Planning and Environmental Resources Catalog Lynette J. Engelke, Kimberly M. Fisher, 1996      Handbook for Evaluating Knowledge-Based Systems Leonard Adelman, Sharon L. Riedel, 2012-12-06 Knowledge based systems are increasingly found in a wide variety of settings and this handbook has been written to meet a specific need in their widening use While there have been many successful applications of knowledge based systems some applications have failed because they never received the corrective feedback that evaluation provides for keeping development focused on the users needs in their actual working environment This handbook provides a conceptual framework and compendium of methods for performing evaluations of knowledge based systems during their development Its focus is on the users and subject matter experts evaluation of the usefulness of the system and not on the developers testing of the adequacy of the programming code The handbook permits evaluators to systematically answer the following kinds of questions Does the knowledge based system meet the users task requirements Is the system easy to use Is the knowledge base logically consistent Does it meet the required level of expertise Does the system improve performance The authors have produced a handbook that will serve two audiences a tool that can be used to create knowledge based systems practitioners developers and evaluators and a framework that will stimulate more research in the area academic researchers and students To accomplish this the handbook is built around a conceptual framework that integrates the different types of evaluations into the system of development process The kinds of questions that can be answered and the methods available for answering them will change throughout the system development life cycle And throughout this process one needs to know what can be done and what can t It is this dichotomy that addresses needs in both the practitioner and academic research audiences      Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1997: Department of Transportation United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Transportation and Related Agencies, 1996      Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1997 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Transportation and Related Agencies, 1996      Questioning and Answering Practices across Contexts and Cultures Cornelia Ilie, 2021-07-26 This book showcases innovative research about the multi functional and dynamic interrelatedness of questioning and answering practices in institution and culture specific interactions ranging from under explored to extensively researched ones South Korean talk shows Japanese interviews Chinese news interviews police civilian interactions in the USA Italian interviews and courtroom examinations Japanese parliamentary debates and Prime Minister s Questions in the UK Parliament Challenging the view that questions are asked with the purpose of seeking information and eliciting answers these studies open up new research avenues through insightful investigations and critical scrutiny that problematize the question answer paradigm through which meanings are conveyed negotiated and or contested and through which relationships are established maintained and or challenged Significant findings show that questioning and answering strategies are shaped by the specific norms and constraints of particular communities of practice while at the same time they are shaping the very same communities of practice This book will appeal to interdisciplinary scholars and practitioners across the linguistic media political legal and social sciences
