

CHAPTER 9

Snug Harbour to the Minks

OVERVIEW

A land of isolated islands, a mass of shoals, some jagged underwater shelves, banks of smooth, pink granite, windwept pines, billowing clouds, occasional crowding of the Mink Islands. Located 25 km northwest of Pelly Sound, the Minks and neighbouring Franklin Island make a splendid long-weekend or week-long paddle, depending on the weather and your preferred pace of travel. The natural highlights along the route include the extraordinary vertical rock at Hercules Point and the wave-battered shoals in the Mink chain. Historical highlights are the wreck of the Scout off Green Island, the remains of the old fishing station at Sadler Island, and the desolate Red Rock Lighthouse.

On the Minks you are guaranteed a glorious view and a refreshing breeze.

Camping on these exposed slabs of rock can be idyllic. There are many excellent places to set up your tent where you will be guaranteed a glorious view, a panoramic sunset and a refreshing breeze. Franklin Island, Green Island and several other Minks in the northwestern part of the chain are Crown land (where Canadian residents may camp free of charge and visitors from abroad must obtain a permit from the local office of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources). Most of the southern Minks are cottage properties whose privacy should be respected. View them from the water, but do not land or attempt to camp. The increasing popularity of the area around the Minks, their small size, and the absence (as yet) of a formal system of campsite allocation or maintenance has put great pressure on the fragile environment, so responsible, low-impact camping is more important than ever here.

Your exact route from Snug Harbour to Franklin Island and the Minks and your direction of travel (clockwise or counter-clockwise) are not important. The route described in this chapter is just one of many possibilities. With all the fascinating values and terms in the landscape, you will likely be distracted from it in any case! What is important is a reliable navigation system. Along this eastern shore of Georgian Bay, where thirty thousand islands can feel like sharp knives when you are lost, a compass and a detailed map (and the knowledge to use them correctly!) are critical, and a GPS can be very helpful indeed.

Distance: 30–40 km loop-paddle (2–4 days)
