issues the role emotions play in a core cognitive event like literary text processing the kinds of bottom up and top down inputs most prominently involved in the literary reading process and what might be happening in the minds and bodies of engaged readers when they experience intense or heightened emotions a phenomenon sometimes labelled reader epiphany This study postulates that there is a free flow of bottom up and top down affective cognitive inputs during the engaged act of literary reading and that reading does not necessarily begin or end when our eyes apprehend the words on the page Burke argues that the literary reading human mind might best be considered both figuratively and literally not as computational or mechanical but as oceanic
