Politics in New Zealand Frank Parsons,1904 Parliamentary Debates New Zealand. Parliament,1919 From International to Local English - and Back Again Roberta Facchinetti,2010 All languages encode aspects of culture and every culture has its own specificities to be proud of and to be transmitted The papers in this book explore aspects of this relationship between language and culture considering issues related to the processes of internationalization and localization of the English language The volume is divided into two sections complementing each other the first one Localizing English focuses on the significance of ethnic knowledge local culture and tradition wherever English is used The second one Internationalizing English deals with the degrees and patterns of internationalization of English deriving from its contact with diverse cultures and its adaptation to different professional settings and communicative purposes People of the Eye Rachel Locker McKee,2001 Deaf people in New Zealand are often little known outside their own culture People of the Eye brings their world to life in personal histories translated into English with a series of photographs of the deaf community The storytellers are both old and young and they reflect both the diversity and commonality of deaf experience the painful lives of a generation brought up forbidden to use sign language contrasted with the confidence of young people using New Zealand Sign Language as they attend school and assert deaf pride The differences between children growing up in deaf families and those who struggle with identity as deaf children in hearing families are illuminating These are stories of joy and sadness confusion and resolution and regret and optimism Playing for Both Sides Stephanie Johnson,2016-08-12 For novelist Stephanie Johnson her relationship with Australia and Australians has been an ambivalent one She has lived there for periods in her life and her first book a collection of short stories was actually published in Australia She was described then as a young Australian writer something she says she agreed to for reasons that are complex and some of them hardly honourable For Johnson the longing to return has waxed and waned Why don't I live there she often asks herself Yet she is a sixth generation New Zealander In this BWB Text Johnson explores her elusive and ambivalent feelings about the sunburnt country which includes a musician's road trip there with her singer songwriter son Skyscraper Stan and in so doing casts fascinating light on some of the formative influences that have shaped the work of this award winning New Zealand writer The Local note book of Birmingham bits , Leaving the Highway Mark Williams,2013-10-01 The major New Zealand novelists of the 1980s have begun to receive international acclaim This first critical study of Janet Frame Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera Maurice Gee Ian Wedde and C K Stead concentrates on their important works to explore how deeply rooted anxieties about New Zealand's cultural situation and national identity are articulated in New Zealand fiction The New Zealand Official Year-book New Zealand. Department of Statistics,2006 Sport, Film and National Culture Seán Crosson,2020-08-31 Sport and film have historically been key components of national cultures and societies This is the first collection dedicated to examining the intersection of these popular cultural forces within specific national contexts Covering films of all types from

Hollywood blockbusters to regional documentaries and newsreels the book considers how filmic depictions of sport have configured and informed distinctive national cultures societies and identities Featuring case studies from 11 national contexts across 6 continents including North and South America Europe Africa Asia and Oceania it reveals the common and contrasting approaches that have emerged within sport cinema in differing national contexts This is fascinating and important reading for all students and researchers working in film media cultural studies or sport and for broader enthusiasts of both sport and film
