Minimalism James Sampson Meyer, 2001 In this highly readable history of minimalist art James Meyer argues that minimalism was not a coherent movement but a field of overlapping and sometimes opposed practices He traces in comprehensive detail the emergence of six figures associated with the development Carl Andre Dan Flavin Donald Judd Sol LeWitt Robert Morris and Anne Truitt and how the notion of minimalism came to be constructed around their art in the 1960s Despite distinctive differences in method and points of view Meyer shows these artists became equated in a series of important exhibitions and texts that led to their designation as minimalists Publisher s description

Memory Work Miguel de Baca, 2015-12-08 Memory Work demonstrates the evolution of the pioneering minimalist sculptor Anne Truitt analyzing the key theme of memory in her practice In addition to the artist's own popular published writings which detail the unique challenges facing female artists Memory Work draws on unpublished manuscripts private recordings and never before seen working drawings to validate Truitt's original ideas about the link between perception and mnemonic reference in contemporary art Provided by publisher The New Monuments and the End of Man Robert Slifkin, 2019-11-05 How leading American artists reflected on the fate of humanity in the nuclear era through monumental sculpture In the wake of the atomic bombings of Japan in 1945 artists in the United States began to question what it meant to create a work of art in a world where humanity could be rendered extinct by its own hand The New Monuments and the End of Man examines how some of the most important artists of postwar America revived the neglected tradition of the sculptural monument as a way to grapple with the cultural and existential anxieties surrounding the threat of nuclear annihilation Robert Slifkin looks at such iconic works as the industrially evocative welded steel sculptures of David Smith the austere structures of Donald Judd and the desolate yet picturesque earthworks of Robert Smithson Transforming how we understand this crucial moment in American art he traces the intersections of postwar sculptural practice with cybernetic theory science fiction cinema and literature and the political debates surrounding nuclear warfare Slifkin identifies previously unrecognized affinities of the sculpture of the 1940s and 1950s with the minimalism and land art of the 1960s and 1970s and acknowledges the important contributions of postwar artists who have been marginalized until now such as Raoul Hague Peter Grippe and Robert Mallary Strikingly illustrated throughout The New Monuments and the End of Man spans the decades from Hiroshima to the Fall of Saigon when the atomic bomb cast its shadow over American art Robert Smithson Robert modernist design in Denmark from historical analytical and theoretical perspectives Mark Mussari explores the relationship between Danish design aesthetics and the theoretical and cultural impact of Modernism particularly between 1930 and 1960 He considers how Danish designers responded to early Modernist currents the Stockholm Exhibition of 1930 their rejection of Bauhaus aesthetic demands their early fealty to wood and materials and the tension between cabinetmaker craft and industrial production as it challenged and altered their aesthetic approach Tracing the theoretical foundations for these developments Mussari discusses the writings and works of such figures as Poul Henningsen Arne Jacobsen Hans Wegner Nanna Ditzel and Finn Juhl Intelligent Action Timothy Ridlen,2024-06-14 Through archival research and analysis of American artist Fred Sandback 1943 2003 created expansive works that underscore the physical presence of the viewer This book the first major study of Sandback explores the full range of his art which not only disrupts traditional conceptions of material presence but also stages an ethics of interaction between object and observer Drawing on Sandback s substantial archive Edward A Vazquez demonstrates that the artist s work with all its physical slightness and attentiveness to place as well as its relationship to minimal and conceptual art of the 1960s creates a link between viewers and space that is best understood as sculptural even as it almost surpasses physical form At the same time the economy of Sandback's site determined practice draws viewers focus to their connection to space and others sharing it As Vazquez shows Sandback's art aims for nothing less than a total recalibration of the senses as the spectator is caught on neither one side nor the other of an object or space but powerfully within it Soft Is Fast Meredith Morse, 2023-08-15 An innovative analysis of Simone Forti's interdisciplinary art viewing her influential 1960s dance constructions as negotiating the aesthetic strategies of John Cage and Anna Halprin Simone Forti's art developed within the overlapping circles of New York City's advanced visual art dance and music of the early 1960s Her dance constructions and related works of the 1960s were important for both visual art and dance of the era Artists Robert Morris and Yvonne Rainer have both acknowledged her influence Forti seems to have kept one foot inside visual art's frames of meaning and the other outside them In Soft Is Fast Meredith Morse adopts a new way to understand Forti's work based in art historical analysis but drawing upon dance history and cultural studies and the history of American social thought Morse argues that Forti introduced a form of direct encounter that departed radically from the spectatorship proposed by Minimalism and prefigured the participatory art of recent decades Morse shows that Forti's work negotiated John Cage's ideas of sound score and theater through the unique approach to movement essentially improvisational and grounded in anatomical exploration that she learned from performer and teacher Ann later Anna Halprin Attentive to Robert Whitman's and La Monte Young's responses to Cage Forti reshaped Cage's concepts into models that could accommodate Halprin's charged spaces and imagined interpenetrative understanding of other bodies Morse considers Forti's use of sound and her affective use of materials as central to her work examines Forti's text pieces little discussed in art historical literature analyzes Huddle considered one of Forti's signature works and explicates Forti's later improvisational practice Forti has been relatively overlooked by art historians perhaps because of her work's central concern with modes of feeling and embodiment unlike other art of the 1960s which was characterized by strategies of depersonalization and affectlessness Soft Is Fast corrects this critical oversight Reconstructing Exhibitions in Art Institutions Natasha Adamou, Michaela Giebelhausen, 2023-07-13 Reconstructing Exhibitions in Art Institutions spans exhibition histories as anti-apartheid activism within South African community arts collectivities and trade unions in Argentina Civil Rights movements and Black communities in Baltimore institutional self critique within the neoliberal museum reframing feminisms in USA and revisiting Cold War Modernisms in Eastern Europe among other themes An interdisciplinary project with a global reach this edited volume considers the theme of exhibitions as political resistance as well as cultural critique from global perspectives including South Africa Latin America Eastern Europe USA and West Europe The book includes contributions by ten authors from the fields of art history social sciences anthropology museum studies provenance research curating and exhibition histories The edited volume finally examines exhibition reconstructions both as a symptom of advanced capitalism geopolitical dynamics and social uprisings and as a critique of imperial and capitalist violence Art historical areas covered in the book include conceptualism minimalism modern painting global modernisms archives and community arts This volume will be of interest to a wide range of audiences including art historians curators gallery studies and museum professionals and also to scholars and students from the fields of anthropology ethnography sociology and history It would also appeal to a general public with an interest in modern and contemporary art exhibitions
