Painting Materials A Short Encyclopedia Dover Art Instruction:

Painting Materials R. J. Gettens, G. L. Stout, 2012-09-26 The combined training and experience of the authors of this classic in the varied activities of painting conservation cultural research chemistry physics and paint technology ideally suited them to the task they attempted Their book written when they were both affiliated with the Department of Conservation at Harvard's Fogg Art Museum is not a handbook of instruction It is instead an encyclopedic collection of specialized data on every aspect of painting and painting research The book is divided into five sections Mediums Adhesives and Film Substances amber beeswax casein cellulose nitrate dragon's blood egg tempera paraffin lacquer gum Arabic Strasbourg turpentine water glass etc Pigments and Inert Materials over 100 entries from alizarin to zinnobers green Solvents Diluents and Detergents acetone ammonia carbon tetrachloride soap water etc Supports academy board dozens of different woods esparto grass gesso glass leather plaster silk vellum etc and Tools and Equipment Coverage within each section is exhaustive Thirteen pages are devoted to items related to linseed oil eleven to the history and physical and chemical properties of pigments two to artificial ultramarine blue eleven to wood and so on with hundreds of entries Much of the information physical behavior earliest known use chemical composition history of synthesis refractive index etc is difficult to find elsewhere The rest was drawn from such a wide range of fields and from such a long span of time that the book was immediately hailed as the best organized most accessible work of its kind That reputation hasn't changed The author's new preface lists some recent discoveries regarding pigments and other materials and the pigment composition chart has been revised but the text remains essentially unchanged It is still invaluable not only for museum curators and conservators for whom it was designed but for painters themselves and for teachers and students as well

The Materials and Techniques of Medieval Painting Daniel V. Thompson, 2012-05-11 Medieval painters built up a tremendous range of technical resources for obtaining brilliance and permanence In this volume an internationally known authority on medieval paint technology describes these often jealously guarded recipes lists of materials and processes Based upon years of study of medieval manuscripts and enlarged by laboratory analysis of medieval paintings this book discusses carriers and grounds binding media pigments coloring materials and metals used in painting It describes the surfaces that the medieval artist painted upon detailing their preparation It analyzes binding media discussing relative merits of glair versus gums oil glazes and other matters It tells how the masters obtained their colors how they processed them and how they applied them It tells how metals were prepared for use in painting how gold powders and leaf were laid on and dozens of other techniques Simply written easy to read this book will be invaluable to art historians students of medieval painting and civilization and historians of culture Although it contains few fully developed recipes it will interest any practicing artist with its discussion of methods of brightening colors and assuring permanence A rich feast The Times London Enables the connoisseur artist and collector to obtain the distilled essence of Thompson's researches in an easily read and simple form Nature London A mine of technical
