New Masters Houses Dessau:

The New Masters' Houses in Dessau, 1925-2014, 2017 When Dessau was bombed in early 1945 the Bauhaus Masters Houses the epitome of the 20th century artists colony were reduced to rubble as well After the main Masters Houses were restored to their original state in the 1990s Walter Gropius's Director's House and László Moholy-Nagy's Master's House were still in ruins and a debate began over their reconstruction What was the relevance of these structures at the turn of a new century In 2010 after consultation with the British architect David Chipperfield the decision was made to reinterpret the House Gropius and House Moholy Nagy using contemporary means rather than rebuilding them as 1:1 reconstructions The Berlin firm Bruno Fioretti Marquez was commissioned to design new Masters Houses These new structures use the same formal vocabulary of simple functional forms and right angles as the original Bauhaus buildings but update these for the 21st century through selective reduction and abstraction The project represents a unique thoughtful engagement with the problems of architectural reconstruction grounded in criticality and creativity rather than blind reverence The New Masters Houses in Dessau 1925-2014 describes the checkered history of the Dessau Masters Houses and presents the reconstructed buildings for the first time in book form with photographs by Armin Linke and Heidi Specker

Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun, 2002-04-25 This new account of international modernism explores the complex motivations behind this revolutionary movement and assesses its triumphs and failures The work of the main architects of the movement such as Frank Lloyd Wright, Adolf Loos, Le Corbusier, and Mies van der Rohe is re-examined shedding new light on their roles as acknowledged masters Alan Colquhoun explores the evolution of the movement from Art Nouveau in the 1890s to the megastructures of the 1960s revealing the often contradictory demands of form, function, social engagement, modernity, and tradition

Bauhaus Michael Siebenbrodt, Lutz Schöbe, 2015-09-15 The Bauhaus movement, meaning the house of building, developed in three German cities; it began in Weimar between 1919 and 1925, then continued in Dessau from 1925 to 1932, and finally ended in 1932-1933 in Berlin. Three leaders presided over the growth of the movement: Walter Gropius from 1919 to 1928, Hannes Meyer from 1928 to 1930, and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe from 1930 to 1933. Founded by Gropius in the rather conservative city of Weimar, the new capital of Germany which had just been defeated by the other European nations in the First World War, the movement became a flamboyant response to this humiliation. Combining new styles in architecture, design, and painting, the Bauhaus aspired to be an expression of a generational utopia, striving to free artists facing a society that remained conservative in spite of the revolutionary efforts of the post-war period. Using the most modern materials, the Bauhaus was born out of the precepts of William Morris and the Arts and Crafts movement, introducing new forms inspired by the most ordinary of objects into everyday life. The shuttering of the center in Berlin by the Nazis in 1933 did not put an end to the movement since many of its members chose the path of exile and established themselves in the United States. Although they all went in different directions artistically, their work shared the same origin. The most influential among the Bauhaus
