Palliative Care And Pain Management At The End Of Life

Scott M. Fishman

Palliative Care And Pain Management At The End Of Life:

Pain Management at the End of Life Kenneth J. Doka, 2006 Hospice and Palliative Care Denice C. Sheehan, Walter B. Forman, 1996 Hospice and palliative care has evolved around the world as a method of caring that uniquely meets the needs of patients and their caregivers Hospice and Palliative Care Concepts and Practice offers theoretical perspectives and practical information about this growing field Contributors from varied disciplines including community medical care geriatric care nursing care pain management research counseling and hospice management provide the broad professional approach so critical to quality palliative care Bonica's Management of Pain Scott M. Fishman, 2012-03-29 Now in its Fourth Edition with a brand new editorial team Bonica's Management of Pain will be the leading textbook and clinical reference in the field of pain medicine An international group of the foremost experts provides comprehensive current clinically oriented coverage of the entire field The contributors describe contemporary clinical practice and summarize the evidence that guides clinical practice Major sections cover basic considerations economic political legal and ethical considerations evaluation of the patient with pain specific painful conditions methods for symptomatic control and provision of pain treatment in a variety of clinical settings Pain Management and Improving End-of-life Care United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, 1999 Nursing Care at the End of Life Joyce V Zerwekh, 2005-12-28 Nursing Care at the End of Life Palliative Care for Patients and Families explores the deep issues of caring for the dying and suffering The book is based on the Hospice Family Caregiving Model previously published by the author and focuses on the practice implications of care for the dying The book is written in a clear and user friendly style and is ideal for undergraduate nursing students learning about dying suffering and caring for individuals and their families

Medicine and Care of the Dying Milton James Lewis, 2007 This book is for palliative care practitioners and all health care professionals with an interest in end of life care Palliative Nursing Shaun Kinghorn, Sandra Gaines, 2007-11-14 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States Content has been thoroughly revised and updated in line with changes in practice and policy both locally and internationally particularly the UK NICE guidance on Supportive and palliative care for people with cancer and the Care of the Dying Pathway It reflects the rapid development of palliative nursing as an emerging specialty It helps in the process of defining palliative nursing and how it interfaces with other disciplines within the specialty The text is divided into three sections and comprehensively yet sensitively covers all aspects of palliative nursing Key themes covered include pain control symptom control loss and grief and handling loss A strong emphasis is placed on the integration of theory and practice and evidence based care Reconciliation of the theory and practice is achieved by the use of case studies It addresses malignant and non malignant palliative care Research and extensive literature support each chapter Content has been thoroughly revised and updated in line with changes in practice and policy both locally and internationally particularly the UK NICE guidance on Supportive and palliative care for people with cancer and the Care of the Dying Pathway Three new chapters on Sexuality Care of the Dying Pathway Changing roles of the nurse in palliative care New appendix on North American drug names equivalents for the international market

Care of the Dying Patient David A. Fleming, John C. Hagan, 2010-04-15 Although the need for improved care for dying patients is widely recognized and frequently discussed few books address the needs of the physicians nurses social workers therapists hospice team members and pastoral counselors involved in care Care of the Dying Patient contains material not found in other sources offering advice and solutions to anyone professional caregiver or family member confronted with incurable illness and death Its authors have lectured and published extensively on care of the dying patient and here review a wide range of topics to show that relief of physical suffering is not the only concern in providing care This collection encompasses diverse aspects of end of life care across multiple disciplines offering a broad perspective on such central issues as control of pain and other symptoms spirituality the needs of caregivers and special concerns regarding the elderly In its pages readers will find out how to effectively utilize palliative care services and activate timely referral to hospice arrange for care that takes into account patients cultural beliefs and respond to spiritual and psychological distress including the loss of hope that often overshadows physical suffering The authors especially emphasize palliative care and hospice since some physicians fear that such referrals may be viewed by patients and families as abandonment They also address ethical and legal risks in pain management and warn that fear of overprescribing pain medication may inadvertently lead to ineffective pain relief and even place the treating team at risk of liability for undertreatment of pain While physicians have the ability to treat disease they also help to determine the time and place of death and they must recognize that end of life choices are made more complex than ever before by advances in medicine and at the same time increasingly important Care of the Dying Patient addresses some of the challenges frequently confronted in terminal care and points the way toward a more compassionate way of death

Pain at End of Life Barbara Karnes, 2019-07 There is much fear and misconception surrounding pain management at end of life This booklet is intended for families significant others in the weeks to days before death for education of hospital and nursing facility staff as well as anyone interested in or dealing with narcotics and pain management as end of life approaches Pain at End of Life addresses win a fifth grade non medical terminology pain as it relates to the dying process fear of overdosing and addiction standard dosages around the clock administration laxatives uses of morphine sedation as it relates to dying supplemental therapies Use Pain at End of Life to ease the confusion and apprehension surrounding narcotic administration
