NIOSH offices NIOSHTIC 2

The Health Hazard Evaluation Program at NIOSH Institute of Medicine, National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Committee to Review the NIOSH Health Hazard Evaluation Program, 2009-04-30 It is the unique mission of the Health Hazard Evaluation Program within the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health NIOSH to respond to requests to investigate potential occupational health hazards In contrast to other NIOSH programs the Health Hazard Evaluation Program is not primarily a research program Rather it investigates and provides advice to workplaces in response to requests from employers employees and their representatives and federal agencies The National Research Council was charged with evaluating the NIOSH Health Hazard Evaluation Program and determining whether program activities resulted in improvements in workplace practices and decreases in hazardous exposures that cause occupational illnesses The program was found to play a key role in addressing existing widespread or emerging occupational health issues This book makes several recommendations that could improve a very strong program including more systematic use of surveillance data to facilitate priority setting and greater interaction with a broader array of workers industries and other government agencies

Health Hazard Evaluation Program National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health. Hazard Evaluations and Technical Assistance Branch, 2000 Do you know that the NIOSH Health Hazard Evaluation HHE Program and OSHA have complementary services that address occupational safety and health issues and help create healthy workplaces What is the HHE Program We respond to requests to evaluate potential health hazards in workplaces throughout the United States Requests can come from employers unions or employees at a facility Or you can request an HHE Our staff of about 40 includes occupational health physicians epidemiologists industrial hygienists psychologists and health communicators who work together in a team customized to respond to each request Some staff are fluent in Spanish The HHE Program has similarities to the OSHA Consultation Program but should be considered for novel hazards or when a team involving medical professionals is needed What does the HHE Program do Our investigators assess background information about the concern to decide if a field investigation is needed We may interview or survey workers do medical tests measure exposures evaluate exposure controls and make recommendation for reducing or eliminating hazards Our final report is shared with the employer and employees at the workplace and with OSHA In some cases we are able to provide assistance without a field investigation Although we have no enforcement authority we have good evidence that our recommendations help create healthier workplaces When should you use the HHE Program as a resource Consider referring others to our program or requesting an HHE when 1 Exposures to unregulated agents are occurring 2 Current conditions and exposures are causing health effects among employees even when exposures are below the permissible exposure limit 3 The situation represents an emerging hazard with exposures and health effects that are not well understood 4 New methods need to be developed to accurately assess the workplace environment 5 The effectiveness of control strategies needs to be evaluated Reports from completed HHEs may be helpful when you encounter an issue unfamiliar to you Search our report repository at <http://www2a.cdc.gov/hhe/search.asp> How and when should an HHE request be made Use our online request form or print out a paper form at <http://www.cdc.gov/niosh/hhe/request.html> You can 1 Submit a request It is advisable to call us first 2 Recommend that an employer request an HHE 3 Encourage employees or unions at a workplace to request an HHE If you are in a compliance action an HHE request would be appropriate when the case is closed However you can consider requiring the employer to request an HHE as part of a settlement agreement We are happy to discuss specific situations with you We can be reached at 513 841 4382 or HHERequestHelp@cdc.gov For situations that solely involve respiratory health concerns we may also be contacted at 800 232 2114 NIOSHTIC 2 EPA 560/11, 1980-07
