Perceiving, Behaving, Becoming H. Jerome Freiberg, 1999 In 1962 ASCD's Perceiving Behaving Becoming A New Focus for Education provided bold insights on the psychological foundation of education. Some of the most compelling questions in education today were first asked in this groundbreaking work which included chapters by preeminent scholars Arthur Combs, Earl Kelley, Abraham Maslow, and Carl Rogers. Although we cannot predict what current information future generations will need to know, the book's Introduction states that creating schools that encourage the development of persons with adequate fully functioning personalities is the best way to contribute some degree of stability to an uncertain future. Decades later, in preparing Perceiving Behaving Becoming Lessons Learned, editor H. Jerome Freiberg invited distinguished scholars in the field of affective, humanistic education and psychology to review these four chapters from the 1962 book to provide a context for lessons learned for future generations of educators. Each author in Lessons Learned works with teachers, administrators, and schools and offers a distinct perspective on the human side of teaching and learning. Their analyses raise significant issues such as whether an emphasis on academic standards ignores the education of the whole student and what schools that are committed to an environment of trust and respect look like. Lessons Learned promises to further the cause of education that focuses on the person. By understanding the evolution of our educational past, says Freiberg, perhaps we can shape a future that will better meet the needs of generations that come after us.

Perceiving, Behaving, Becoming Arthur W. Combs, 1962. Being and Becoming PhD Arthur Combs, 2006-04-28. Dr. Combs updates his groundbreaking Field Theory of Personality. This model grows out of Carl Rogers' ideas on client-centered therapy and has long been a major influence on theories of psychotherapy and personality within the humanistic and phenomenological traditions. Here, Dr. Combs ties field psychology to the paradigm shifts in biophysical sciences and so provides a unifying frame of reference for all branches of psychology. His concise approach to the topic makes this book of practical interest to students, clinical psychologists, and counselors, as well as academics teaching upper-level or graduate courses in personality and on therapeutic techniques.

Critical Perspectives on the Curriculum of Teacher Education Thomas Stewart Poetter, Thomas Lee Goodney, Jennifer Lynne Bird, 2004. Critical Perspectives on the Curriculum of Teacher Education is a collection of papers written by students in a widely recognized doctoral program in curriculum and educational leadership. The editors have compiled these papers to discuss key ideas and present new possibilities for teachers in terms of formal and informal curriculum interventions. This book will challenge readers to rethink long-standing assumptions that pass for conventional wisdom in the field.
