Palace Walk The Cairo Trilogy Volume 1:

Palace Walk Naguib Mahfouz, 2011-11-29 Palace Walk is the first novel in Nobel Prize winner Naguib Mahfouz's magnificent Cairo Trilogy, an epic family saga of colonial Egypt that is considered his masterwork. The novels of the Cairo Trilogy trace three generations of the family of tyrannical patriarch al Sayyid Ahmad Abd al Jawad who rules his household with a strict hand while living a secret life of self-indulgence. Palace Walk introduces us to his gentle oppressed wife Amina, his cloistered daughters Aisha and Khadija, and his three sons: the tragic and idealistic Fahmy, the dissolute hedonist Yasin, and the soul-searching intellectual Kamal. The family's trials mirror those of their turbulent country during the years spanning the two world wars as change comes to a society that has resisted it for centuries. Translated by William Maynard Hutchins and Olive E. Kenny. Palace Walk Najib Mahfuz, 1991. A history of urban modernity in Cairo through cinema which makes us see the movies in a whole new way. Chris Berry, King's College London. The relationship between the city and cinema is formidable. The images and sounds of the city found in movies are perhaps the only experience that many people will have of cities they may never visit. Films influence the way we construct images of the world and accordingly in many instances how we operate within it. Cinematic Cairo: Egyptian Urban Modernity from Reel to Real offers a history of Cairo's urban modernity using film as the primary source of exploration.

and cinematic space as both an analytical tool and a medium of critique Cairo has provided rich subject material for Egypt's film industry since the inception of the art form at the end of the nineteenth century The reel city imagined perceived and experienced provides the spatial domain that mirrors change and allows for an interrogation of the real city as it encountered modernity over the course of a century Bringing together chapters by architects and art and literary historians this volume explores this parallel and convergent relationship through two sections The first uses films from the 1930s to the end of the twentieth century to illustrate the development of a modern Cairo and its modern subjects The second section is focused on tracing the transformation of the cinematic city under conditions of neoliberalism religious fundamentalism and gender tensions The result is a comprehensive narrative of the urban modernity of one of the most important cities in the Arab world and Global South
