The Complex Interplay between

Power, Politics, and African Agency Serges Djoyou Kamga, 2024-11-15 The Complex Interplay between Power Politics and African Agency The Philosophy of Toyin Falola by Serges Djoyou Kamga examines the impact of colonialism by using Toyin Falola's philosophy as a framework. It delves into the evolution of African political culture under colonial rule. This book offers a unique perspective on the intricate dynamics of African society, providing a deeper understanding of how power and politics have shaped African culture. Kamga emphasizes the complex interplay between these elements and highlights the significance of African voices in determining their own destiny. Using Falola's works, this book analyzes and critiques the influence of Europe and establishes the ongoing unequal relationship between ex-colonized African countries and their imperialist colonizers. Citizenship in Africa Bronwen Manby, 2018-11-29 Citizenship in Africa provides a comprehensive exploration of nationality laws in Africa, placing them in their theoretical and historical context. It offers the first serious attempt to analyse the impact of nationality law on politics and society in different African states from a trans-continental comparative perspective. Taking a four-part approach, Parts I and II set the book within the framework of existing scholarship on citizenship from both sociological and legal perspectives and examine the history of nationality laws in Africa from the colonial period to the present day. Part III considers case studies which illustrate the application and misapplication of the law in practice and the relationship of legal and political developments in each country. Finally, Part IV explores the impact of the law on politics and its relevance for questions of identity and belonging today, concluding with a set of issues for further research. Ambitious in scope and compelling in analysis, this is an important new work on citizenship in Africa.

Brazilian-African Diaspora in Ghana Kwame Essien, 2016-10-01 Brazilian African Diaspora in Ghana is a fresh approach challenging both pre-existing and established notions of the African Diaspora by engaging new regions, conceptualizations, and articulations that move the field forward. This book examines the untold story of freed slaves from Brazil who thrived socially, culturally, and economically despite the challenges they encountered after they settled in Ghana. Kwame Essien goes beyond the one-dimensional approach that only focuses on British abolitionists' funding of freed slaves' resettlements in Africa. The new interpretation of reverse migrations examines the paradox of freedom in discussing how emancipated Brazilian Africans came under threat from British colonial officials who introduced stringent land ordinances that deprived the freed Brazilian Africans from owning land particularly Brazilian land Essien considers anew contention between the returnees and other entities that were simultaneously vying for control over social political commercial and religious spaces in Accra and tackles the fluidity of memory and how it continues to shape Ghana's history The ongoing search for lost connections with the support of the Brazilian government inspiring multiple generations of Tabom offspring of the returnees to travel across the Atlantic and back especially in the last decade illustrates the unending nature of the transatlantic diaspora journey and its impacts

African Culture and Global Politics Toyin Falola, Danielle Sanchez, 2014-01-10 This volume attempts to insert itself within the larger discussion of Africa in the twenty first century especially within the realm of world politics Despite the underwhelming amount of attention given to Africa's role in international politics in popular news sources it is evident that Africa has a consistent record of participating in world politics one that pre dates colonization and continues today In continuance of this legacy of active participation in global political exchanges Africans today can be heard in dialogues that span the world and their roles are impossible to replace by other entities. It is evident that a vastly different Africa exists than ones that bolster images of starvation, corruption, and compliance. The essays in this volume center on Africa and Africans participating in international political discourses but with an emphasis on various forms of expression and philosophies as these factors heavily influence Africa's role as a participant in global politics. The reader will find a variety of essays that permeate surface discussions of politics and political activism by inserting African culture, rhetoric, philosophies into the larger discussion of international politics and Africa's role in worldwide political, social, and economic debates. Research Handbook on International Solidarity and the Law Cecilia M. Bailliet, 2024-04-12. This comprehensive and insightful Research Handbook addresses the interpretation of international solidarity within topical legal regimes and regional systems as well as in relation to decolonization and the concepts of Ummah and Ubuntu. Memories of Africa Toyin Falola, 2023-03-24. 2023 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title. Memories of Africa: Home and Abroad in the United States suggests a new lens for viewing African Diaspora studies: the experiences of African memoirists who live in the United States. The book shows how African Diaspora memoirs beautifully and grippingly depict the experiences of African migrants over time through political, social, and cultural spheres. In reading African Diaspora memoirs from the transatlantic slave trade period to the present, a reader can understand the complexity of the African migrant legacy and evolution. Author Toyin Falola argues that memoirs are significant not only in their interpretation of events conveyed by the memoirists but also in demonstrating how interpersonal and human stories told can be. Memoirs are powerful because they are emotionally captivating and because important themes and events circulate around a particular person; in this case, the memoirist. Undoubtedly, a memoir is significant because it can teach anyone about a part of the human experience even if the facts are not described without bias. Through this sort of narrative, the reader cannot help but enter into the memoirist's mind and therefore feel more empathy for them. In doing so, the reader can feel what the memoirist feels and see what the memoirist sees as clearly as is humanly possible. In this way, the historical events and life lessons become tangible and poignantly real to the reader. Human Rights, Race, and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora Toyin Falola, Cacee Hoyer, 2016-10-04. Africans and their descendants have long been faced with abuse of their human rights, most frequently due to racism or racialized issues. Consequently, understanding shifting conceptualizations of race and identity is essential to understanding how people of color confronted these encounters. This book addresses these issues and their connections to social justice, discrimination, and equality movements. From colonial abuses or their legacies, black people around the world have historically encountered discrimination, and yet they do not experience injustice opaquely. The chapters in this book explore and clarify how Africans and their descendants struggled to achieve agency despite long histories of discrimination. Contributors draw upon a range of case studies related to resistance and examine these in conjunction with human rights and the concept of race to provide a thorough exploration of the diasporic experience Human Rights Race and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora will appeal to students and scholars of Ethnic and Racial Studies African History and Diaspora Studies Schooling the System Funké Aladejebi, 2021-03-05 In post World War II Canada black women's positions within the teaching profession served as sites of struggle and conflict as the nation worked to address the needs of its diversifying population From their entry into teachers college through their careers in the classroom and administration black women educators encountered systemic racism and gender barriers at every step So they worked to change the system Using oral narratives to tell the story of black access and education in Ontario between the 1940s and the 1980s Schooling the System provides textured insight into how issues of race gender class geographic origin and training shaped women's distinct experiences within the profession By valuing women's voices and lived experiences Funk Aladejebi illustrates that black women as a diverse group made vital contributions to the creation and development of anti racist education in Canada As cultural mediators within Ontario school systems these women circumvented subtle and overt forms of racial and social exclusion to create resistive teaching methods that centred black knowledges and traditions Within their wider communities and activist circles they fought to change entrenched ideas about what Canadian citizenship should look like As schools continue to grapple with creating diverse educational programs for all Canadians Schooling the System is a timely excavation of the meaningful contributions of black women educators who helped create equitable policies and practices in schools and communities African Youth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture Vivian Yenika-Agbaw, Linda Mhando, 2014-01-21 This book explores how African youth are depicted in contemporary literature and popular culture and discusses the different ways by which they attempt to construct personal and cultural identities through popular culture and social media outlets The contributors approach the subject from an interdisciplinary perspective looking at images in children's and adolescent literature from Africa and the African diaspora from Nollywood and Hollywood movies from popular magazines and from youth cultures encountered directly through field experiences The findings reveal that there are many stereotypes about Africa African youth and black cultures and that African youth are aware of these Since they juggle multiple identities shaped by their ethnicities race and religion it is often a challenge for them to define themselves As they also share a global youth culture that transcends these cultural markers some take advantage of media outlets to voice their concerns and participate in political struggles Others simply use these to promote their personal interests Contributors ponder the challenges involved in constructing unique identities offering ideas on how African youth are doing so successfully or not in different parts of the continent and the African diaspora and thus offer new possibilities for youth studies Xenophobia, Nativism and Pan-Africanism in 21st Century Africa Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, Emmanuel Kasonde Matambo, 2021-12-14 This edited volume systematically analyzes the connection between xenophobia nativism and Pan Africanism It situates attacks on black Africans by fellow black Africans within the context of ideals such as Pan

Africanism and Ubuntu which emphasize unity The book straddles a range of social science perspectives to explain why attacks on foreign nationals in Africa usually entail attacks on black foreign nationals Written by an international and interdisciplinary team of scholars the book is divided into four sections that each explain a different facet of this complicated relationship Section One discusses the history of colonialism and apartheid and their relationship to xenophobia Section Two critically evaluates Pan Africanism as a concept and as a practice in 21st century Africa Section Three presents case studies on xenophobia in contemporary Africa Section Four similarly discusses cases of nativism Addressing a complex issue in contemporary African politics this volume will be of use to students and scholars interested in African studies African politics human rights migration history law and development economics Continuity and Change in Sub-Saharan African
